Pair Caught After Attack On Policeman

Found in Farm Home in Wyoming Badland Region

Greybull, Wyo. — A sheriff's posse today captured a young couple sought in connection with the shooting of a Greybull policeman. They were taken into custody at a farmhouse just outside Greybull, ending an all-night search of the badland area north of here.

Roadblocks were set up and search posse organized last night shortly after Glen Coxen, about 60, was abducted in his police cruiser and shot in the face. Coxen was rushed by ambulance to Billings, Mont., where he was reported in serious condition.

Sheriff Lavell Brinkerhoff identified the man as Robert Ross Miller, 27, of San Francisco. He said the woman was being held in the county jail at Basin and had not yet been questioned or identified.

Fled From Home Brinkerhoff said he and approximately 100 deputies were "shaking down" all houses in the area when they were notified by an oil drilling crew of the couple's whereabouts.

Miller and the woman had taken refuge in the farm house of Mr. and Mrs. Cash Boylan about one half mile west of Greybull. This morning Mrs. Boylan broke away and ran to the nearby drilling crew, the sheriff said.

The posse surrounded the house and several armed men entered. Brinkerhoff said the couple surrendered without trouble. They were rushed to Basin where Brinkerhoff began questioning Miller.

Sees 'Very Real Crisis' for U. S., but McElroy Says Nation Is Leading in Overall Strength

Chicago — Former President Harry S. Truman said today the Soviet Union apparently is preparing for war, has been since 1945, and "the danger we face today is a very real one."

Truman said the United States trails Russia in arms and missiles and "for the first time in science we are behind." In this missile age, he added, the United States faces "a very real crisis."

Differs with McElroy He said there never has been a break in Soviet military preparations since the allied nations victory over the axis in 1945. At the same time, he said, American armed forces were reduced. This, he added, was "a grave mistake."

The former president said at the fortieth annual national convention of the American Legion that the United States must be ready for war. "We must have the strongest of defenses—we must surpass any potential enemy of the free world technologically and hold the free world together. This we can do.

"It is wicked to say that we cannot do this without bankrupting our economy. Two world wars did not bankrupt us. Confronted by total war, we had the will, the resources and the ingenuity to do everything necessary to

Dulles Drafts Report to Ike On China Crisis

Secretary Will Fly to Newport Thursday To See President

Washington — Secretary of State Dulles winds up an intensive new study of the China crisis today preparatory to making a personal report to President Eisenhower.

Dulles was closeted in his office yesterday with members of the joint chiefs of staff, including Chairman Gen. Nathan Twining, and other defense department officials.

Shortly afterward, Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at Newport, R. I., announced Dulles will fly there for a conference tomorrow with the president.

Study Situation About the same time, the state department confirmed in a statement that Dulles spent his second day back from vacation getting a top-level Pentagon briefing.

"The purpose of the meeting," the announcement said, "was to analyze the serious situation created by the continuing use of force by the Chinese communists in pursuit of their territorial objectives in the general area of the Taiwan straits."

U.S. air and sea reinforcements already have been sent into the area to back up the strong seventh fleet force already there.

Robber Caught After Fleeing With Hostage

Greenwich, Conn. — A holdup man armed with a rifle today held police at bay behind four school children and fled on the Merritt parkway in a stolen taxicab when one of the children as a hostage.

He was captured after an 80-mile-an-hour chase on the parkway in nearby New Canaan. The 14-year-old boy with him was unharmed.

Police said the boy aided in the capture of the gunman by knocking away the man's rifle when he leaped out of the taxicab to confront police.

Refuses to Give Details On Its Nature or Whether Islands Will be Defended

BY ROBERT TUCKMAN Taipei — The top U.S. commander on Formosa said today American "help is coming" to meet the communist threat to the Chinese nationalist offshore islands.

Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot told a news conference it would take the combined efforts of the nationalists "and the help of the United States" which is coming to overcome this immediate situation "created by red bombardments of the islands and efforts to blockade them."

Smoot declined to tell what help he meant, saying it would be foolish to give the communists military information. He also refused to say whether this meant U.S. forces would help defend the offshore islands, a commitment American officials from President Eisenhower down have refused so far to make publicly.

At Eisenhower's Newport office, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined comment on Smoot's remarks.

Supplies For Quemoy Smoot is commander of the U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) defense command, which is committed to protecting Formosa and the nearby Pescadores islands. Congress also authorized Eisenhower to defend any other nationalist territory he considered essential to the defense of Formosa.

As the communists continued for the twelfth day an artillery attack on the Quemoy islands that might be a prelude to an invasion attempt, Smoot was asked if they could successfully invade or blockade the islands. "They can do neither," he replied.

The nationalists said they still were getting soldiers and supplies through to Quemoy despite red attempts to cut it off from Formosa.

Communist shells scored 11 direct hits on Quemoy's main nationalist hospital today, dispatches from the besieged island said.

The bombardment reportedly killed one male nurse and injured four other persons, but casualties apparently were extremely light because the patients and hospital staff had moved to underground shelters.

More Arms Likely Nationalist officers in Taipei charged the hospital shelling was deliberate. They said the communists long had zeroed in on nationalist positions on Quemoy. They said the hospital was three-quarters of a mile from any nationalist military installations.

Smoot said "there are many ways" to break a blockade attempt. "As far as the enemy blockade of Quemoy is concerned, I can tell you the Chinese (nationalist) forces have not yet begun to fight," he said.

Nationalist forces are also

Traffic Deaths Increase to 420

Chicago — The final count of the nation's traffic accidents during the long Labor day weekend showed 420 deaths, the exact number predicted by the National Safety Council.

In addition, the accident death toll showed 114 drownings and 87 fatalities from miscellaneous causes, including fires and airplane crashes. The traffic death total compared with 445 for the 3-day Labor day holiday last year and the record high for a Labor day period of 461 in 1951.

The over-all total this year of 621 compared with 636 in 1957. The council, in a pre-holiday statement, had estimated 420 traffic deaths for the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. last Friday to midnight Monday.

Southern Florida Hit By Tropical Storm

Miami — Squalls on the fringe of tropical storm Ella roughed south Florida today with winds in gusts of 40 to 50 m.p.h.

Located 75 miles south of Havana, Cuba, Ella whirled 55 m.p.h. squally winds as it moved with an ill-defined center toward the northwest. It was moving along at 13 m.p.h.

Reduced from hurricane force that took five lives in Cuba, Ella was expected to move toward the northwest at a faster clip today and build up over the southeast Gulf of Mexico.

Gale warnings were flying south of the Greater Miami area through the Florida Keys today.

Argentine Chief Plans U. S. Visit

Newport, R. I. — President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina will come to the United States next January for conferences on mutual problems with President Eisenhower and other top U.S. officials.

Announcing this today, Eisenhower's vacation headquarters said Frondizi plans to arrive for a 10-day official visit Jan. 20.

"The first three days," the announcement said, "will be spent in Washington meeting with President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and other top officials of the government of the United States."

Negro Pastor Charges Police Were Brutal

Montgomery, Ala. — The Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., a Negro leader widely known for his fight against segregation, was hustled into a cell today on a charge of loitering outside the city hall.

Later, the minister accused arresting officers of brutality. He said they "tried to break my arm, they grabbed my collar and choked me, and when they got me to the cell, they kicked me in."

Police Commissioner Clyde Sellers denied the charge of brutality. He said Mr. King was "treated as anyone else would be and arrested as anyone else would be."

The Negro minister was released from custody after some 15 minutes and allowed to sign a $100 bond. A hearing was set for Friday in city court.

Iceland's Press Scores Britain for Naval Action in Fishing Dispute

BY EDDY GILMORE Reykjavik, Iceland — Icelandic anger flared up in the nation's press today against British naval action in Iceland's fishing dispute with Britain.

A brickbat and smoke bomb hurling demonstration outside the British ambassadors residence last night was followed up this morning with charges of armed aggression and demands that Britain call its gunboats and trawlers home.

Would Cut Ties The communist newspaper Thodviljinn demanded that Iceland break relations with Britain, its North Atlantic ally.

"Don't negotiate with pirates," it said. "Sever diplomatic relations at once." Iceland's minister of fisheries, Ludwig Josephsson, is a communist in this country's coalition government.

Britain accused Iceland today of unlawful interference on the high seas and protested the Icelandic coastguard's boarding of a British fishing vessel.

The foreign office announced at the same time the Icelandic government has been asked to arrange for the return of nine Icelandic sailors now held on a British Royal Navy frigate Eastbourne in the troubled fishing waters off the little island.

(The Eastbourne went to the aid of the British trawler Northern Foam yesterday and seized the Icelanders who had boarded the little fishing vessel.)

(The foreign office statement said that the British ambassador in Reykjavik was ordered to advise the Icelandic foreign ministry that the boarding party on the Northern Foam "had no business to be on a British vessel on the high seas without permission.")

Reykjavik's other papers splashed headlines across their front pages about yesterday's clashes between British sailors and Icelandic coastguards.

The newspaper Pippin said: "Sooner or later the British will be forced to follow the example of other nations in this matter."

No New Incident "If they don't this might become a very serious dispute, threatening to assume international significance and of great damage to the cooperation of western nations — particularly NATO."

The coastguard reported there were no overnight incidents in Iceland's coastal waters where British trawlers — backed up by naval frigates — began fishing for the third day inside Iceland's new 12-mile limit.

Ike Signs Laws to Lighten Tax Loads

Others Will Raise National Debt Ceiling, Provide $887 Million for Education; Kills Airport Aid Rise

BY MARTIN ARROWSMITH
Newport, R. I. — President Eisenhower has put on the books new laws lightening tax loads in a few fields, increasing the national debt ceiling, and providing $887 million in education aid.

And he has killed by pocket veto a bill to increase federal aid to airports from the current $63 million a year to $100 million, and continue it until the middle of 1962.

Those are highlights of Eisenhower's action at his vacation headquarters late yesterday on 117 bills which Congress sent to him shortly before it adjourned Aug. 24.

The president now has only 18 other pieces of legislation still before him for decision by midnight Saturday.

The major measure remaining would launch a $278 million new program to help chronically depressed city and rural areas.

Work Stint
Eisenhower's action on the 117 bills came during a 21-hour work stint at his temporary offices at the Newport naval base after he had played 18 holes of golf. He signed 105 bills into law and vetoed a dozen, nearly all in that category minor.

Advance research on all of the bills had been done for him by aides, principally White House special counsel Gerald D. Morgan who arrived by plane from Washington shortly before Eisenhower went to his office.

The major bills Eisenhower signed into law:

1. Provide multi-million-dollar tax relief to small business and make scores of technical changes in the tax laws. Those changes provide special new advantages to some classes of taxpayers, while at the same time blocking loopholes which have given unintended benefits to others.
2. Cut excise (sales) taxes for folks who ride in air taxis, and ease the tax burden on whisky distillers and movie tickets. This bill juggling excise levy features will cost the government an estimated $42 million annually in tax revenue. The revisions are effective next July 1.
3. Raise the national debt limit to $288 billion, highest in U. S. peacetime history. That is a temporary ceiling — up $5 billion from the current temporary one — until next June 30. The new law also hikes the permanent statutory limit from $275 to $283 billion.
4. Provide $887,400,000 over a 4-year period for "national defense" federal aid to education in this increasingly scientific age. The plan features loans of up to $1,000 a year to college students who meet standards.

In signing the education aid bill, Eisenhower said it doesn't go far enough. For one thing, congress refused to authorize the federal scholarship program the president recommended.

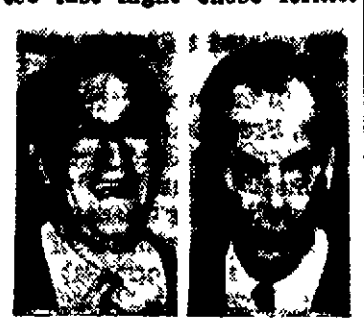

The new law provides fellowships for trainees for college teaching. Also authorized are federal grants for science equipment, foreign language training institutes, and education counseling.

The tax measure aimed chiefly at helping small business — to the tune of $260 million in federal revenue loss the first year — also closes such loopholes as a man's listing a mistress as a dependent for tax purposes.

GOP Names New Hopeful

Massachusetts Unit Picks Replacement For Dead Candidate

Boston — The Massachusetts Republican state committee last night chose former

Fingold Gibbons

House Speaker Charles F. Gibbons as its candidate for nomination for governor in next Tuesday's primary.

Gibbons was selected to replace Atty. Gen. George Fingold, the convention-endorsed candidate who died unexpectedly last Sunday.

The committee meeting was called in haste because less than a week remains for organization of the sticker campaign necessary to win a place for Gibbons on the November ballot.

Under Law
Under the law he must obtain at least 2,500 write-in votes with a minimum of 500 from each of five counties.

Gibbons, a 57-year-old native of Girdler, Ky., served in the navy during the 20s, and settled in Boston when he finished a tour of duty at the Boston navy yard. He was elected to the house in 1942, and served for seven terms. He was speaker in 1953 and 1954. He ran for lieutenant governor in 1956, but was defeated.

Gibbons ran a poor third in the race for the gubernatorial endorsement at the Republican party convention in Worcester last June. Fingold won easily and Christian A. Herter, Jr., son of the under secretary of state, ran second.

Canadian Woman Dies From Injuries in Weekend Accident

By the Associated Press
The death of a Canadian woman from injuries received in a weekend accident raised the Wisconsin traffic fatality toll for the year to 522 today, compared with 574 at this time a year ago.

It also increased the Labor day weekend toll in Wisconsin to 20 — two more than last year's figure for the same holiday.

Mrs. Emma Marks, 58, of Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, Can., died in an Iron Mountain, Mich., hospital Tuesday night of injuries received in a 2-car collision Sunday afternoon nine miles east of Florence, Wis., in Florence county.

Arsonist Sets Fire To Danish Castle But Damage Slight

Copenhagen — A somebody tried to set fire early today to Christianborg castle, seat of the Danish parliament. The damage was slight.

Police said the blaze probably was the work of a firebug, perhaps a boy who wanted some excitement. In the last week a 15-year-old boy has confessed setting fires to nine buildings in the provincial town of Vejle, and some police sources thought the Copenhagen arsonist might have been inspired by the confession.

The firebug smashed ground-floor windows of the castle and threw burning, oil-soaked clothes into the parliamentary printing plant. A watchman put out the fire before it got out of control. There was slight damage to the floor and one wall of the print shop.

The old Christianborg castle burned in 1884. The new one was not built until 1916.

Three-Year-Old Deborah Jean Brooks of Mattydale, N. Y. wasn't too happy when her parents took her to the state police exhibit at the New York state fair at Syracuse. Snooper and Hector, noney members of the state police, tried to be friendly, but in vain. They rested their sad faces on Deborah Jean's left arm.

Radical Canadian Sect May Move to Russia

'Sons of Freedom' Tell Reds They Will Probably Accept Relocation

Vancouver, B.C. — The radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who have written a 50-year history of violence and terrorism in British Columbia, last night all but gave the final approval to a proposed mass move to Russia.

In a 600-word telegram to Soviet President Klementi E. Voroshilov, Freedomite Secretary Bill Moojelsky said the Sons of Freedom had decided to accept in principle a Canada-British Columbia offer to foot the bill for relocation of the sons in Russia.

The bill, according to reliable but unofficial estimates, will come to about two million dollars.

Moojelsky said there still were minor points to work out in connection with the relocation but he said he was satisfied the Freedomites could iron these points out quickly in negotiations with the federal and provincial governments.

Asks Assurance
Moojelsky, who said he was speaking for the 2,668 persons he said have already signed up for relocation in Russia, asked that the Soviet Union assure the Canadian government that the Freedomites would be accepted in the USSR.

The telegram to Moscow urged Russia to accept the 2,668 "only with the bare necessities, including carpentry tools."

Moojelsky's telegram asked that the Sons of Freedom be settled in the Omsk and Altai regions of Soviet Siberia "or in any other place historically designated and suitable for Doukhobors."

The Doukhobors fled Russia at the turn of the century under the pressure of Czarist persecution.

Accept Law
Settling in interior British Columbia, the majority of the Douks quickly accepted Canadian law and adjusted their lives accordingly.

Not so the radical Sons of Freedom. They refused to bend before Canadian law and they refused to send their children to public schools.

In some instances the province forced public school attendance by Freedomite children. The sons reacted violently.

They bombed public buildings, railroads and highway bridges.

One of their most spectacular methods of flaunting their contempt for Canadian law was the nude parade, participated in by men, women and children alike.

Out of the years of violence and terrorism came the suggestion for relocation in Russia, now apparently only a few procedural steps away.

London Gang Pulls Big Daylight Robbery

London — A teenage gang in two stolen cars pulled off a 12,000-pound ($32,600) robbery in broad daylight today.

One car rammed a taxi carrying two bank messengers and the money. Four youngsters smashed the cab window, grabbed the bag of cash and made off in a second car.

The cash came from a bank on Lavender hill in South London, scene of "The Lavender Hill Mob"—a movie about a bank robbery.

Science of No Avail When Three Youths Rob Psychiatrist

Hollywood, Fla. — Dr. Louis E. Graubard, a psychiatrist, did not attempt to use psychology on three youths who robbed him on a golf course Tuesday.

The youths took $14 after threatening Graubard with broken bottles, a 3-foot plank and what looked like a gun.

Graubard said he did not offer resistance and neither he nor his wife, who accompanied him, was harmed.

Polish Flier Is Naturalized

Former Officer Made Daring Escape By Jet in 1953

Pittsburgh — A former Polish flier who won worldwide acclaim by landing a Russian fighter plane in the free world calls his naturalization as an American citizen the greatest thrill of his life.

Frank E. Jarecki, 27, 1-time lieutenant in the Soviet-dominated Polish air force, was among 19 persons who became citizens in a brief ceremony here Tuesday.

Speaking in near-perfect English, the good-looking Jarecki said:

"It was really something. It's a great privilege to be an American citizen and something I've been looking forward to. Now I can vote."

Freedom Flight
Jarecki, who lives in the little western Pennsylvania village of Reno, near Oil City, became an international figure March 5, 1953. On that day, coinciding with the death of Stalin, Jarecki took a Russian MIG-15 on a flight to freedom from near Warsaw to the Danish island of Holholm.

Granted asylum in the free world, Jarecki came to the United States May 1 that year. He recalled:

"I had been planning my escape for five months. Eighteen persons from my family had been sent to Siberia by the Russians. I had to get away, to seek freedom."

A curly-haired young man of medium height and build who smiles quickly and easily, Jarecki now is a manufacturer's representative for the Oil City Machine and Tool company.

Nasser Accuses U. S. Of Aggression Against Red China Off Formosa

Leader Predicts Triumph for Nationalism in Arab Republic

BY ANTOINE YARED
Cairo — President Nasser of the United Arab Republic today accused the United States of direct aggression against communist China in the skirmishes off Formosa.

The Arab nationalist leader spoke over Cairo radio at a ceremony inaugurating the executive council of the federation of Yemen with the U.A.R. The speech came shortly after the arrival of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for talks with Nasser as part of his Middle East peace mission.

Nasser also predicted Arab nationalism would be triumphant and bitterly charged that the United States and Britain were arming Israel as a "beachhead for imperialism."

In ringing tones broadcast throughout the Mideast and North Africa Nasser said, "We thank God that the Iraqi revolution destroyed the Baghdad pact, which was created within the Arab nation to sow dissension and destroy this Arab nation."

Attacks Zionism
He attacked Israel and international Zionism as an imperialist tool designed to destroy Cairo and Arab nationalism and added, "Imperialism has failed and Arab nationalism has spread everywhere."

Hammarskjold flew from Geneva after attending the opening of the second international atoms-for-peace conference. As usual he brushed reporters aside and would say nothing.

He was expected to see Nasser later today. The U.A.R. president had a 2-hour conference with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi in preparation for the meeting.

Nasser presumably will renew his demands for speedy withdrawal of British troops from Jordan and U. S. troops from Lebanon. Hammarskjold in turn is expected to ask for assurance from the U.A.R. government that it will do nothing, either through radio propaganda or by aid to anti-government forces in Lebanon and Jordan, to overthrow those governments.

Reached Agreement
Charged by the U.N. assembly with making arrangements to facilitate the U. S. B. R. withdrawal, Hammarskjold spent three days in Jordan last week before going to Geneva. At the end of the visit a joint communique said he and the Jordanian government had reached "a large area of agreement."

Specifically, however, the communique said only that they agreed neither a U.N. force nor a border observation group should be sent in to protect Jordan, but rather that "other forms of U.N. presence" in Jordan should be developed. Sources at U.N. headquarters have said this probably will be a high-ranking representative who would alert the U.N. if the Hashemite kingdom was again threatened.

Hammarskjold is expected to stay three days in Cairo. He also is to visit Amman again, Beirut and Baghdad, and possibly Saudi Arabia.

U. S. to Seek Adoption of Space Program

Lodge Asks to Put 4-Proposal Plan Before UN Assembly

United Nations, N.Y. — The United States said today it will ask the U.N. assembly to adopt a 4-point plan to assure that outer space will be used solely for the peace and benefit of mankind.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge announced that the United States has asked that the proposal be put before the 81-nation assembly scheduled to open at U.N. headquarters Sept. 16.

The four main points are:

1. Creation of a special U.N. committee to make detailed studies and recommendations of specific steps for furthering progress in outer space work and to assure that outer space will be used solely for man's benefit.
2. A declaration by the assembly separating the subject of peaceful uses of outer space from the long fruitless disarmament negotiations.
3. A formal declaration giving assembly support on "The principle of the peaceful utilization of outer space."
4. An assembly declaration endorsing in principle the establishment of appropriate international machinery to accomplish these aims.

Lodge announced to the American Legion convention in Chicago yesterday that the United States would seek assembly approval of an international space program.

The Soviet Union already has asked the assembly to set up an agency for cooperation in the field of outer space. But it wants the assembly to take up at the same time the elimination of foreign bases on territories of other countries—a subject the United States says should not be linked with outer space.

In a memorandum to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold Lodge called attention to the launching of earth satellites by the Soviet Union and the United States as part of the International Geophysical Year.

"The United States is pleased that these first steps to project man's life and knowledge into outer space have been taken under the auspices of this cooperative scientific program," he said.

New Jersey Schools Add Russian Language To Year's Curricula

Newark, N. J. — Dobra rano.

That means "good morning" in Russian, and if you were going to school in New Jersey you might know that.

Four New Jersey school systems have added Russian to their curricula for the coming year, and at least 137 students are expected to be greeting each other in similar fashion before long.

In addition, a number of other high schools throughout the state are now offering Russian as a club activity with the thought in mind that it will be a regular subject at some time in the future.

By the way, the Russian word for Goodbye is dasvidanya.

'Bird Dog' Keeps High Record Spot

Top Tune in Nation Stays Runner-Up

For the third straight week, record stores in the Fox Cities report that "Bird Dog" by the Everly brothers still is their biggest seller.

This is a long time popularity when it is considered that it shared top spot with the Everlys' "Devoted to You" four weeks ago, and a couple of weeks before that was No. 1 recording. It hasn't gone below third choice for six or seven weeks now, with most of its career at the top.

The Italian number by the overnight success, Domenico Modugno, keeps its second place in the Fox Cities and No. 1 spot nationally. Officially, the record is "Nel Blu Dipinto Di Blu," but seems to be as well known by a second title, "Volare," meaning in rough translation to fly out into the wild blue yonder.

"Rockin' Robin" by Bobby Day came from nowhere to the number three spot this week and "La Do Dada" by Dale Hawkins makes its first appearance.

Fox Cities Favorites

- Here are the top ten:
1. "Bird Dog" by the Everly Brothers.
  2. "Nel Blu Dipinto Di Blu" by Domenico Modugno.
  3. "Rockin' Robin" by Bobby Day.
  4. "Susie Darlin'" by Robin Luke.
  5. "La Do Dada" by Dale Hawkins.
  6. "Just A Dream" by Jimmy Clanton.
  7. Little Star" by the Elegants.
  8. "Ram Rod" by Duane Eddy.
  9. "Summertime Blues" by

10. "Willie and the Hand Jive" by the Johnny Otis Show.

Across the nation this week's runner-up spot goes to "Lit- the Star." Five years ago the big tune was "Vaya Con Dios" and one year ago "Old Cape Cod" was the biggest tune.

New Albums include:

album of slow songs sung in a moody and intimate style. Rogers, Berlin, and other composers are included in this top album of good songs.

"I Get a Kick Out of Cole Porter" with Joe Bushkin. These are 12 Porter melodies in snappy and bright arrangements by pianist Joe.

"An Evening with Guy Lombardo" features songs recorded in the 1930s by the Lombardo orchestra. Included are such tunes as "Liebestraum," "I'll See You in My Dreams" and other standards.

"Champagne Dancing Party" by Lawrence Welk features tunes in the Welk style. Highlight of the album is Welk's personal introduction to all the selections.

Old Tune Back

Tommy Edwards, who has been in the recording business a good many years has revived one of his old tunes, "It's All in the Game." This ballad oldie has a beat behind it. Having done rock and roll songs for the past few years with little success, he seems destined for a hit with this ballad.

In the new record spotlight are:

"Around the Clock" by Jerry Vale, a bright and bouncy tune with good lyrics and a superb instrumental backing.

It tells the story of a young man who just can't stop talking about his girl.

More Questions Raised Than Settled at IGY Meetings

BY DR. RICHARD PORTER
Chairman, U. S. National Committee Technical Panel on Earth Satellites

It is natural to think of the work of a meeting such as the fifth meeting of the special committee for the International Geophysical Year as having been completed with the fall of the final gavel.

Nothing could be further from the truth. In the field of rockets and satellites, at least, more questions were raised than settled. More work was left to be done than was accomplished.

Although some 75 important papers were presented by scientists from many countries during the seven half-day sessions of the rocket and satellite symposium, it was not possible for most of us to grasp more than a small fraction of the information made available.

For one thing, language barriers remain a formidable obstacle despite all attempts to surmount it. Another problem was the mental indigestion which resulted from too many papers for the available time.

Therefore it will be necessary for most of us to read the translated papers and reports, to study them carefully, and it is now generally higher than previously expected.

Radiation

Another subject of great interest was the radiation recently discovered in the ionosphere (between 50 and 200 miles up) and recently announced in Washington by Dr. James A. Van Allen of Iowa State university.

Several papers by both U. S. and Soviet scientists touched on this subject, and the latest information from both Sputnik III and the most recent Explorer satellite was presented and compared. Although there were some differences in the data, it appeared to this observer, at least, that they can be explained by the differences in the means by which the data were obtained. And on the whole, there is a great agreement concerning the existence of the effect.

Here again, a good explanation of this radiation must be found.

The extensive instrumentation of the Soviet satellites, made possible by their larger size, was very impressive to American Scientists. Important scientific reports of early Soviet results on atmospheric composition, ion density, solar corpuscular radiation, micrometeorites, cosmic radiation, gamma radiation and biological experiments gave promise of great scientific advances to come.

Despite the popular glamor of the satellites, one must not overlook the high altitude rocket experiments of the IGY.

It was reported that the U.S.S.R. had launched 57 of these rockets by the first of June, and the United States a similar number. High altitude rockets also have been launched by the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, and Japan. Results obtained include valid measurements of temperature, density, and composition of the atmosphere in the important region between the maximum altitude reached by balloons and the minimum altitude at which satellites' orbits can be sustained.

Third Data Center

As the result of discussions by working groups, it was agreed that a third world data center for rocket and satellite data should be established in Great Britain. The two now in existence are in the United States and the Soviet Union. A number of previously controversial points regarding the use of these data centers were also settled.

However, at least three major points were left unresolved:

1. The U.S.S.R. scientists were unwilling to agree that data of any kind, except copies of published papers, should be sent to the data centers unless specifically requested in each case. The American delegation insisted such observational data should be sent automatically.

2. The Americans asked that information such as size and weight should be given for all significant objects placed into orbit, including, for example, the carrier rockets. The Soviets want to confine such information to the instrumented satellite only.
3. Finally, most of the nations represented at the conference believed that orbital elements or, in other words, the size and shape of the orbit, should be transmitted by each launching nation for all of its satellites. However, the Soviet delegates refused, insisting instead on providing only approximate direction angles for each different observing station, although the process requires more computation and will be less useful to competent observers.

Lack of agreements on points like this will not necessarily prevent some measure of continuing international cooperation among rocket and satellite scientists, but it does indicate the difficulties under which such cooperative programs must operate.

The most important overall conclusion to be reached from the Moscow conference, however, is not that cooperation was sometimes difficult and incomplete, but on the contrary there was indeed more cooperation than ever before—and that with patience and understanding it may yet be possible to achieve a working relationship among scientists as far apart as the United States and the Soviet Union for the benefit of all mankind.

Fortunately for international science, it appears that this process of reading and corresponding actually may be not only possible, but worthwhile.

Previous meetings on the subject of satellites in which the Soviet Union has played an important part have tended to be rather sterile: Little in the way of actual scientific results had been obtained, and information about the vehicles and launching problems had been regarded as highly secret, at least by the U.S.S.R.

This year in Moscow there were some definite results to discuss, and although the Soviet scientists obviously still were unable to talk about how they launched their satellites, or how they sent most of the information back to earth, they were prepared to talk about their results.

Important results they were, too.

First, the air density at altitudes of 150 miles and higher could only be estimated by means of very approximate assumptions before the International Geophysical Year began.

As a result of observations of the Russian and U. S. satellites by many IGY countries,

Law as a Substitute for War

The young president of the American Bar association, Charles S. Rhyne, has persuaded the ABA's house of delegates to actively support the concept of world law as the only lasting solution to the problem of international anarchy which leads to war.

Rhyne advances the familiar argument that we can never expect sovereign nations to settle their differences without resort to force until we have a system of world law which they will respect, and the edicts of which they will obey. He asks that the United States push for a broadening of the powers of the International Court of Justice, augmented by a system of district or circuit courts throughout the world.

Nothing could be more encouraging to the cause of world peace than the fact that the U. S. legal profession, as represented by the ABA, is beginning to recognize that world law is the only medicine that will ultimately exorcise the agony of war through which mankind has been passing these many centuries, an agony that is becoming ever more excruciating as the weapons of war become more horrible.

But Rhyne and the ABA, like so many others who have faced this fact, have overlooked a further fact. It is that law cannot exist without government. The phrase "world government" is so frightening to so many people — understandably, in an era in which our national governments have grown so big that they sometimes seem to be eluding our control — that a great many people shy away from even discussing it, and thus tend to come up with the impossible solution of law without government.

By "government" we do not mean government as we know it on the local, state and national levels; that is, an entity which invades our private lives at almost every turn, from regulating how fast we can drive a car to taxing us for a host of costly activities encompassing almost all fields of human endeavor. Despite the tendency of government to grow as if it were a living organism, the powers of any government — if it is democratically controlled — can be limited according to the functions the people wish it to serve.

Perhaps we could allay the fears of the timid by using some other term than "government" to describe the repository of that power that must some day enforce a system of world law, although it is rather silly to kid ourselves like that. At any rate mankind, whether we like it or not, is engaged in a race between the development of some system of world law and the destruction of civilization in a thermonuclear war.

Who Can Write of McCarthy?

Someday someone will take a scholarly, unbiased approach to the matter and turn out a treatise on the man who was Joe McCarthy that might shed some light on that baffling personality and his effect on the American scene.

The job will be done by someone close enough to McCarthy to understand him but far enough detached to be able to discuss the man objectively without being trapped by personal admirations or hatreds.

No one has come up with such a study yet, and we aren't sure we would recognize it if someone did. Today's writers seem to devote most of their energies to proving something for or against him, rather than trying to find out what made him tick.

Worse, we who knew and lived with McCarthy find our approach to anything written or said about him fogged by our own ideas and opinions, formed in the heat of intense political warfare and next to impossible to dissipate.

Reaction to a recent Esquire article on the late senator illustrates the point. Friends of McCarthy protested it was improper even to publish paid advertisements promoting the article. Foes, floundering in their own prejudices, accepted as vindication of their position the fact that one more person agreed with them.

Taking Census of the Wee Folk

Duke University's trained parapsychologists haven't been able to nail down exactly what has been causing strange disturbances at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Herrmann and their two children for several months. It is beginning to look as if Mr. Herrmann's conviction that a visiting poltergeist has been throwing bottles, lifting furniture and popping cans has a lot of merit.

The Duke men are not cynics. The only school in the country and probably the world which has a separate department to investigate and study everything otherworldly from traditional ghosts to ultra-sensory perception has been making reports over several years that must make more exact scientists quiver.

But the Herrmann case so far has stumped them. A 45-page report about rules out group hallucination, trickery or a family hoax. The most probable cause as far as the experts can ascertain is psychokinesis, the actual control of matter by the mind. But, in the meantime, the Herrmanns are tired of the whole business. A poltergeist or two, it seems, isn't half as annoying to have around as a bunch of scientists measuring things, peeping through windows, asking for lie detector reports and testing the electricity, house foundations and plumbing.

With all due respect to the Duke idea, we suspect that a worth-while poltergeist, or a clever gremlin or a sly member of the Little People aren't going to be exposed by such down to earth methods as scientists employ. Whether the other-worldly creatures are remnants of defeated races in long-forgotten wars or fallen angels who didn't plunge all the way with Lucifer, they should have means to avoid detection for a written report.

No Fond Goodbyes for Phony Doctors on TV

From Madisonville, Ky., Messenger

To our great delight we note in one of the prints that on Jan. 1, next, something good is going to happen. Something good on television, that is.

Not a new western with its "get out of town by sundown" "are you the new school marm, mam?" or the cry that off withered the soul of Wells Fargo: "throw down the box."

Jan. 1, 1959, will be the day on which those white-coated phony doctors who leap out of TV screens to shout the answer to the blaring question "what do doctors do," etc., will lose their licenses to practice upon the long-suffering television viewer. We wish the same thing would happen to TV's newspaper reporters.

vision great that the industry has a responsibility not to deceive consumers.

A lot of people hope the broadcasters will carry their ban a step or two further. One print which has commented on the new ruling voiced the sentiments of some millions pretty well. The News and Courier over Charleston, S. C., way hopes that:

When those worthies who masquerade as MD's in support of any product you can mention finally quit the screen they should take with them all their animated diagrams of the human digestive and nervous systems that we find so disagreeable. After a summer of repeat fare such as we are having now, we can hardly stomach another winter in which we must constantly witness our innards being laid open from guggle to zatch every five minutes in attempts to show us all the things that are wrong with us that we are trying to forget.

For our part, we have hoped and hoped and hoped in vain that poor old aspirin, always a wide loser in the good old tradition of Silky Sullivan, might dash to the fore sometime or other and beat out bufferin and anacin.

Sign Imogene Coca for Broadway Production

New York — (AP) — Once again at liberty from television, comedienne Imogene Coca has been signed for one of the two feminine leads in "The Girls in 509," an upcoming Broadway offering by Howard Teichmann.

The play is being produced by Alfred de Ligré Jr., who captured Miss Coca for her previous stage outing in the 1956 hit "Janus."

ed and hoped and hoped in vain that poor old aspirin, always a wide loser in the good old tradition of Silky Sullivan, might dash to the fore sometime or other and beat out bufferin and anacin. Now that the paraphernalia devised by plumbers is on the way out, we doubt that aspirin's chances for a win are any better than Silky's. Or, to veer for a moment into the field of Kentucky politics, the chances of aspirin's scoring a win prior to Jan. 1 are no better than those of Wilson Wyatt in the 1959 democratic gubernatorial primary.

All in all, though, millions will be grateful for the phony doc ban.

People's Forum

Attacks on McCarthy Serve No Purpose; Both Sides Not Presented

Editor, Post-Crescent: Mr. Nordlander, who wrote on "McCarthyites" for the People's Forum last week, stated that McCarthy's supporters want to hear only one side of the story and that in spite of this, "both sides will be presented." Anyone who cares to look into the available information on McCarthy will find that both sides are not presented. I found this to be the case last month when I did some research on Joe McCarthy for a course at the University of Wisconsin. To obtain material for a research paper, I visited several libraries and found that almost all of the literature concerning the senator was influenced by the anti-McCarthy viewpoint.

McCarthy was not opposed by these writers because he was a disreputable character, but simply because he did not have the backing of either political party. At the start of his career, Joe was supported by the Republicans, who found his shocking accusations an asset to the minority party, but the senator soon fell under the attack of his own party when the Republicans came to power, in 1952, and learned that Joe did not plan to stop shouting about communists in the State Department.

Raffle Swindle Sets Leap Year Drawing

Cincinnati — (AP) — A housewife here bought a raffle ticket for 50 cents on an electric clock. Afterwards she noticed the drawing was set for Feb. 29. But that's a leap year date — and two years away. She called police who arrested three men for investigation of a fake raffle swindle.

Early Bird Gets His Worms—1000 of Them

East Hampton, Conn. — (AP) — An early bird? Louis Angellio reported to police recently the theft of 1,000 worms from his backyard worm pit where he had stored them for fish bait.

Red Aggression Charge Fantastic

From the San Diego Union

The recognition of the new Iraq government by the United States, which followed recognition by Iraq's Baghdad pact partners, Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Great Britain, should have been no surprise to anyone, including Khrushchev.

The recognition came after these findings by American diplomats:

1. The new government was generally popular and there was little prospect of a counter-revolution to add further chaos.
2. Many revolt leaders demonstrated a desire for friendly relations with the west and oil has kept moving to European markets.
3. Western forces are in the Middle East for one purpose, to prevent Communist infiltration and the forcing of totalitarian government on people unable to defend themselves.
4. The recognition demonstrates the absurdity of Khrushchev's charges of Western aggression. Those charges are as fantastic as some of the adventures in "The Arabian Nights."

Looking Backward

An Abomination, Says Crescent

79 YEARS AGO Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 6, 1879.

In large cities, slaughterhouses and fat-frying establishments are not allowed in the city limits. Yet despite the precautions taken, the horrible stench settle down in awful reality upon the city until the air seems fairly thick with putrid grease.

Now Appleton hasn't got as far as that yet, but she has a butcher-shop or so on the main street that succeeds in raising a stink almost vying with those of larger and more pretentious communities.

The matter should be taken up by the police, and in strict regard to regulations steps should be taken to eliminate this concentrated essence of horror which has long afflicted the community. If necessary, we will point out to the authorities one stench factory at least, but we hardly think this information necessary. Just let them follow their noses.

25 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, Aug. 30, 1933

The Blue Eagle was flapping its wings in the front windows of most Appleton homes that day, following the canvass made by almost 200 women. For the most part, the reception of the workers was enthusiastic they reported.

George A. Koehler and Reno Y. Clark were to represent the Appleton City Carriers' local No. 822 at the meeting of the National Association of Letter Carriers at Atlantic City, N. J.

Old timers were predicting an early frost as a result of the chilly evenings of the past few days. Blankets and comforters were unpacked from cedar chests, and fuel dealers announced a slight upturn in the demand for wood and coal.

Mrs. Mary Froelich, Appleton equestrienne, left for Milwaukee where she was to enter a horse in state fair competition. Mrs. Froelich won numerous prizes in state fair competition and other Wisconsin horse shows.

10 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, Sept. 1, 1948

Mrs. Melvin Leopold was elected President of the Gauerke family reunion committee when the 1948 gathering was held at the Alfred Gauerke home near Allenville. Alfred Gauerke was named secretary-treasurer.

Miss Helen Van Vreede, formerly assistant to the Outagamie county nurse,

Practiced Politician Rolls With Punches

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Sometimes the politician's uncertainty and inexperience are betrayed by his reactions to attacks upon him by rivals.

Violence and intemperance of speech are in the American tradition of political competition. Politicians will say things about each other in the heat of a campaign, in trying to get the sovereign voter's ear, that would bring a challenge to a fight if uttered in ordinary private life. Politicians will make charges about the character and traits of a rival that might well be actionable if asserted by one businessman against a competitor.

The practiced public man expects such things and for the most part rolls with the punches, so to speak. He tries to give as good as he gets, as they say, if only to keep up the morale of his campaign organization.

Replying directly is frowned upon in the rules of the practical book of politics. To acknowledge a charge is to draw attention to it. To reply is to suggest, however inferentially that you are concerned about it.

THE RULE

One of the best natural born stumpers this state has seen in this century, a man who was the butt of more personal vituperation than any other of his generation, used to explain it this way: "To hell with your enemies; give your friends something to cheer about."

It is probably a pretty good rule, and perhaps more constructive than most of the rules of practical politics the practitioners live by. It is based on the assumption that there are three kinds of voters, Republicans, Democrats, and the uncommitted.

It is extremely doubtful, for example, that there is any way that Sen. Gaylord Nelson, through personal attacks upon Gov. Thomson, can wear away any significant number of voters who regard themselves as Republicans, and vice versa.

It is at least arguable, moreover, that those persons who fancy themselves as uncommitted, or independents, will be less impressed by what one rival says about another, especially if it tends to extravagant characterization and violent impeachment of character than by what the aspirant says for themselves, their purposes and their viewpoints on the public questions of the day.

It is the idea of "giving your friends something to cheer about."

THEROBACK

Why then the unbridled style of the politicians in the thick of the fight, the insinuations, allegations that would require a manly punch in the nose if uttered at the downtown bar?

There are reasons, including sometimes a candid desire for publicity (conflict makes news), the temperament of the principals (good politicians are combative fellows) and the necessities of the party organization. There is a good deal of the sporting psychology in politics. Strong partisans really despise the opposition, or think they do — even as the football fan in downtown Green Bay, rooting for his Packers, roars with what he imagines is hatred for the Chicago Bears each fall.

It is a tiresome thing to the initiated bystander, but it is perhaps incurable. Thoughtful persons may be regretful for all the deterrents that keep many good men out of the arena, such name-calling is the most dreaded.

State Water Too Often Polluted With Sewage

From The Janesville Gazette

It is a foul story in more ways than one, and it is happening in our own midst.

The waters of this area, the springs, ponds, rivers, lakes and streams are God's gift to man. They are his most important resource, pure and sparkling and inviting in their native state. They are the foundation of whole industries, the basis of all our resort attractions, a prime necessity in man's existence.

So commonly beautiful are these assets that man uses them up, wastes them, destroys them unwittingly. Ignorantly he befools his own nest, ruins the source of his own livelihood and wonders why there isn't more to destroy.

Years ago men violated every law and precept of decency by slaughtering ducks on Lake Koshkonong by the thousands. These were sent in barrels to New York commercial markets.

Today, with easy transportation, a great many prefer to live on or near the lakes and streams. Resorts have prospered there. Cities have grown and spread over hundreds of acres. Few have adequate sewage disposal plants to care for the new development and larger populations.

Meanwhile, the constantly growing demand for water is reducing water levels. Springs have been plugged, marshes drained and whole water basins dried up by man's insatiable demand for tillable land in a surplus economy. The result is that wildlife searches in vain for cover, for water, and ultimately the farmer will suffer ravages of insect life formerly destroyed by his wildlife friends who have gone elsewhere.

Every year the shores of lakes and streams swarm with more and more people. They build cottages and homes, but often neglect a most vital element in the building — sanitation. Too often sewage is drained directly into the river or lake, or a dry well is made to serve for both cesspool and dry well.

Schools at All Points of the Compass Chosen by Appleton Graduates

Schools from Connecticut to California and Minnesota to Florida were chosen for further education by Appleton High school graduates in the class of 1958.

Those who will journey farthest south in September, to the University of Miami in Florida, are Robert Eggert, son of the Herbert Eggerts, 1527 N. Kenilworth avenue; James Koffarnus, son of the Leo Koffarnuses, 1405 W. Grant street, and Thomas Verkuijlen, son of the Jacob Verkuijlen, 813 W. Commercial street.

At the other geographical extreme, four Minnesota schools are the choices of prospective freshmen.

Linda Malmstrom, daughter of the Homer Malmstroms, 525 N. Union street, will attend Hamlin university, St. Paul, and Ellen Rudolf, daughter of the Al Rudolfs, will attend Catherine college, also in St. Paul.

Jack Greunke, son of Mrs. E. A. Greunke, 703 N. Morrison street, will register at Dunwoody institute, Minneapolis, and Celia Knudsen at St. Olaf college, Northfield.

Students who will journey to eastern schools are Thomas Benton, son of the Jack Bentons, 1508 Oakcrest court, Dartmouth university, Hanover, N. Y.; Allan Cunningham, son of the E. S. Cunningham, 221 N. Lawe street, Yale university, New Haven, Conn.; Dale Herman, son of the Erwin Hermans, 1101 E. Marquette street, Rensselaer Polytechnical institute, Troy, N. Y.; C. Charles Lande, son of the Clarence Landes, 510 W. Seymour street, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, and Robert Bauman, son of the Russell Bauman, 921 E. College avenue, U. S. Military academy at West Point, N. Y.

Traveling west will be Judith Baldwin, daughter of the Karl Baldwins, 717 S. State street, to Stanford university, Stanford, Calif., and Helen Rugland, daughter of the W. L. Ruglands, 124 River drive, to Occidental college, Los Angeles.

Attending schools in the central part of the country will be Mary Zeh, daughter of the L. S. Zehs, 715 W. Verbrick street, who will enroll at Stevens college, Columbia, Mo., and Dennis Paul, son of the Lloyd Pauls, 1630 Carver lane, who will attend Wentworth Military academy, Lexington, Mo.

Among the eight who will register for studies at Illinois schools are Jean Ferron, daughter of the Harold Ferrons, 286 River drive; Shyla Gitter, daughter of Mrs. Lucille Gitter, 1123 W. Summer street, and James Greunke, son of the Alvin Greunkes, 914 E. Washington street, who will go to Carthage college, Carthage, and Richard Koepke, son of the George Koepkes, 1014 N. Fair street, and James Yeakey, son of the Oliver Yeakeys, 2308 S. Greenview street, who will go to Lake Forest college in Lake Forest.

Others are Judith Vander Linden, daughter of the R. J. Vander Lindens, 120 E. Fremont street, Cardinal Stritch college, Chicago; Marcia Manier, daughter of the Alex Maniers, 1236 Opechee street, Northwestern university, Evanston, and June Hodgins, daughter of the Lionel Hodgins, 731 E. Roosevelt street, Kendall college, Evanston.

Nancy Bubolz, daughter of the Leonard Bubolzes, 420 W. Summer street, and David Heinritz, son of the Ted Heinritz, 620 E. South River street, will enroll at Capital university, Columbus, Ohio.

Iowa schools chosen are Wartburg college, Waverly, by Daryl Bloedorn, daughter of the Ray Bloedorns, 1815 S. Jackson street, and Catherine Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Gamme- lin, 908 N. Oneida street; Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, by Robert Douglass, son of the Edward Douglasses, 537 N. Union street; and Drake university, Des Moines, by Judith Goehler, daughter of the John Goehlers, 620 W. Glendale avenue.

Few Incidents At Reopening of Dixie Schools

"this is a white school" and "Nigger, go home."

There was no physical contact but Negro pupils said about 20 white boys yelled of fensive remarks.

In contrast, white pupils and Negroes went to classes in a friendly atmosphere at the junior high school across town. There are five Negroes enrolled in the junior high. Van Buren is one of nine cities in the state in which schools have been integrated.

The second year of mixed classes began today at Charlotte and Greensboro, N. C. Police were on the alert but officials said they expected no trouble. At Winston-Salem, preparations were being made for four Negroes to enroll in white schools tomorrow. About 200 white pupils have withdrawn from a Winston-Salem elementary school at which three Negro children have been enrolled.

In Tennessee, 10 Negro boys and girls went to classes with 873 white pupils at Clinton High without incident. The school was the scene of violence two years ago when Negroes first were admitted.

At nearby Oak Ridge, classes were racially mixed in the high school and a junior high for the fourth straight year. There has been no trouble. The atomic energy commission, which supports the schools, ordered integration in 1955.

In Oklahoma, Oliver Hodge, superintendent of public instruction, estimated 7,000 Negroes—about one-fifth of the Negro pupils—attended mixed classes in more than 430 integrated schools. Last year there were 6,633 Negroes in mixed classes. Oklahoma has about half a million pupils.

Texas schools, both integrated and segregated, have opened this week without any reported incidents. There were no reports of Negro pupils attempting to register at schools that remain all-white.

In addition to the delay in school opening at Little Rock's central high, postponements were ordered in Norfolk and Arlington, Va.

U. S. District Judge Walter E. Hoffman today denied the Norfolk school board's motion to delay desegregation of schools until 1959.

In his order of denial, Hoffman said he reserves the right to reconsider after the U. S. Supreme court rules on the integration delay at Little Rock, Ark.

Peter Townsend Says Now He'll Never Return to England

Vienna —(AP)—Peter Townsend made it definite today: "I will never return to England," he said.

The former Royal Air Force group captain told newsmen in Paris Tuesday that he had no intention of returning to England but declined to say whether this meant never. His statement was intended to still speculation about himself and Princess Margaret, who renounced his love three years ago because he was divorced.

Passing through the Vienna airport on the way to Zagreb, Yugoslavia, Townsend said he intended to settle down in Africa after a 3-month world trip to make movies.

Confidence

Think back a bit... can you remember when your local bank started in business? Seems like it was always there — a part of the community with years of service that point to wide and valued financial experience.

Your bank's continued growth and acceptance is the result of the confidence placed in it by its many savings depositors. And the BIG reason for that confidence is: Assured safety for your money... Cash return when you want it... Definite rate of interest. Moreover, banks have always provided more convenience, more service for the depositor than any other "savings" organization.

Today, more than ever, your bank merits your confidence.

IT'S YOUR MONEY.
BE SURE IT'S SAFE... BANK IT!

- EXTRA BANK SERVICES
- Only at a Bank can you take advantage of all these important extra services no other "savings" organization can provide:
- Checking Accounts
  - Money Orders
  - Currency Exchange
  - Safe Deposit Service
  - Personal Loans
  - Letters of Credit
  - Auto Loans
  - Mortgage Loans for Home Ownership

Only Banks can accept savings deposits!

the Russians have missiles that can carry a nuclear warhead from their continent to ours. He said the U. S. also is behind in the number and quality of shorter range missiles.

Russian Manpower
The Russians, since 1945, have kept "their great army mobilized," the former president said, but "we stripped down our great army to a few occupation divisions."

"Today, they have 175 divisions, most of which are highly modernized; we have only 15 divisions, equipped mostly with obsolescent World War II equipment. The administration has been planning to cut our army to 14 divisions next year. Congress has objected to that."

Truman said in 1953 the United States had approximately 1,300,000 men and women on active duty in the army. In June, 1955, he said, the total was 900,000.

"In June, 1955, we had 1,030 active ships of all kinds," he went on. "In June of 1959, even after Sputnik, after Suez, after the Middle East crisis, we expect to have 864 active ships, a decline of 166. And in submarines, the Soviets outnumber us, so we are informed, about 5 to 1."

Fewer Aircraft
"In June, 1955, we had an active aircraft inventory of 23,694 planes of all kinds. In June of 1959, we will have 20,943, a decline of nearly 3,000 planes. Moreover, we are cutting the number of active air force personnel from 960,000 in 1955 to 850,000 in 1959."

Truman said the kind of statistics he cited don't tell the whole story "but they bespeak an attitude—and it is not an attitude I like. I know that defense is expensive—that it is growing more expensive all the time—but I do not think a record of economy is the most important thing in the world just now."

The United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in overall military strength, says McElroy. He asserted this country and its allies are strong enough to win either a general or limited war.

McElroy last night also spoke out against increased spending now on the long-range ballistic missile program, saying more spending now "would be an unwarranted risk of your money."

Henry Cabot Lodge, United States representative to the United Nations, also addressed the legionnaires yesterday. McElroy read a message to the convention from President Eisenhower.

McElroy took issue with those he described as oracles who predict the United States will be unable to match Russia's military strength in the years ahead.

He said he and President Eisenhower both have "the utmost confidence that the United States has both the capability and the determination to keep a gap in overall comparative military strength from opening. I said keep it from opening because it does not now exist."

McElroy said the Soviets are ahead of the United States in the development of an intercontinental ballistic missile," and added: "I stress the word 'development' because both countries are now in a developmental stage—a testing and proving stage."

The president, in his message, said the nation's citizens can bring about a victory in peace over communism by "selfless devotion to the work and sacrifice which are indispensable to the strength and security of our country."

most entirely equipped with U. S. weapons, and Smoot might have been referring to more and different arms for them.

More ships are on the way from the Mediterranean and the United States to join the Seventh fleet patrolling the Formosa strait to prevent any communist strike at Formosa. About 1,000 U. S. marines are coming from Okinawa for maneuvers on Formosa this weekend. Additional jet fighters have been sent from the United States to Far Eastern bases.

The nationalist defense ministry expressed confidence that its own navy could deal with red torpedo boat attacks on supply ships to Quemoy. Communist shelling of the Quemoy airfield has virtually stopped air supply from Formosa.

The defense ministry spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Hsiu-tu, said some supply ships from the Pescadores islands had been turned back by red attacks. Others were getting through "but how many I'm not going to let the enemy know," Liu said.

One convoy was turned back yesterday by communist torpedo boats without unloading 370 of 400 nationalist troops sent to reinforce the Quemoy garrison. U. S. military advisers in the Pescadores said it was the third time in four days that supply and troopships had been unable to complete unloading into small boats off Quemoy.

One nationalist convoy officer insisted, "If it were absolutely necessary we could have gone in and landed our troops. But the men aboard were not vital to the defense of Quemoy this time and there was no point in risking lives and the ship."

Negroes Attend Oklahoma Schools Without Incident

Oklahoma City —(AP)—Oklahoma Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Oliver Hodge estimated that about 7,000 Negro students attended mixed classes as schools opened Tuesday. No incidents were reported.

Hodge said it is expected there will be an increase over the 431 integrated schools reported last year. Official figures are not yet available.

Last year, 6,733 Negroes attended integrated classes in gram, saying more spending now "would be an unwarranted risk of your money."

Hodge said there will be in the state this year as compared only 35 all-Negro high schools pared to 96 in 1955.

Three Persons Pay Fines in Justice Court

Reckless Driving, Failing to Signal Result in Arrests

Kaukauna — Two persons pleaded guilty of reckless driving and one pleaded guilty of failing to give the proper signal thus causing an accident when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, Tuesday morning.

All arrests were made by Kaukauna police over the long holiday weekend.

Willard R. Skenandore, 46, Milwaukee, was ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs or spend 60 days in the county jail on a reckless driving charge. He was arrested by police after he forced several other motorists off the road. He will have six points charged against his driving record.

John Hibbard, 21, 1200 Crooks avenue, was fined $25 and costs for reckless driving and will have six points charged against his record toward revocation of license. He was arrested by police after he was noticed traveling at a high rate of speed which prevented him from keeping the car under good control.

Richard J. Doolittle, 18, 511 Lincoln avenue, was fined $25 and costs for failing to give the proper signal, thus causing an accident. Doolittle attempted to turn left on Crooks avenue about 11 o'clock Monday night, failed to give a signal, and struck a car driven by Herbert West, Milwaukee, who was attempting to pass as the youth turned, according to police. Only minor damage resulted to the vehicles. Doolittle will have nine points charged against his record toward revocation of his driver's license.

Election Workers to Meet at Pool Thursday

Kaukauna — A school for election workers will be held at 7 o'clock Thursday night in the offices of the swimming pool, according to Karl E. Marzahl, city clerk.

All persons who will work in the Sept. 9 primary are expected to report for the meeting as instructions will be given on voting booth operation and duties of workers.

Summer Classes In Art Schedule Library Exhibit

Kaukauna—The summer art classes, sponsored by the recreation department, have been concluded but an exhibit of work accomplished by the 90 students will be held in the children's section of the public library from Sept. 3 through 12.

A special showing is planned for Sept. 5 evening when Mrs. Roger Belling, instructor, will be on hand to explain various works and accept registrations for the fall classes. Students enrolled during the summer ranged in age from 5 through 15.

Enrollment at OCTC Up to 43

Kaukauna — Enrollment at Outagamie County Teachers college took a sharp increase this year with 43 students enrolled on the college level, according to S. W. Ihlenfeldt, president.

Twenty-three first year students are enrolled while another 20 return from last year's class. The total in 1957-58 was slightly over 30 students. An additional 25 students are expected to be enrolled in the juvenile department of the school prior to the close of registration.

College students began a full schedule of classes last week while youngsters in the elementary department will report for the first full day of classes this week.

'Christian Service' to Be Meeting Theme for United Church Women

Kaukauna — Christian service will be the theme for a meeting of the Women's guild of Immanuel United Church of Christ at 7:30 Thursday evening in the guild rooms of the church.

Mrs. Margaret Miller and Mrs. Rose Kuehl will be in charge of the program. Discussion will be held on various guild projects which can be adopted and a movie entitled

Community Band to End First Successful Season

Kaukauna — A picnic at High Cliff park Saturday will climax the season for the Kaukauna Community band, an organization formed this year to provide citizens still interested in music with the opportunity to continue their music training.

Early this year the health and recreation committee of the common council recommended the formation of a community band and council members voted their approval. Robert Vanevenhoven, former recreation director, suggested the formation of a unit and David Ludke was hired to organize and direct the newly formed group.

Ludke, only 19 years of age, undertook a job which ordinarily would task the abilities of a much more mature person. All potential players had to be contacted, musical instruments secured, sheet music organized and concerts planned. Despite the late date, June 8, for council approval, Ludke managed to plan eight

Plans Set for Initial Week of KVS Opening

Teachers Meetings, Registration Dates Named by Director

Kaukauna — Opening day of classes for freshmen at Kaukauna High school will get underway at 8:10 Thursday morning when all new students are to report to the high school auditorium.

The pupils will pay the $5.25 book rental, locker, towel and lyceum fees and receive class schedule cards. Freshmen will be assigned auditorium seats.

A program will be held including a welcome by the student council president, a talk by the athletic director, Guy Krumm, and various announcements concerning the program for the remainder of the day, traffic pattern, lunch room use and other information which helps the school run orderly.

Freshmen will meet for shortened classes in the morning and will be dismissed for the day about 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Upper Grade Students

Sophomores, juniors and seniors will report for first classes at 8:50 Friday morning, meeting first in the auditorium for various announcements. Talks will be given by T. H. Boebel, superintendent of schools, Florence Schmidt, student council president, Walter Schmidt, guidance director and Youth Center adviser, Guy Krumm and Julian Bichler, principal.

Upper class students will be assigned meeting rooms at which class schedule cards will be distributed. Teachers will collect book fees after which shortened class periods will be held.

Classes will be dismissed about noon on Friday and the school schedule of full day classes will open at 8:10 Monday morning. All students paying book rental fees are requested by school officials to have the proper change to facilitate handling by individual instructors.

"Exiles In The Holy Land" will be shown.

Members of the Hope circle will serve as hostesses.

New Acting Postmaster for Little Chute, Anthony Van Wymeren, was sworn in Tuesday while looking on is former postmistress Mrs. Anna Metz who has retired. Van Wymeren is being sworn in by M. C. Guill, postal inspector, Green Bay.

Businessmen Will Discuss Street Lighting Program

Little Chute — Discussion of the new street lighting program planned for Main avenue will be the main order of business at the meeting of the Businessmen's association at 8 o'clock Thursday night at the village hall.

The businessmen have spearheaded a drive to have the utility poles removed in the business district and set to the back lot lines. This will make room for a modern street lighting system.

Committeemen met with members of the village board and electric and telephone company officials early this summer and first plans for the work were formulated. Other discussions will include the street decorating program that will be carried

Acting Postmaster Assumes Duties at Little Chute Office

Van Wymeren was sworn in by M. C. Guill, Green Bay, postal inspector.

Retiring postmistress Mrs. Anna Metz turned the keys over to Van Wymeren after serving for 23 years. She expressed her appreciation to the postal employees for the service they have given.

Van Wymeren is a former employee of the county sheriff's department.

Little Chute Board Settles Bicycle Storage Problem

Little Chute — The problem of what to do with articles, especially bicycles, found by the police department and left unclaimed, was settled Tuesday night by the village board.

Storage of the bicycles developed a controversy which bounced among the police department, village board and fire department like a rubber ball for the last four months.

The board has decided that articles, including the troublesome bikes, will be stored in a shed near the water tower on Jackson street. If they are unclaimed following a reasonable amount of time, they will be given to orphanages or other charities.

Bicycles have been stored in the village hall fire barn but the number increased so rapidly of late that space became a problem. The fire department's rescue car arrived the first part of the summer and that required additional room in the fire barn. Firemen complained that conditions were getting too crowded and police said they had no other place to go so the matter was given to the board to settle.

In other action the board officially went on record naming Pine street from Main avenue to Canal street a one-way street for southbound traffic. Board members said there is nothing in the minutes of any meeting indicating such action was taken. One-way signs on the street have been posted for the past year.

Police Chief Sylvester Vandenberg was authorized to attend the police convention at LaCrosse Sept. 28, 29 and 30.

Justice of the Peace Anton Jansen turned over a check of $1,410 to the village for fines collected in May, June, July and the first half of August.

Kaukauna to Probe County Road Project

Wants Clear Idea Of City Cost Share For Budget Purpose

Kaukauna — Members of the council voted to investigate suggested improvement work on County Trunk Z through Kaukauna, proposed by the county with the city to assume 20 per cent of the construction cost and to furnish all engineering work necessary.

Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon asked council members to study the work to make it possible to set up a proper budget figure to cover contemplated work. Fifth ward Ald. Fred Reichel said the job should be done right and the city should be willing to go along with whatever the county proposed as it could well be 50 years before the county again offered to share construction cost.

Third ward Ald. William Glasheen reminded other aldermen of difficulty had with the county on other share projects, particularly when it came to engineering practices. The city engineer was often overruled and with the city paying engineering costs, the city should have the last say, according to Glasheen. George Simon, Third ward alderman, warned about keeping open potential road sites for future platting in the area. Council members agreed to meet with a representative of the county highway commission to discuss the type of road, engineering work which would be necessary and cost of the total project to include grading, fill and purchase of right of way.

The legislative committee, at the suggestion of Mayor Bayorgeon, was authorized to investigate the possibility of having city ordinances codified and brought up to date as it has been 10 years since this was undertaken.

A letter from the mayor to the state highway commission asking for improvements to Highway 96 from Plank road to the city limits was read along with an answer from the commission. Since other more heavily traveled roads have priority for state work, the commission advised the mayor or the Highway 96 project would be discussed at a meeting of Kaukauna and Little Chute officials when a meeting is called to discuss relocation of Highway 41.

Low bid of $1,802.50 by Tenor Brothers for repairs to a portion of the Garfield street sanitary sewer was accepted with two other concerns submitting proposals. Winkler and Sons submitted a low bid of $1,465.20 for fill for a road-way from Catherine street to Lawe street. Two other firms also submitted bids.

The city engineer was authorized to prepare a sketch and determine the amount of land the city would have to secure to improve the north-west approach to the Elm street bridge. He is to report to the finance committee and that body is to take necessary steps to purchase the property.

Other Business
Representatives of the city employees' Local 130 were informed they would be notified as to time and place for the next meeting of the board of public works at which time they could discuss a proposed new work agreement.

The city engineer was authorized to investigate the feasibility of opening an alleyway between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets from Sullivan to Kenneth avenue and at the same time to study the need for a second catch basin on Twelfth street.

In other action the city nurse was authorized to attend the state convention at Milwaukee from Sept. 24 through 26 and a letter was received from the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company asking city officials, both elective and appointive, to take part in Family days at the concern the week of Sept. 15. Officials will attend the open house on Sept. 19.

Absentee Ballots for Voters are Available

Kimberly — Voters who will not be in the village for the primary election Tuesday will have until Saturday noon to obtain an absentee ballot, according to Mrs. Paul Lochschmidt, clerk-treasurer.

Kimberly Auxiliary To Hear Girls' State Report on Thursday

Kimberly — A report on Badger Girls state activities this summer will be given at the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Ruth Hopfensperger, Kimberly High school student, and delegate to the girls program, will make the report. Officials said the meeting is scheduled for Sunset Point park if the weather is favorable, if not it will be at the clubhouse. A social hour will follow the meeting.

Retail Advertising Manager
Appleton Post-Crescent
Appleton, Wisconsin

Dear Mr. Starck:

Our first year in business at Valley Fair has taught us many lessons, but I think the most important might be that there is a direct relationship between advertising volume and business volume. At least it's certainly true in our case.

As our advertising space in your terrific newspaper has expanded, so has our business volume. We set certain sales volume goals for our new business, hoping and planning to reach these objectives in two or three years. Thanks to the public's fine response to our Post-Crescent advertising, we passed our expected goal in our first year in business!

Mr. Wilmer Krueger, our P-C representative informs me that we are now the number one jewelry advertiser in line volume in your newspaper. There's just one reason why we place this kind of lineage....because the Post-Crescent produces results -- but good!

My sincerest thanks to you and to your top-notch Business Builder, Will Krueger for helping us to succeed so quickly!

Sincerely yours,

U. S. Unable to Give Guidance to Ticklish Principle of Integration

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

With the schools about to open the country finds itself committed to the principle of integration. Yet there is no policy for carrying out integration. There is no program, there is no guidance, there are no rules on how to proceed. For the federal government, which has the duty of realizing the principle, has abstained from the effort of working out ways and means for realizing it.

Thus, Congress has, as we know, avoided any responsibility to do anything about the problem of reconciling the principle of integration with the resistance of the people and the state governments in the deep south. The courts are not really equipped to deal with the practical problems of integration, as they were exemplified during the past year in the Little Rock school.

Courts Not Able

This avoidance of the problem of implementing the principle was followed by the president's press conference last week in which he disavowed any responsibility for dealing with the substance of the problem. He professed to believe that his whole duty is to execute the law, leaving it as or in Virginia or in any to the court to determine what the law is.

We are in a position, therefore, where the federal government in all its majesty is calling for a revolutionary change in the social life of a section of the country. But the courts are unable, the congress and the president are unwilling, to assume the responsibility of dealing with the hard substance of the problem — which is how to get the principle accepted without a grave civil conflict.

Eisenhower's reason for refusing to say what he thinks of the law he is sworn to enforce is that he "could disagree very violently with a decision" but that if he so expressed himself, his duty to enforce the decision "would be much more difficult to carry out."

This is a weird view of his own office. If, in fact, he disagrees with the decision of the court, his duty is not only to enforce that decision but also to propose legislation or a constitutional amendment which will correct the decision he disagrees with.

Moreover, it is reasonably plain from his public statement that President Eisenhower has no clear conception of what is the problem of enforcement that he faces. He thinks of it as the problem of maintaining law and order against mob violence. But that is not the problem in Arkansas or in Virginia or in any of the other states of the deep south.

In the ordinary practice of the American system of government, federal troops have been used where the state and local authorities have not been able to cope with violence. But what we have today in Arkansas and elsewhere is the defiance of federal law, not by mobs but by the state government, backed by a large majority of the qualified voters.

Different Problem

There exists, in short, a conflict between two sovereignties—between the state government and the federal government. This poses problems which go far beyond, and are quite different from, the problems of dealing with lawless mobs. They are problems which are insoluble by exhortation, or by federal injunction and law suits in the federal courts. For the essential issue is the refusal of lawful state governments to accept the validity of a federal law.

Conflicts of this kind can be resolved in one of two ways. There can be a resort to overwhelming force to crush the resistance, which, of course, is ruled out. And there can be what is in fact internal diplomacy — negotiation between the federal authorities and the resisting state authorities aimed at some kind of compact about when, where, how much, how fast, by what means, the principle of inte-

Estimate Share Of Tax Total in Fox Cities Area

Taxpayers in Four Counties May Pay $101,294,038 in '59

Taxpayers in the 4-county Fox Cities area may pay $101,294,038 in federal taxes this fiscal year as a result of the $78.1 billion in appropriation bills passed by congress, according to estimates by the Wisconsin Chamber of Commerce.

The total includes Outagamie county, $36,923,248; Winnebago, $31,216,442; Waupaca, $6,438,607 and Calumet, $4,025,751.

The four counties will pay about 6.469 per cent of the state's federal tax load, according to the chamber. The per cent total breaks down as follows: Outagamie, 2.496; Winnebago, 3.283; Waupaca, .414 and Calumet, .301.

State's Share
Wisconsin's share of the fiscal cost of federal appropriations in fiscal 1959 is $133,163,000 above last year. The new state appropriation share is $1,590,050,000, compared to $1,426,887,000 in fiscal 1958.

Total federal appropriations rose $9.1 billion in fiscal 1959 from the 1958 total of $66.9 billion. Calculating that Wisconsin taxpayers bear 2.05 per cent of total federal taxes, the chamber applied this figure to the state's share of the $9.1 billion increase to arrive at the $133,163,000 boost.

The chamber figured tax load percentages on the ratio of state income tax collections for each county to total collections from all individual corporations in the state.

Expenditures, often higher than actual appropriations, are expected to exceed by at least $5 billion the president's $73.9 billion budget for the year.

Burglars Take $135 From Legion

Burglars got about $135 when they broke into the American Legion clubhouse, Highway 125 and Badger School road.

Sheriff Donald Heinritz said most of the money was taken from coin machines.

Lt. Jack Frenz said the burglars got into the building by breaking three windows on the west side and pried open the door.

If such a negotiation is to take place, it will have to be initiated by the president, and the leading members of congress will have to participate in it.

2 Generations Of Music Fans Meet

Representatives of two generations of popular music fans met in Appleton after a 15-month correspondence.

And what was the main course of conversation? Why, music, of course, records and radio.

Meeting face to face for the first time were Rick Priebe, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Priebe, 916 W. Spring street, and Guy T. DeHaven, 71, a retired printer from Peoria, Ill. DeHaven and his wife were guests at the Priebe home.

The friendship was spawned when DeHaven read a newspaper story about the amateur radio station operated by Rick in the basement of his home.

DeHaven wrote to him, the active exchange of letters began and finally the friendship was climaxed by the meeting.

Although the two record collectors have different tastes in records — Rick prefers rock 'n' roll while his elderly friend boasts of 4,000 records, most of them polkas — the two exchanged discs to further weld the friendship.

DeHaven also presented Rick with a booklet — an autobiography printed when he retired from the Peoria Journal Star.

the coin machines with a screwdriver they found in the club.

5 Youths Charged After Thefts, Party

All Named in Warrants Charging Misconduct With Girls, 12 and 14

Five youths from 16 to 18 were in court today, all of them charged with misconduct involving two girls, 12 and 14. Some of the boys also are accused of burglary and theft.

The youths' party started Thursday night when they and the two girls had a beer party at one of the girls' homes, police said. The girls' parents were away, police were told. While at the house, the youths drank an eighth of a keg of beer, then left and went for a ride.

Criminal Charges
The boys named in criminal complaints issued today are: Curtis M. Krause, 17, 835 W. Grant street; John C. Rohrdanz, 16, 613 Lee avenue, Brillion; Kenneth C. Newhouse, 18, 1404 N. Bennett street; Darrell O. Greil, 18, 1018 W. Kamps avenue, and Donald L. Kappell, 18, 1408 N. Bennett street.

County Judge Stanley A. Staidl waived juvenile court jurisdiction on those under 18. All the boys are charged with misconduct.

Krause, Kappell and Rohrdanz were charged with burglarizing the Squirt Bottling company warehouse, 914 W. Wisconsin avenue, and Rohrdanz and Kappell were charged with burglarizing the Heller Launderette Service, 341 W. Wisconsin avenue.

Police said Kappell told them he entered the Richmond Cafe, 546 N. Richmond street, about a month ago when he had been drinking and found a key in the rear door. Kappell said he took a bucket and filled it with food, candy, ice cream and cigars. The burglary was not reported to police.

Met in Store
The party idea started when three of the boys met the two girls in a supermarket in Appleton.

A gas hose was cut and attempt was made to steal gasoline at the Junction Service station, 1635 W. Spencer street, Friday morning. It was investigation of this case which gave police the lead which led to arrest of the five youths.

Barbers Raise Haircut Prices

Adult haircut prices have increased 15 cents to $1.65 and children's haircuts now cost 25 cents more, or $1.25, in Appleton union barbershops. The price hike was approved by members of Local 438 and went into effect Aug. 25. There has been some talk about price increases by union barbers in Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha, but old prices still are in effect—$1.50 for adults and $1 for children.

A union barber said this morning the price increase brings the charges in Appleton in line with other communities. In some cities of northeastern Wisconsin the adult price is $1.75, he said. Non-union shops contacted today in the Fox Cities reported their prices still are $1.25 for adults and $1 for children. Prices may vary from shop to shop. Some charge an additional 25 cents for "flat tops." Non-union barbershop prices traditionally follow the pattern set by union barbershops.

Annual Return

Morning Was Dark So Might As Well be in School Anyway

It wasn't a good morning for swimming or baseball. Fish might have been biting but there's been fishing all summer and, anyhow, the fishing poles seem to have been misplaced after the last trip to the river. So a kid might just as well be in school.

Thousands of Appleton youngsters left vacation fun and summer whimsies behind this morning as they began their annual trudge back to classrooms.

Books were tucked under the arms, newly-sharpened pencils nestled in pencil boxes and cartons of still-unused crayons shared a place with white, unmarred tablets.

Elementary school youngsters were given an extra good scrubbing and dressed in their freshest clothes. They gathered on corners and driveways to walk to school together.

Secondary school pupils joked and jabbed at each other, looked anxiously for classmates they hadn't seen all summer and finally stood around and chattered at the doors of the familiar building.

School has begun in Appleton.

Holstein, Calumetville, Chilton and Fond du Lac before moving to Florida three years ago.

Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Erbe-Hoffmann Funeral home, Chilton, with the Rev. Allen Bowe, pastor of the Kiel Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Hillside cemetery, Chilton. Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Survivors include the widow; one son, David, Miami Beach, Fla.; one brother, Henry, Chilton; one sister, Mrs. Elmer Steinmetz, Chilton, and two grandchildren.

Polzin Infant

Barbara Helen Polzin, 7-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Polzin, Dupont, died unexpectedly at 7 o'clock Tuesday night in Clintonville. She was born Jan. 23 in Iowa.

Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Ottomark Funeral home, Marion, with burial in Roseland cemetery, Marion. The Rev. Carl Stuebenvoll will officiate.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, include four brothers, Daniel, Robert, Larry and Jerry, and three sisters, Bernice, her twin, Linda and Judy, all at home.

Mrs. Louis Rogers

Mrs. Louis Rogers, 66, 212 Elm street, Kaukauna, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Wurdinger, 168 Grant street, Kaukauna, Tuesday night after a long illness.

She was born Feb. 28, 1892, in Kaukauna.

Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran church, Kaukauna, with burial in Highland Memorial park, Appleton. Friends may call at the Fargo Funeral home, Kaukauna, from 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon until noon Friday and then at the church.

Besides Mrs. Wurdinger, she is survived by three sons, Clifford and Sherman, both of Kaukauna, and Norman, Kaukauna, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Olga Mohr, Newald, and Mrs. Emma Schuh, Kaukauna, and nine grandchildren.

Mrs. Mary E. Paulson

Mrs. Mary E. Paulson, 86, Hawkins, Wis., died in Lady-smith Tuesday after a long illness. She was born Feb. 12, 1872.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at Hawkins Methodist church. Friends may call at the McElravy Funeral home.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Alden Buchert, Appleton, three sons, Earl, Louis and Ralph, all of Hawkins, Mrs. Emma Williams, Kingston, five grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Agree to Plat Land as Group

Northwest Property Owners Try to Solve Sewage Problems

Owners of land on Appleton's northwest side that will be served by a sewage lift station Tuesday night agreed to have their lands thrown together for a tentative plat in an effort to solve problems in getting sewer service.

Kenneth Hooyman, owner of the property on which the lift station is likely to be placed, presented a tentative layout of streets and lots for his land but, because of a bend in W. Lindbergh street, the plan was unacceptable to the street and sanitation committee and Public Works Director Edwin J. Duszynski.

Hooyman said the street would have to curve for him to get the best results in subdividing his land. Committee-men said this would involve added cost in building the lift station and could lead to maintenance troubles.

They urged Hooyman to contact Harley Slezek, who owns land north of Hooyman's, in an effort to make a deal which would allow platting with W. Lindbergh to extend straight west from its present end.

Both property owners and the city want the lift station completed by next summer if possible. Hooyman has offered to sell the city nine acres at $2,000 an acre to house the lift station and serve as a park.

The street and sanitation committee will meet with Hooyman Sept. 16 to discuss purchase of the land. It was hoped the present difficulties could be solved by that time.

Other land owners at the meeting were Cyril and Leo Griesbach, Walter Klitzke and Chris Van Den Heuvel.

Birth Record

St. Elizabeth hospital this morning reported the following births:

Son to:

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Beckx, 1228 W. Eighth street.

Daughter to:

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Remter, 1325 N. Viola street.

A daughter was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. George Sexton, Evanston, Ill. Grandmothers are Mrs. Fred Heinrich, 1206 E. Opechee street, and Mrs. S. D. Sexton, Clintonville.

Theda Clark hospital, Neenah, today reported the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Alferi, 966 1/2 W. Wisconsin avenue.

A daughter was born Sept. 2 to Dr. and Mrs. Harold Fromm, Madison. The mother is the former Sandra Grimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Grimmer, 1506 W. Harris street.

Correction

In an article in Tuesday's Post-Crescent, a 60-day jail term given Lester N. Sorensen, 38, 308 Third street, Neenah, in municipal court for drunken driving was inadvertently omitted. Sorensen also was fined $200. If he does not pay the fine, he faces another 75 days in jail.

Lawrence Says:

'Enabling Acts' Support State School Control

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—No more convincing proof of the intent of congress that the federal government should never interfere with the operation of the public schools by the states is needed than the language used in the "enabling acts" which, respectively, created at least ten states of the union.

Research by this correspondent reveals that the identical words of a brief section in the law passed by congress in July, giving statehood to Alaska, are to be found also in the statutes that gave statehood to New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, South Dakota, Montana, Washington, Utah, Wyoming and Oklahoma.

One reason why the clause which says that the public schools and colleges "shall forever remain under the exclusive control of the state, or its governmental subdivisions"—attracted little attention when inserted in the law creating Alaska, was that this language was copied from the "enabling acts" of the other states. The important difference today, however, is that when every one of the states that preceded Alaska into the union was admitted, there was no question in anybody's mind about the fact that the public schools were "forever" to remain "under the exclusive control" of those states.

No Decision

No decision of the supreme court upsetting state control had been handed down prior to 1954. Now, four years later, federal judges, as in Virginia, are actually examining the applications of students seeking admission to public schools and scrutinizing their qualifications to determine whether a school board has discriminated against a Negro applicant. Certainly it was not assumed heretofore that the public schools of any states would ever be subject to control by the federal judiciary or by the military forces of the federal government. Just a year ago, for instance, federal troops were stationed inside Central High school at Little Rock, Ark., to maintain discipline.

Certainly the grant by the federal government of authority to at least ten states to maintain "exclusive control" of their own public schools, emphasizes that powers have apparently been delegated to some states which other states are not permitted to enjoy. May the congress itself discriminate between states? Must it not respect eventually the rights of all states to maintain "exclusive control" of their public schools as a power "reserved" to them under the Tenth amendment of the constitution?

'Exclusive Control'

None of the states which enjoy immunity from federal interference under an "enabling act" need to pass or invoke any segregation laws now, for to do so might be held to violate the Fourteenth amendment as the supreme court has construed it. But if, in the normal course of school operation, pupils are assigned to one school instead of another by county or city school boards, it would be a manifest interference by the supreme court or any federal court to say that the words "exclusive control" do not mean what they say and that this phrase is now amended by the 1954 decision of the supreme court. The fact that congress only two months ago still used the phrase, "under the exclusive control of the state, or its governmental subdivisions," can be taken to mean that congress felt the supreme court's ruling of 1954 did not apply to acts of congress confirming the complete power of a state over its own public schools. Almost all the states that have the immunity clause in their "enabling acts" do not have segregation problems. The only exception is Oklahoma, which has maintained segregated schools in the past and lately has been introducing "integration" in some school districts. The state of Oklahoma can, of course, today choose to ignore the "exclusive control" clause granted when it was admitted as the 46th state in 1907, or it can test the effectiveness of the pledge given to it by the federal government. To make such a test now, it would not be necessary to invoke any state law, but simply, by the routine operation of a school board, assign pupils to certain schools in whatever way the local authorities stipulated. Negro applicants could then bring suit, and the supreme court would have to decide whether a solemn pledge given by the congress to a sovereign state can be repudiated by the federal judiciary. Appleton Had Its Own Version of Old Faithful for about an hour and a half Tuesday when a power shovel digging a trench in Washington street knocked a valve off a 6-inch water main. Water spouted about 60 feet in the air before water department crews were able to seal the hole.

Broken Valve on Main Sends Water Spurting High in Air

A power shovel broke off an unused valve from a 6-inch water main at the intersection of N. Oneida and Washington street shortly after noon Tuesday sending water spurting 60 feet in the air. The valve, a corporation cock, normally is used to shut off water between the main and a service lateral. No lateral was attached to the valve.

The power shovel was operated by Charles Green and Son construction company which is rerouting a telephone cable from Midway street back of Prange's store into Washington street. The move is necessary due to Prange's expansion program. Henry Fulcer, assistant foreman at the water department, said they tried to put the one torn out, but were unable to do so. Instead, they put a 2-piece sleeve around the main, bolted it together and slid it over the hole. It took the water department crew about an hour and a half to stop the spouting water. Nearby fire hydrants were opened to take some of the pressure off the main. The cable from Midway street weighs 65 to 68 pounds of pressure, Fulcer said.

The job could have been done more quickly if the water had been shut off, Fulcer said, but the department wanted to repair it without cutting off the areas served by the main.

Swim Area Deserted When Whale Appears

Malibu, Calif. — Thousands of holiday bathers along Zuma beach must have set some sort of a record for getting out of the water Monday when a 40-foot killer whale suddenly popped up.

The whale was spotted by lifeguards cruising along just beyond the breaking surf. Lifeguard stations along the 2-mile beach were immediately alerted by radio and all swimmers were ordered out of the water. "There were no dissenters," observed a lifeguard captain. "There was a regular stampede to get out."

The whale continued slowly along the entire length of the beach, then turned out to sea and disappeared.

Five New Teachers Added to Lawrence

Knight Announces Appointments to Complete Faculty for Coming Semester

Five faculty appointments, announced today by President Douglas M. Knight, complete the Lawrence college staff for the fall. They are: Lt. Col. Albert L. Betz, recently on duty in Germany as professor of air science and tactics; Maj. Elwood H. Hintz, associate professor of air science; Diane Dickey, assistant to the dean of women and head residential instructor in Spanish during the first semester. Col. Betz replaces Lt. Col. Woodrow V. Nold, who has served four years as head of the Lawrence AFOTC and now is due for rotation. Col. Betz holds both the B.S. and M.A. degrees from the University of Kentucky in economics and business administration and did further study of Colman hall; Richard W. Winslow, instructor in Spanish and an army language school, studying Chinese at the latter two.

He has seven years of teaching experience, five of them at the university level. He has traveled in Europe and the Orient and was assistant air attaché at Taipei, Taiwan, before assuming his present post as acting director of collection in the office of the deputy chief of staff, intelligence headquarters, U.S. air forces, Europe.

Late Spring
Maj. Hintz arrived on the campus during the late spring and will take over his teaching duties with the opening of school. He was born in Adell, Wis., graduated from Plymouth High school and the Sheboygan Business college, and attended UCLA. He and his family are living at 927 1/2 N. Appleton street. He is the replacement for Capt. Parley Banks, who was reassigned. Richard W. Winslow, re-

Book Circulation Rises Again at Kimberly Library

Kimberly — Continued increases in circulation were noted for July and August at the Kimberly public library, according to Mrs. Joseph McCann, librarian.

Total circulation for July was 2,000 books compared to 1,558 in the same month a year ago. For August the total was 2,008 compared to 1,784 in 1957.

Outside circulation to the rural routes, Combined Locks and Little Chute was 650 for July and 437 in August.

Mrs. McCann also announced that the fall and winter hours will go into effect Monday. The library will be open from 2 to 5 o'clock each afternoon, Monday through Saturday and from 7 to 9 o'clock each evening, Monday through Thursday. Saturday morning hours will be from 9 to 12 o'clock and the library will be closed Friday and Saturday nights.

The librarian said 62 new books were added to the shelves in July and 63 in August.

cently of the faculty of Northern State Teachers college, Aberdeen, S.D., attended Lawrence in 1948-49, and then took his B.A. and M.A. at the University of Minnesota. He has studied at the Universidad Nacional de Mexico, and is a candidate for the Ph.D. at Minnesota. He replaces John Weiger, who has accepted a position at the University of Vermont.

Diane Dickey of Downers Grove, Ill., takes over at Colman hall for Jean Curtis Gordon who, with her husband, is now living in Minneapolis and is associated with Hamline college. Miss Dickey graduated in modern languages from Lindenwood college in Missouri and holds a master of business administration in human relations from the University of Washington. At the latter school she worked as a graduate assistant. She has also been employed as a psychiatric aide at the Pinel Foundation hospital in Seattle.

First Semester
Barbara Pierce will take over the first-semester Spanish classes of Prof. Kathleen Joyce who is convalescing from surgery this fall. Miss Pierce holds the B.A. with high honors from Mundelein college and finishes her M.A. at the University of Wisconsin this month. She has also done work at Loyola.

There will be 13 new people on the Lawrence faculty this year. Those previously announced were: Theodore Rehl; Mrs. Dwight B. Easty, the former Mary Kay Hall; and Daniel P. Smith, all at the conservatory of music; Mrs. Bernard Fabian - Lenko, coming for the second semester in German; Marcel Muller in German and French; Mojmir Povony in government; Thomas E. Wenzlau in economics, and Richard W. Zuehlke in chemistry.

Youth Center Champs Crowned

Kimberly — Champions in seven special events have been crowned at the Kimberly High school Youth center, according to James Koehn, director.

Titlists include Julie Bolwerk, tennis; Pat Van Hout and Dick Stuyvenberg, badminton; Lambert Geltman, bumper pool; Mike Mitchell and Barbara Gossens, shuffle alley; Dick Bonzelet, Don DeBruin and Lee Vanevenhoven, three-man shuffle alley; Tom Gossens, table tennis and Dick Bonzelet and JoAnn Gossens, checkers.

Koehn announced that the center will be open Friday and Sunday nights. The feature of Sunday's activity is a movie titled "Francis and the Haunted House."

Eastern Ballet Group Names New Director

New York — Robert Irving, former conductor for England's Royal ballet, is the new chief musical director of the New York City ballet.

He takes over in time to prepare for the company's 10th anniversary season in the fall. Irving has previously appeared here as conductor of two television specials, "Sleeping Beauty" and "Cinderella."

Offers to Sell City 58 Acres West of 41

Woman Wants $1,000 an Acre; Suggests Use for Golf Course, Park or Industry

The city has been offered 58 acres of land west of Appleton for $1,000 an acre for possible future park, school, golf course or industrial use.

A second offer has been made of two smaller parcels south of the Oscar Baerenwald property on the city's far south side. The city is considering Baerenwald's property for a park.

The land west of the city is along Highway 41 between County Trunk BB (Outagamie-Winnebago county line) and W. Spencer road. It is across the highway from Butte des Morts Golf club. The offer was made by Mrs. Ed Farrell, 650 Reed street, Neenah, in a letter to Arthur W. Jones, secretary of the park board.

Possible Uses
Mrs. Farrell said the land has and will have access to Highway 41. She said there was a house, a barn and some smaller buildings on the land. The land could be used for a park and has hills, ravines and a wooded area, she said.

The land could be used for a golf course if property on either side could be purchased to go with it, she said. Other possible uses suggested were for schools, a youth center or an industrial park.

The land offered south of the city is owned by Joseph H. Doerfler, 1120 Oakcrest court. It is the same parcel he earlier offered to the school board for a possible school site. The school board said there will be no need for a school in that area for a long time.

$2,500 Per Acre
Doerfler wants $2,500 an acre for either a 6.34-acre plot immediately south of the Baerenwald property or for 3.96 acres just east of the 6.34-acre piece. The land would be east of S. Jackson street and south of E. Hoover avenue extended. The property recently was annexed to the city.

Doerfler said he was making the offer because he thought the city might want more land adjacent to the Baerenwald tract for baseball

3 Incidents of Youth in Little Chute

Village police have requested parents to cooperate in keeping children off the Fox river with rafts after three incidents in the past week. Assistant Chief Robert Nechodom said that Saturday three boys were out in extremely deep water with a makeshift raft and could very easily have met with a dangerous situation. Nechodom said the boys were 7, 8 and 11 years old and only one could swim. The raft was broke up by police and the boys were given a stern warning.

diamonds, tennis courts, etc., where trees are not required. Doerfler said the offer would remain in force until Oct. 1 unless the city rejects it before then. Both offers will come before the city council tonight.

Community Planning Stressed by Moore At Centennial, Open House Program

Neenah — Lakeview school people be given the district's full and wholehearted support to its school built in the last port.

Moore said he wondered if the school would be adequate in five or 10 years from now. "The answer to that question can come only from the application of sound planning principles," he commended the district and those who brought the school into being, advising that they give their attention to community planning.

L. C. Stilp, who retired as school board director in July, served as master of ceremonies and Vern Hanson, president, dedicated the building with a plaque behind which will be placed historical mementoes of the school.

On display for the open house were pictures of previous schools serving the district, pictures of classes and clerk's and treasurer's old minute and account books.

$421,000 Saving in 750-Pupil School Cited by Hedlund

Citizens Head, Board Chief, City Officers to Debate Question

Neenah — The city can save $421,000 by building a new 750-pupil junior high school rather than remodeling the present Kimberly school building and building a new 400-pupil building, Arthur R. Hedlund said this morning.

Hedlund, chairman of the citizens committee which studied the crowded junior high situation for eight months, said in an open letter to the mayor and city council that the vote on next Tuesday's referendum may turn out to be a costly mistake for the city.

Hedlund will appear at a League of Women Voters information session at 7:45 Thursday night at the Neenah High school auditorium. On the same platform, arguing for the construction of a 750-pupil school, will be Paul H. Groth, president of the school board, and Richard B. Sawtell, chairman of the building subcommittee of the citizens committee.

Mayor Chester Bell and Aldermen Warren Sanders, James Dinius and Paul Hansen will argue for the city council's position on the apparently cheaper proposal.

Voters' Choice

Next Tuesday's referendum offers the voters a choice between a 750-pupil building costing an estimated $956,000, plus land, and the remodeling of the present building and construction of a new smaller building on a city owned site for $618,000.

The city council ordered the referendum, including the $618,000 proposal, two weeks ago after giving only cursory examination to the school board's request for the $956,000 expenditure.

Hedlund's letter said that the $618,000 proposal was "one of the least desirable of the plans studied in detail," since it is for a building that cannot be expanded for a larger enrollment. For an expandable building, the initial cost would be $47,500 higher than what the city has mentioned on the referendum, Hedlund said.

The difference in cost between the two proposals would be about $340,000, Hedlund said, meaning an added annual payment (on 20 year bonds at 3 per cent interest) of from $22,580 to $27,140. For

Committees Express Need For UW Center

Kimberly-Clark Gets Permission To Enlarge Hangar

Oshkosh — Both the Winnebago and Outagamie county special committees studying the need for a University of Wisconsin extension center building in the Twin Cities area feel unanimously that such a building is necessary, the Winnebago county board was informed this morning.

Supv. Van Jackson, chairman of the Winnebago county special committee, said the two committees met with interested persons to study the need for such a building and to hear specifications and requirements for an extension center building.

"This information was sent to the university board of regents and that board must guarantee it will furnish equipment and faculty before we make any recommendations for a building," Jackson said.

In other action this morning, the board granted Kimberly-Clark corporation permission to enlarge its hangar at the Winnebago county airport with no cost to the county. The hangar was built and enlarged previously by county funds with Kimberly-Clark reimbursing the county on a lease basis.

Supv. Alvin Staffeld, Neenah, aviation committee chairman, said that Kimberly-Clark will pay the entire cost of enlarging the hangar. It plan to raise the entrance about 10 feet and to add 15

Garlock, Bell to Talk On New Station Sites

Voters to Hear of Walnut-Doty, Church-Franklin Alternatives

Neenah — The two proposed sites for a new police station will be discussed by representatives of the city administration and chamber of commerce at 7:45 Thursday night in a special voter information session sponsored by the League of Women Voters Thursday night at Neenah High school.

Don Garlock, chairman of the Neenah planning committee of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce, will speak in favor of a tract located on the northeast corner of Church street and Franklin avenue.

Mayor Chester Bell will speak on this site and also on the Doty avenue - Walnut street location originally intended for a police station.

Next Tuesday's referendum will offer the voters a choice between the Doty - Walnut site and "some other location." It is expected that a tendency toward the latter would result in council action to obtain the Church-Franklin site.

Economic Standpoint

The city already owns the Doty-Walnut site at a cost of about $60,000. If a police station is built here, the city would have to reimburse the parking meter funds by about $24,000 and find a new off-street parking area to replace the present one.

The other $36,000, borrowed from local banks and used to buy land adjoining the parking lot, would then go to the purpose intended.

The Church - Franklin site would mean an expenditure of $55,500. This would save the present parking lot, but would freeze the other $36,000 worth of land which the city owns. This land now has two duplex and one single residence homes on it, with a monthly income when all are filled of $300.

While the Church-Franklin site is $4,500 cheaper than the Doty - Walnut site, the difference could not be considered a saving unless the non-Menasha — A 16-year-old Menasha boy and two Appleton girls, both 15, were apprehended in Falkville, Ala., this morning after a 5-day escapade of stealing and abandoning cars.

The trio was arrested trying to steal a fifth car after earlier abandoning another stolen vehicle. They are being held in Morgan county jail.

The Menasha youth stole feet to the south end of the hangar. The firm is securing a larger airplane and needs the added room, it was pointed out. Several years ago a 10-foot section was added along during which a case of wine was taken.

Plumbing Firm To Build New $10,000 Shop

Neenah — A new plumbing shop is to be erected by H. J. Lenz and Sons on S. Commercial street between Peckham street and Wright avenue, opposite the Red Owl food store.

A building permit for the new shop, estimated to cost $10,000, was issued this morning by Carlton Williams, city building inspector. The concrete block structure is to measure 30 by 60 feet and will be built by the St. Aubin Construction company of Kaukauna.

When completed the plumbing firm will transfer all operations to the new building out of its present quarters at 111 S. Commercial street.

Hedlund Cites Large Saving In Big School

this amount the city could have an adequate school, he said.

$26,000 Annual Expense
 Under the council's plan to operate two schools, the additional cost for teachers, janitors, heat, light and other necessities would be at least $26,000 annually.

"Assuming two schools were operated for 10 years before adding to your proposed 400-student building," Hedlund said, "We would in those 10 years spend $260,000 to operate two schools. This would buy the city nothing in future value."

"Under our proposal, extra principal and interest payments in the same 10 years would be $248,000, a savings of $12,000 in cash plus a new building for all students from the start," Hedlund said.

He said that under the city proposal after 10 years the city would owe $309,000 on the 400-student building and $578,000 on a new 350-pupil addition, which will be needed then, a total of $887,000.

$421,000 Economy
 Under the proposal of the school board and citizens committee the city would owe $478,000 for the 750-pupil building, a savings of $409,000 which, coupled with the $12,000 saved in operating one school, comes to a gross economy of $421,000.

The minimum remodeling of Kimberly school, which accounts for $38,000 of the $618,000 cost named by the council, would mean only fireproofing of boiler and fan rooms and basement and first floor stairwells, remodeling toilet and shower facilities, new main electrical panels and raising stairway handrails. These are minimum industrial commission standards and were recommended only as a move to delay ultimate abandonment.

A general remodeling of the Kimberly school would cost $225,000, Hedlund said, if the 51-year-old building is to be "put in good shape."

The 12½ acre site which the school board requested for the 750-pupil building was decided upon after consultation with professional authorities, Hedlund said.

Either One Needs Land
 Hedlund noted that no land cost is mentioned in the $618,000 referendum question, but was mentioned as an additional cost to the $356,000 building. "If the land must be acquired for a 750-student building, it must also be acquired for the building that will be built for 400 students in its first stage and later enlarged," he said.

The council is known to favor the 9.4 acre site south of the Neenah High school athletic field which the city owns for the smaller building. The council has made no mention of ever enlarging this smaller building, but population projections indicate that either it must be enlarged or a new school built somewhere else to accommodate more students.

The council has not considered aloud the abandonment of Kimberly school, either, although the $38,000 budgeted for remodeling it is strictly a stop-gap measure before abandonment.

Waupaca Buys Bergstrom Land

Waupaca — The 37-acre Bergstrom Paper company property here has been purchased by the city as an industrial park.

The property was improved by the Neenah firm when it was planning on constructing a safety paper plant here. It changed its plans and moved its operation to its Neenah plant.

The purchase price was set at $7,000 after negotiations with Bergstrom by members of the city council, the Industrial Development corporation and the Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Lloyd Matheson said the paper company had in-

Release Boy, 14, Shotgun Victim, From Hospital

Oshkosh — Eugene Allen, 14, route 1, Omro, victim of a shotgun wound Monday night, was released from Mercy hospital Tuesday night.

X-rays indicated the single piece of buckshot, .32 of an inch in diameter, entered near the right hip and went in two inches and down eight inches and lodged near the bone above Allen's knee.

The boy's physician said it could have been a killing shot and that Allen was lucky it hit where it did. The doctor said he did not plan to remove the piece of metal unless infection sets in.

Allen was shot by a man believed to be Robert Wolff, 29, 437 Birch street, Omro, as he and his brother, Wright, 17, were looking for watermelons in a field west of the city shortly before 11 o'clock.

Rubbish Collection

Neenah — Non-combustible rubbish will be collected Thursday in the Eighth ward west of the Chicago and North Western railway tracks and in the First ward between Laudan boulevard and Fairview avenue.

vested about $10,000 in the site.

The company will soon close its current safety paper manufacturing operations in the city and the council has been urged to start negotiations to purchase this site as well.

Parcels of land in the industrial park will be sold to industry by the city.

Expansion Standpoint
 For future expansion of the business district, however, the Church-Franklin site may prove a better bet. It is three blocks away from Wisconsin avenue, in an area where business expansion is not likely.

The Doty-Walnut site is a block from the main street, and is one of the few areas left for expansion of the downtown district. This has been the main contention of the chamber of commerce in urging its defeat.

The chamber asked the old city council last March to put the site on the April 1 referendum, but the council refused in an 8 to 2 vote. A referendum on a $270,000 bond issue for the station that day lost by 201 votes, but aldermen on the new council said the vote was not a conclusive indication that citizens were against the site. It may have been lost on account of the price tag, some aldermen said.

In July the new council unanimously voted to put the site on an advisory referendum ballot.

It was after this move that the chamber obtained options from the three persons who own the Church - Franklin site. These options will be assigned to the city if the council requests them, the chamber has said.

Either site is agreeable to the police department, Chief Irving Stille has said.

Voters will be able to ask both Garlock and Bell questions on the two sites at Thursday's meeting, league officials have announced.

The Interim Committee of the University of Wisconsin Menasha Extension division met recently at the home of Kristeen Norseen, 1505 S. Lehman lane, Appleton, to plan fall activities including orientation week, registration and the convocation. Seated from the left are Miss Norseen, Karen Crowe and Tom Reuss while Sharon Thurk, Eugene Patterson and Carol Schmitt are in the back row.

Church Societies Name Fall Plans

Neenah — A dessert meeting of the Women's Mission society of Whiting Memorial Baptist church is scheduled for 1:30 Thursday afternoon at the church. The program, "Green Lake Highlights" will be reported by Mrs. Allan Ekvall and Mrs. Douglas Strong who attended the women's houseparty in June at the American Baptist Assembly.

New officers for the coming year are Mrs. Strong, president; Mrs. Ekvall, vice president; Mrs. Andrew Heinz, secretary, and Miss Julia Sorenson, treasurer. Hostesses for the meeting will be the officers.

Meeting at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Our Savior's Lutheran church will be the Ladies Aid society. Hostess will be Mrs. H. J. Laursen and new officers will be elected.

Committee chairman for the 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon meeting of the Ladies Aid society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will be Mrs. Merton Law. Others assisting her are Mrs. Otto Lieber, Mrs. Fred Kuchenbecker, Mrs. Roy Miller and Mrs. William Neabling.

The Ladies Aid society of Martin Luther church met Tuesday evening at the church and hostesses were Mrs. Lloyd Franz, Mrs. Robert Cass and Mrs. Gordon Bartel.

John Kerrigan and Mrs. Al Preisen.

The home of Miss Carol Peterson, 508 W. North Water street, was the setting for the Tuesday evening meeting of the Christian Service guild of the First Evangelical United Brethren church. Devotions were led by Mrs. George Thompson and the topic was spiritual life.

It was also announced that the Rev. Kenneth Krueger of Sheboygan will be the speaker at the annual fall institute Sept. 23 in Oshkosh.

Hostesses for the Tuesday evening meeting of the United Lutheran Church women at St. Timothy Lutheran church were members of the Martha circle. Mrs. E. J. Christoph led devotions and the next general meeting was planned for December.

Meeting dates for the circles were announced and the Esther circle, led by Mrs. Orville Hanson, will meet on the second Thursday; the Martha circle, led by Mrs. John Pawelkiewicz, will meet on the second Wednesday; the Lois circle, led by Mrs. William Herziger, and the Naomi circle, led by Mrs. Robert Eggert, will meet on the third Tuesday and meeting on the third Wednesday will be the Rebekah circle whose leader is Mrs. Fred Krabbe.

Beauceant Order To Have Meeting

Neenah — Plans for the supreme assembly to be held in Houston, Texas, will be made at the meeting of the Social Order of the Beauceant at 7:30 tonight at the Neenah Masonic temple.

Mrs. Edward Spoerck and Mrs. Earl Hoppe, both of Oshkosh, president and marshals respectively, will attend the conclave.

Friends Honor Betty Boehnlein

Menasha — Miss Betty Boehnlein, daughter of Mrs. Alvin Boehnlein, 136 Broad street, who will be married Sept. 20 at St. Patrick Catholic church has been the guest of honor at two recent bridal showers.

On Aug. 13 a miscellaneous shower was given at Faller's hall for 69 guests by Mrs. James Wiegand, Mrs. Vernon Rougeux, Mrs. Raymond Kramarczyk, Mrs. John Marsh and Mrs. Boehnlein.

Another miscellaneous event was held recently at the home of Mrs. Jacob Zimmer, 1039 W. Spencer street, Appleton, by Mrs. Francis Zimmer, Mrs. Paul Zimmer and Mrs. Richard Gruentzel.

About 17 guests attended and prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Will, Mrs. Alfred Kiefer, Mrs. Kenneth Bouressa and Mrs. Rougeux.

Miss Boehnlein will become the bride of Fred E. Zimmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Zimmer of Appleton.

Extra Police, 'Ham' Radio Operators Aid Sheriff's Men

Oshkosh — Winnebago county went through the Labor day weekend without a serious accident despite an extremely heavy volume of traffic on its major highways. Southbound traffic was extremely heavy on Monday, Sheriff Charles L. Lowry reported. Both Menasha and Neenah went through the weekend without a reportable accident.

The highways was the calling in on Labor day of civil defense auxiliary police and additional emergency radio units operated by the Oshkosh Amateur Radio Club. Besides the 16 county police squad cars on duty at a time, there were eight mobile emergency radio cars of the amateur radio club located along the highways plus the auxiliary police.

Town of Menasha Announces New Dumping Ground

Menasha — The new dumping grounds for the town of Menasha will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the afternoon on Wednesdays and Saturdays only, Town Chairman Oliver Jacobsen announced today. The new dumping ground for all township residents is reached by following County Trunk U south of the Outdoor theater west from Highway 41 for two miles to its intersection with County Trunk QQ and then going south on QQ to the first farm on the east side.

A factor in the safety on the highways was the calling in on Labor day of civil defense auxiliary police and additional emergency radio units operated by the Oshkosh Amateur Radio Club. Besides the 16 county police squad cars on duty at a time, there were eight mobile emergency radio cars of the amateur radio club located along the highways plus the auxiliary police.

Motorist Admits Two Violations, Denies Speeding

Oshkosh — Jacob Brewer, 23, route 4, Oshkosh, pleaded guilty of two traffic violations and innocent of a third when arraigned before Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger Tuesday.

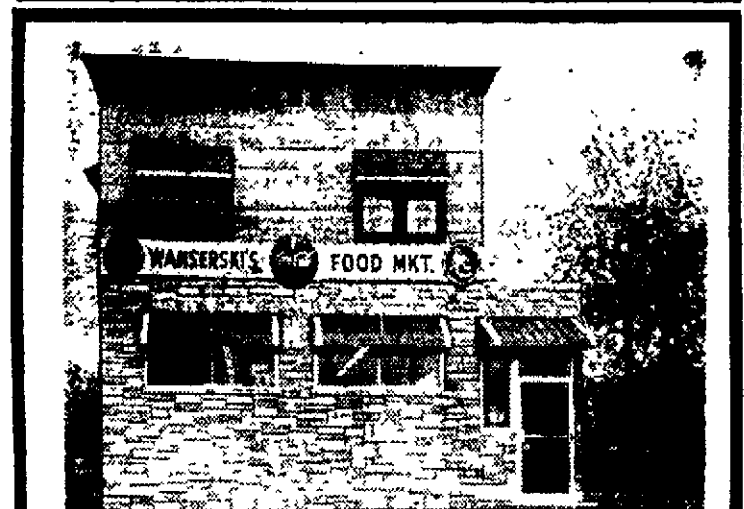

The county police radio system and the amateur radio units operate on different radio bands. Thus the emergency units cannot hear the messages to the county police officers, necessitating setting up the mobile unit. This is the first time the radio group has been used, Elmer Erickson, president of the radio club, said.

Bank Officer to Build New Home On Park Avenue

Neenah — The first new home on N. Park avenue in several decades was authorized this morning by Carlton Williams, city building inspector. The permit for the $18,000 dwelling located between 143 and 157 N. Park avenue, was issued to Leonard Larsen, contractor. The home is being built for Robert Kay, trust officer at the National Manufacturer's bank.

He admitted hit-and-run driving for which he was fined $25 and costs, and driving an unregistered vehicle, for which he was fined $10. Brewer pleaded innocent of speeding and trial was set for 1:30 this afternoon on this charge.

He was arrested after an accident at Highway 45 and County Trunk J at 7:27 Saturday night in which his car struck a utility pole, snapping it off, after skidding 102 feet. He was found later at the home of a friend.

Judge Awards Five Divorces

Neenah-Menasha, Winneconne Women Granted Decrees

Oshkosh — Five divorces have been granted by County Judge Herbert J. Mueller to residents of Neenah, Menasha and Winneconne. Cruel and inhuman treatment was charged in each case.

Carol Helmer, 21, Winneconne, was granted a divorce from Elwyn Helmer, 23, also of Winneconne. She was given custody of their three minor children and the household furniture. He is to pay the encumbrances on the furniture and also $30 a week in support money, $7 a week in alimony and the medical bills of the wife which resulted from injuries he inflicted on her. They were married in Winneconne in July of 1954 and separated May 26.

Genevieve Junion, 46, Neenah, received a divorce from Earl Junion, 43, also of Neenah, on her counter-claim although he had instituted the divorce proceedings. They were married in August of 1935 at Iron Mountain, Mich., and separated in September of last year. There are three children, one of whom is a minor, and he is to pay her $15 a week in support and $20 a week in alimony. She gets custody of the minor child and the household furniture while he keeps the car.

Divide Account
Naomi Thomack, 43, Neenah, received a divorce from Harold C. Thomack, 44, Neenah, and was granted custody of their minor child, for whom he is to pay $20 a week support. She also will get the household furniture and they will divide their checking account with Thomack paying $150 in back support and the attorney fees from his share. They were married in July of 1937 in Neenah and separated Dec. 15, 1957.

Sandra D. Emrich, 24, Menasha, was awarded a divorce from Royal S. Emrich, 27, Menasha. They were married at Dubuque, Iowa, Dec. 18, 1954, and separated June 28. She will get custody of the two minor children and he is to pay $15 a week in support money and the attorney fees. The household furniture is to be divided.

Anneliese Swietlicki, 29, Neenah, was granted a divorce from Michael Swietlicki, 45, also of Neenah. They were married in September of 1949 in Germany and separated March 1. Care and custody of their seven minor children will remain with the Neenah-Menasha Apostolate. He was awarded two pieces of real estate in Neenah and the furniture and she will get $400 and her attorney's fees.

Two Youths, 16, Penalized for Auto Offenses

Neenah — David L. Mueller, 16, 910 Seventh street, Menasha, pleaded guilty Tuesday of driving with an illegal muffler and was fined $2 and costs by police Justice Edmund P. Arpin. He was arrested at 3:10 Monday afternoon at Division and Oak streets.

Samuel R. Derdel, 16, 140 John street, lost his driver's license for 30 days when he pleaded guilty Tuesday of illegal backing.

Derdel, driving a truck, was involved in an accident with a car driven by Walter E. Parsons, 41, Fond du Lac, at 9:55 Saturday morning in front of 209 W. Wisconsin avenue. The view from the rear window of Derdel's truck was blocked with boxes as he was backing out of his parking place.

Candidate Talks at Labor Day Picnic

Oshkosh — The newly-merged Winnebago county AFL-CIO, organization staged a Labor day picnic at Oshkosh Monday with E. Leon Stamy, AFL-CIO field representative, and Ted R. Jackson, Democratic candidate for first district assemblyman, as the principal speakers.

The program also included a concert by the Oshkosh civic band, an amateur contest for prizes and games for children.

In his talk Jackson called the proposed "right-to-work" law a "blatant attempt at dictatorship" and an attempt "motivated not by need for such a law but by arrogant out-of-state meddling by the National Association of Manufacturers and the national Chamber of Commerce."

Youth Pleads Guilty Of Entering Grocery

Oshkosh — Robert H. Stevens, 18, Oshkosh, pleaded guilty Tuesday of breaking into and entering Jack's grocery on Highway 110 near here from which several guns were taken. Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger deferred judgment to 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Ballots Ready for Absentee Voters

Neenah — Absentee ballots for next Tuesday's primary election and special referendum are available now, City Clerk R. V. Hauser said this morning.

Voters who will be out of the city on election day may vote in the city clerk's office at any time until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Those who wish ballots mailed to them may make application up to Friday, which is the last day they will be mailed. They must be returned by Tuesday.

16 Students Begin 1-Year Nurse Course

Neenah — A class of 16 students started a 1-year course in practical nursing at Theda Clark hospital Tuesday. The course is sponsored by the Menasha and Neenah vocational and adult schools.

Miss Florence Rathmann, R. N., teacher coordinator, announced registrations are being taken for a class which will begin in March. A class of 13 students will graduate in March.

Miss Rathmann and Miss Ruth Hopper, R.N., clinical instructor, recently completed a one week philosophy institute presented by the staff of the state board of vocational and adult education at the Madison School of Vocational and Adult Education.

Complaints of Damage

Oshkosh — Raymond Ohm, 437 S. Lake street, Neenah, reported to the sheriff's office Monday afternoon that persons have been damaging his woodlot on County Trunk QQ by cutting trees, dumping garbage and having beer parties.

will begin in March. A class of 13 students will graduate in March.

Grange Units to Elect Officers At Allenville

Allenville — Election of officers will take place at the Allenville Subordinate and Junior Grange meetings at 8:30 Friday evening at the hall here.

A back-to-Sunday School breakfast will be held at Community Baptist church at 9:30 Sunday morning as the church resumes its fall schedule. The church worship service will be at 10:45 in the morning.

Marvin Reitz has returned to Milwaukee where he is employed by an accounting firm. He recently completed six months of army reserve training.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Angell attended the Minnesota State fair last week and also took a trip into the Dakotas. Mrs. Sidney Smith and grandson, Phillip Bremer, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Christoph at the latter's cottage at Waupaca.

Straw Catches Fire

Oshkosh — The Neenah-Menasha township joint fire department was called to the Carlton Hoppe farm, route 2, Neenah, at 1:47 Sunday afternoon when a large pile of baled straw caught fire.

Andersen Named NNYC Champion; Gets 8 Trophies

Margaret Baldwin Receives Palmer Miss Skipper Award

Neenah — Ivaux Andersen, Jr., was awarded eight trophies, including the F. B. Whiting trophy, symbolic of the club championship, at the annual dinner meeting of the Neenah-Nodaway Yacht club Tuesday evening at the Valley Inn.

Other awards accumulated by the class D skipper included the C. H. Sage trophy for ILYA participation; H. W. Bennett windward-leeward trophy for D scows (awarded for the first time this year); J. C. Kimberly D scow fleet championship trophy; W. R. Kellett Fourth of July trophy for D scows; NNYC D scow tuneup; J. C. Kimberly commodore series and J. S. Sensenbrenner championship series.

Share Trophy
Both he and Kathy Hedlund garnered a first and a third in racing for the Mrs. Cola Parker Labor day trophy for D scows and they will share it, each keeping the award for six months.

The H. B. Palmer trophy for Miss Skipper went to Margaret Baldwin, an X boat skipper. She received five other trophies including the H. A. DuBois X fleet championship, Mrs. R. H. Spoor, Fourth of July trophy for X boats, A. C. Gilbert, three-fourth of July trophy, J. S. Sensenbrenner championship series trophy and NNYC trophy for placing second in the commodore series.

The W. M. Wright sportsmanship trophy went to Ted Perry, retiring rear commodore. Jim Hedlund got the A. K. Kimberly award for most persistent skipper and John Becker was awarded the E. J. Bergstrom trophy for crew of the year.

Woerner Trophy
The Gus Woerner Memorial trophy for X's went to Jim Hedlund.

Other winners of special trophies included Eric Isakson, A. C. Gilbert perpetual challenge for E boats; Robert Briggs, J. K. Kimberly lightning fleet championship, and Tim Catlin, Maid of Nine trophy for E boats.

"Chuck" Nevitt of the Oshkosh Yacht club presented the "Sail of Two Cities" trophy to Isakson. The trophy was made by Nevitt and is decided in a series of four races between the E sailors from Nodaway and Oshkosh clubs.

Holiday trophies went to John Snyder, Dr. H. C. Schultz Memorial Day trophy for lightnings; Pete Hardeen, Finette Roller Fourth of July trophy for lightnings; Bob Vogt, Mrs. R. H. Spoor, Fourth of July trophy for X boats; Isakson, Mrs. Ernst Mahler three-course Fourth of July E trophy; Steve DenDooven, Mrs. Cola Parker Labor Day trophy for X boats and Hardeen, Don Schultz Labor Day trophy for lightnings.

Tuneup Series
Labor Day trophies which weren't awarded included Mimi Mory trophy for X boats, R. K. Neler challenge bell for lightnings and Joe Sensenbrenner boom and sail gaboon for E boats.

Tuneup series winners included Eric Bergstrom, E scows; Snyder, lightnings; Bill Bayley, club division of X fleet, and DenDooven, Genoa division of X fleet.

Other commodore series trophy winners included W. R. Kellett, A scows; Isakson, A. C. Gilbert E scow, Frank Grundman, J. A. Kimberly, Jr., E scow runnerup; John Kirchgeorg, A. K. Kimberly D scow runnerup; Pete Hardeen, NNYC lightning, Bill Galligan, R. H. Spoor lightning runnerup; Terry Roberts, J. A. Kimberly, Jr., club division; DenDooven, J. R. Kimberly, Genoa and Vogt, J. H. Kimberly, Genoa runnerup.

New Trophy
Among the trophy winners in the championship series were Isakson, Mowry Smith E scow; Catlin, NNYC E scow runnerup; Kathy Hedlund, NNYC D scow runnerup; Briggs, NNYC lightning; J. C. Kimberly, club division runnerup; DenDooven, Mrs. Ernst Mahler Genoa division, and Mollie Harker, NNYC Genoa division runnerup.

It was announced that in the future a new trophy will be awarded for A boats. It will be known as the John S. Sensenbrenner perpetual trophy.

Perry reported that despite bad weather 25 races were held this summer.

It was pointed out that there will be no Genoa jibs next year but some arrangement will be made for those over 15 years old in the X fleet.

Also discussed were the possibility of holding a D scow invitational regatta here next year, a sailing school and a possible Olympic course.

South Side League Schedules Meeting
Neenah — Captains and bowlers in the Neenah South Side Men's Bowling league will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening at Lakewood Lanes.

The league will open its season at 9 o'clock Thursday night, Sept. 11.

Neenah's First Grid Foe Lists Eight Veterans

King Passes Up Season; Spring High Back Transfers

Fond du Lac — Fond du Lac High school, which opens its schedule with a non-conference game against Neenah here Sept. 12, has a 55-man squad including eight lettermen.

The Cardinals got their first test from outside competition last Saturday morning in a scrimmage against Port Washington.

Veteran players include Timm Hurst, Dick Sturm and Mike McLain, backs, and line men Darrell McArthur, Darwin Rose, Dave Krebsbach, Bob Ferdinand and Al White.

Two other lettermen are still in school but will not be on the roster. They are Hub King, quarterback, and Chico Hernandez, a guard. King, who would be the regular signal caller, has been mentioned for a baseball bonus of some $50,000 to $100,000 and baseball scouts have advised him to pass up football. Hernandez has exceeded the age limit.

Sophomore Crop
The Cardinals have picked up another player who can be classed as a veteran. He is Pete Velasco, a junior, who starred a halfback for Fond du Lac Springs last season.

In addition, the Fondy squad has a fine crop of sophomore prospects. The Roosevelt Junior High school team was unbeaten last year and dealt a good Menasha St. Mary yearling squad its lone defeat.

Joe Capicik, Fond du Lac head coach, is assisted by "Swede" Smedberg and Fritz Lautenschlager. Gerry Pollei handles the jayvees.

Bob Kimberly Again to Head Nodaway Club

Neenah — John R. "Bob" Kimberly, Jr., was reelected commodore of the Neenah Nodaway Yacht club by the club's directors following the annual meeting Tuesday night at the Valley Inn.

Other officers are Eric Isakson, vice commodore; Eric Bergstrom, rear commodore; Carl Marty, secretary, and Robert Briggs, treasurer. Retiring officers include Hank Bennett, vice commodore, and Ted Perry, rear commodore. The other officers were reelected.

Kimberly, Frank Grundman and Briggs were reelected to board of directors. Briggs was appointed last year to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Walter Roller.

Isakson will be Nodaway's delegate to the ILYA meeting at Milwaukee later this month. Kimberly is the alternate.

The Neenah Nodaway Yacht Club brought an end to its 1958 sailing season with the annual dinner and award presentation at the Valley Inn Tuesday night. Margaret Baldwin, who received the Miss Skipper trophy and five others, is shown receiving an award from Bob Kimberly, NNYC commodore, in the top panel. The "Sail of Two Cities" is presented to Eric Isakson, left, NNYC E scow skipper, by "Chuck" Nevitt of the Oshkosh Yacht club in the lower panel. The trophy, which was made by Nevitt, is raced for by the E fleets of the Oshkosh and Neenah clubs.

Quarterbacks Schedule 1st 1958 Session

Neenah — The initial 1958 meeting of the Neenah Quarterback club will be held at 7:30 next Monday evening at the Whiting boathouse, Laurance Kitchen, club president, announced today.

Officers will be elected at a meeting of directors preceding the general meeting. Coach Marlon Batterman and his assistants will be on hand to discuss the 1958 season, which opens Sept. 12 at Fond du Lac. Kitchen reported that each director will bring one or more guests as possible club members or candidates for election.

Set Bergstrom Golf Jamboree

Neenah — The annual Bergstrom Paper company golf jamboree will be held Thursday afternoon at Ridgeway. About 40 golfers are expected to tee off after work between 3:30 and 4:30.

At the dinner following the

Zephyrs Prepare for Weekend Grid Opener

Menasha — With only three more practices left before the opening game, Coach Vince Ste. Marie put his St. Mary High school gridders through a rugged intrasquad scrimmage at the Sixth street field Tuesday afternoon.

The Zephyrs open a stiff eight-game schedule here Saturday night against Don Bosco of Milwaukee. The Menashans were scheduled to scrimmage Oshkosh High school Tuesday afternoon but it was called off.

The Zephyr first string moved the ball well against a second group composed mainly of sophomores and the starters also did well on defense.

The first group included Bob VandenHeuvel and Joe Rechner at ends; Fran Vois-

Better Depth
All are lettermen except Peterson, who is a sophomore. George Walbrun also saw action in the backfield and ran well as did Brown and Balthazor. The latter did exceptionally well on defense and should be one of the better linebackers in the area this fall.

Because of the fine sophomore crop and non-lettermen from last year's squad, the Zephyr club should have much better depth than a year ago. If a starter is hurt Ste. Marie has some promising boys who can fill in and do a creditable job.

The injury list, which kept growing during the first two weeks of practice, is gradually dwindling and the only boys missing from Tuesday's drill were a couple who suffered broken bones and probably will be out for the season.

Rich O'Brien Plays Par Golf In Final Match

Shoots Fine 68 Round in 1st 18 Of Jaycee Meet

Neenah — Champion Rich O'Brien played par golf for 25 holes and runnerup and defending champion Jim McDonald was three over par in their match for the Twin City Amateur golf tournament championship at the Bridge-wood course last weekend.

O'Brien, who won the match 2 and 1, picked up birdies on the second, third, ninth, fifteenth, sixteenth and eighteenth holes while McDonald birdied the third, eighth, twelfth, and fourteenth.

At the end of the first 18, O'Brien had a nifty 68 on a pair of 34s and McDonald had a respectable 73 on rounds of 36 and 37.

Leads 3 Up
O'Brien took a 1 up lead by getting a birdie on the second hole and he didn't relinquish the advantage the rest of the way. The winner led 2 up at the end of four holes and 3 up after five.

After halving the sixth, McDonald cut the lead to 1 up by winning the seventh and eighth. O'Brien went 3 up at the end of 10. McDonald capped the twelfth and fourteenth to shave the lead to 1 up again but O'Brien came back strong with 45 and 25 putts on Nos. 15 and 16 respectively to go 3 up. He later sunk another 25 footer to go 4 up at the end of the first 18.

Takes 5 Up Edge
On the first hole of the second 18, O'Brien went 5 up and he led 3 up at the close of the first 27. McDonald won Nos. 10 and 11 to shave the lead to 1 up but O'Brien won the twelfth and they halved the next two.

The lead went down to 1 up again as the defending champion won the fifteenth but O'Brien took No. 16 to lead by two with two left. O'Brien parred the seventeenth and McDonald needed a birdie to win but didn't get it and the match was over.

O'Brien, a former resident of Cincinnati, held the city championship in that city for five years. McDonald is a former University of Wisconsin player.

Award will be presented to all flight winners at a Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner next Monday night at the Valley Inn. Other flight victors were Bob Geiger, A flight; Bob Miller, B flight, and Jim Sund, C flight.

Marathon Softball League at Jefferson park tonight.

Office, runnerup to unbeaten Industrial Relations with a 4-2 record, faces Neenah Plant at 7 o'clock. Carton Press and Central Shipping are scheduled to meet in the opener at 5:30.

5 Twin City Pin Leagues to Open 1958-59 Slates

Menasha — Bowling leagues are scheduled to see action at three of the Twin City's four pin establishments this evening.

Opening their schedules at Mid-Town will be the Uptown Commercial league at 7 o'clock and the Business Men's at 9 o'clock. Both have 10 teams.

The Catholic Men's circuit will roll at 7 o'clock at Menasha Recreation but next week will revert to its regular Monday night schedule. The Wednesday Night Ladies league will roll at 9 o'clock tonight.

The first league to see action at Lakewood Lanes will be the eight-team Sports-men's wheel at 9 o'clock tonight.

Two Deadlock For Honors in Midget Loop

Lehl, Rasmussen Post 514 Marks; Denney Runnerup

Neenah — The champion Ward 2 and 6 team had the two top hitters in the Neenah Midget Softball league according to the unofficial averages.

Phil Lehl and Bruce Rasmussen of the unbeaten titlists tied for first place with .514 marks. Rasmussen had 10 hits in 37 tries and Lehl made 18 safeties in 35 attempts.

Third place in the unofficial averages went to Tom Denney of Wards 1 and 9 with a .483 mark on 14 for 29.

Third place in the unofficial averages went to Tom Denney of Wards 1 and 9 with a .483 mark on 14 for 29.

Other leaders include Gary Losse, Wards 2 and 6, .476 on 20 for 42; Mike Milliken, Wards 2 and 6, .471 on 16 for 34; Jim Olson, Wards 8 and 10, .463 on 19 for 41; Dick Kitchell, Wards 8 and 10, .440 on 11 for 25; Bill Tingley, Wards 4 and 7, .422 on 19 for 45; Lyle Gast, Wards 4 and 7, .407 on 11 for 27; Pat Hassler, Wards 4 and 7, .400 on 18 for 45; and John Kidrna, Wards 2 and 6, .393 on 11 for 28.

Players who were at the plate 25 times or more were included in the statistics. Among those who were just under the minimum were three Ward 2-6 players. Jim Bellin had .571 on 12 for 21, Ricky Moen, .500 on 12 for 24 and Dave Wollerman .500 on 11 for 22.

Neighbor Who Wears 'Flimsies' Chilled by Mom's 'Deep Freeze'

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: What should I do about the next-door neighbor who is chasing my husband?

When he leaves for work in the morning this neighbor is always at her trash can which is next to our garage. She has a selection of housecoats and bathrobes that belong in a burlesque Ann Landers show.

I've seen her out there wearing a chiffon get-up when it's so cold the water froze in the dog pan.

When my husband comes home from work she's always on her front porch in a slip—sweeping the porch. If I'm in the doorway he acts as if he doesn't see her. But when I'm out of sight he waves and gives her a great big smile. We've been married 25 years and have grown children. Shall I tell her to stay in the house where she belongs—or read the riot act to my husband?—L.C.

My advice to you is to stay in your own house where you belong.

Don't read the riot act to him or tell her off; you'll only drive them together in an attempt to defend themselves. Accentuate the positive, Madame, and you will eliminate the negative.

DEAR ANN: I'm 18 and a freshman in college. My mother asked me to write to you in the name of our entire family. Something has happened which I think is terribly amusing. They are all shocked and bitter.

My mother's aunt was always considered a little "odd." She lived in a big house, had three servants and a Pekinese dog. Her husband died young and left her well provided for.

relatives to visit her but no one bothered to go as I recall, because it was "a long drive," and "she talked about the past all the time." In brief, the family ignored this "wacky old lady."

Two weeks ago she died and left a pile of money to a hospital, her three servants and the Pekinese dog. Mother said the dog will eat better from now on than we will.

They have no intention of suing the estate, but mother wants to know what you think of this.—BETSY

I think the old lady wasn't as wacky as they thought. Tell your relatives that perhaps they ought to chum up to the servants and the dog. Maybe they will remember them in their wills.

DEAR ANN: I eloped at 17 and my marriage turned out exactly as my father predicted—rotten. The only thing good that came out of it is my two little boys.

I'm a nervous wreck. If I continue to live with this maniac I'll wind up in a mental ward. I haven't had a night's sleep in three months. He frequently threatens to kill me and every night I fear that I may not live to see morning.

I left him once and went home, but my father screamed at me continuously ("I told you so!"), and the neighbors got in on a free show every night. I couldn't take it, so I went back to my husband for more abuse.

Which is worse, to live with a beast of a husband or a cruel father? Help me, please.—JANE E.

Why do you feel you must choose between two punishing situations when there are other alternatives open to you?

Not every woman who leaves her husband goes home to papa.

This man sounds dangerous and you should not live with him. Suggest that he get professional help and tell him to send the support checks in the mail. Perhaps you could make your home with another woman who would care for your boys during the day while you work. There are numerous possibilities. Call the family service bureau and they will help you. Good luck.

Designing Woman

A Slipcover Instead of a New Finish

No new finish will make a clumsy table graceful, but a cushion and a slipcover hideaway for it might turn it into a handsome bench. This idea is suggested to answer a question for Mrs. V. S., who writes, "I like to refinish furniture, but wonder if I wouldn't be wasting my time on an awkward, heavy-topped table we have. What do you think of painting it a dull black instead? If I can improve it enough, one way or the other, it might do as the seat we need near the front door."

Your talents at refinishing should be used on furniture that deserves it more, Mrs. S., and painting the table black would make it look heavier and more awkward than ever unless it's to fade into a very dark wall. But the cushion you'd want for the hall seat could be added to by a heavy upholstery fabric slipcover like this that conceals the table completely, and has a look of comfort and luxury. Attach tapes to the backs of the kick pleats to tie under the table, to help keep the slipcover in place.

Pair Exchanges Rings In Catholic Ceremony

Mrs. Van Der Burg

Miss Ethel Vande Hey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement J. Vande Hey, 614 Lincoln avenue, Kaukauna, and James J. Van Der Burg exchanged wedding rings in a ceremony at 9 o'clock Monday morning at Holy Cross Catholic church, Kaukauna.

The Rev. Andrew Quella officiated at the nuptial low mass. Mass acolytes were three cousins of the bride, Cletus Nelessen, Kimberly, James and Kenneth Vande Hey, Kaukauna, and Willard Verbrick, Little Chute.

The bride, who was escorted down the aisle by her father, chose Miss Joanne Vande Hey, her sister, Kaukauna, as maid of honor. Sisters of the bridegroom, Julia and Zenah Van Der Burg, Little Chute, were bridesmaids, as was Mrs. Robert Weyenberg, Appleton. Rosanne Van Lanen, Little Chute, cousin of the bride, was miniature bride.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Van Der Burg, 725 N. Monroe street, Little Chute, had his brother, Adrian Van Der Burg, Little Chute, as best man. Grooms-men were cousin of the bridegroom, Donald Van Der that will not make the room, Burgt, Little Chute, and cousin of the bride, Eugene Van Lanen, Kaukauna.

Ushers were William Ebbesen, Little Chute, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mr. Weyenberg. Soloist was Miss Janet Brem and organist was Mrs. Paul Nagan.

A dinner was held at the Maynor, Little Chute, and a supper, reception and dance honored the newlyweds at the American Legion hall, Wrightstown.

The couple will reside at 1502 N. Appleton street, after a northern Wisconsin wedding trip.

The bride, a graduate of opment house is comparatively small. We would like to furnish it in Early American style, but feel that the large pieces of furniture would fill the room and make it look smaller. Will you suggest types and sizes of furniture and a pleasing arrangement that will not make the room look crowded? We would like to seat six in the dining area and include some kind of buffet with a hutch for the storage of linen, silver and trays and the display of a Meissen collection."

Early American is a good style for small rooms because it has a naturally light look and the pieces come in a wide variety of small sizes. However, you must be exact in working out your plan to prevent crowding, and this means taking your accurately drawn floor plan to the store, measuring the furniture you like and trying it on the floor plan to see how much and what sizes will fit the room before you buy. My Furniture Arrangement Kit was devised to simplify matters—it includes floor plan paper and 126 cut-outs corresponding to actual furniture and in scale with the ruled paper. It's yours for 50 cents sent with your request to me at this newspaper.

Mrs. W. J. "I'd like to use matchstick draperies on a large window in our dining room, but I'm afraid they can be seen through too plainly. Could I line them, or should I decide on something else?"

The stores can show you matchstick draperies that need no lining. A facing and filling applied directly to the woven matchstick makes them opaque, and easier to open and close than the other kind with linings.

Preparations Starting for Waupaca Fair

Weyauwega — A hushed, deserted fairgrounds began to live up Tuesday as race drivers brought their trotters and pacers to the Weyauwega fairgrounds for the 85th annual Waupaca county fair which will open Tuesday.

Truck loads of equipment began to move in to transform the midway from a series of lonely red markers staking off the concession stands and rides to a lively fairgrounds.

With an eye to the future beauty of the grounds young maple trees have been planted on the land near the grandstand.

One of the most exciting aspects of the fair as far as the youngsters are concerned is the unfolding of the midway. Many will be late for supper as he watches the ferris wheel, merry-go-round, Tilt-a-Whirl and numerous other rides made ready.

The exhibit buildings will hum with activity Thursday as produce, fancywork and cattle are judged.

Judging will begin early Friday and continue throughout the fair.

Mary Lee Griesbach Wed To J. P. Vander Zanden

St. Joseph Catholic church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Mary Lee Griesbach and Joseph Peter Vander Zanden who repeated wedding vows at 10 o'clock Monday morning. The Rev. Camillus Doerfler, OFM, Cap., officiated.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Griesbach, 209 N. Mason street, and the son of Mrs. Minnie Vander Zanden, 409 E. Park avenue, Little Chute, were united in a double ring ceremony preceding a nuptial mass.

The bride and her father were preceded down the aisle by Mrs. Eugene Van Boogard, Appleton, matron of honor, and Miss Nancy Griesbach, Appleton, cousin of the bride, bridesmaid.

Thomas Griesbach, Milwaukee, brother of the bride, attended as best man, and George Athas, Detroit, Mich., was groomsmen. Ushers were Richard Griesbach, Appleton, brother of the bride, and Melvin Van Zeeland, Appleton.

A noon dinner was held at the Columbus club, which was the site of a reception in the afternoon.

After a northern Wisconsin and Michigan honeymoon, the newlyweds will reside at 1137 1/2 W. Packard street.

The bride is a graduate of Appleton High school and is employed as a secretary at Laydwell Floors, Appleton.

The bridegroom is a graduate of St. John High school, Little Chute, and will begin his junior year at St. Norbert college, West Deperre, in the fall. He served two years in the service, stationed in Japan.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Edward Elandt as matron of honor, the Misses Beverly Mortensen and Shirley Stanislowski as bridesmaids.

Edward Elandt was his brother's best man while Richard Yenschesky and James Mortensen served as groomsmen. Ushers were William May and Lyle Mork.

A wedding dinner was held Saturday morning at Marion city hall, with a reception there from 7:30 to 11:30 in the evening.

Both the Elandts are graduates of Marion High school. Mr. Elandt is employed at the Four Wheel Drive Auto company, Clintonville, and Mrs. Elandt formerly worked in Milwaukee.

The Rev. James T. Jacobs performed the double ring ceremony. The children's choir sang the nuptial high mass, accompanied by Mrs. Regina Daley.

Pick Horse Show Winners

Several hundred spectators gathered at the Outagamie County fairgrounds, Seymour, Sunday afternoon to view the horse show sponsored by the Tri-County Saddle association. About 70 horses from all over the state were entered in various classes and contests featured on the afternoon program.

All judging was done by Rodney Olt, Oshkosh. The judging of halter horses took place in the morning. After lunch the horses made their grand entry into the show ring. Judging of horses entered in the pony, pleasure, stock, parade and walking horse classes took place.

Winning horses in the English pleasure class were owned by Sandy Schmallerberg, Navarino; Sue Hansen, Oshkosh; James Winters, Oshkosh; Mary Everson and Janice Koehler, Green Bay. Horses owned by Audrey Vanden Heuvel, Melvin Hendricks, Pulaski; Robert White, and Linda Deimel, Navarino, won in the pony parade class.

Entries of Mary Kadletz, Shawano, Sandy Schmallerberg, Charlotte Mueller, Green Bay, Mary Severson and Darlene Morrow received honors in the ladies western pleasure class. The horses of Mary Kadletz, Mary Everson, John Morrow, Jr., Bonduel, Walter Krueger and James De Groat, Green Bay, won in the quarter horse stock class.

In the pony halter class, 42 inches and under, horses owned by Rosemary Rueden, Audrey Vanden Huevel, Joanne Frank, and Frank Vanden Heuvel, Seymour, won honors. Honors went to horses in the pony halter class, 56 inches and under, owned by Andrew Rueden, Seymour, and Janet Morrow. In the mare and colt classes blue ribbons went to the horses of Audrey Vanden Heuvel and Joanne Frank.

Other Winners

The open parade class honors went to horses owned by Mrs. Marion Lubeke, Oshkosh; Sharon Daenen, Darlene Morrow, Cathy Deimel and Karen Van Handel. Horses entered in the amateur western pleasure class owned by Sharon Daenen, Charlotte Mueller, Alice Kadletz, Shawano, Joyce Mueller, Seymour, and Nancy Straubel received prizes.

The horses of Richard Schuster, William Schuster, Douglas Patton, Mary Kadletz and Kathy Hackl had honors in the handy horse class. Mrs. Allan Miller's horse, Seymour, and Janet Koehler's horse were first and second in the open walking horse class.

Who Is Fairest?

Miss America Contestants Begin Annual Competition for Crown

Atlantic City, N.J., (AP)—Fifty-two of the fairest girls in the nation begin competing today to determine which is the fairest of them all.

The girls, all entered in the Miss America pageant, will spend today, tomorrow and Friday in preliminary evening gown, swimsuit and talent contests. The new Miss America will be crowned Saturday before a nationwide television audience (CBS).

The public had a chance to do its own judging last night when a glittering parade of the contestants rolled down this city's famed boardwalk to formally open the pageant.

Thousands of spectators sat on bleachers, in rolling chairs and stood on peach baskets as 39 illuminated floats passed by to the music of 24 bands.

Fifteen contestants rode on specially built floats while the rest sat atop custom made convertibles.

Miss Alabama First
 Heading the paraders was singer Patti Page, who acted as grand marshal, followed by the current Miss America, Marilyn Van Derbur of Denver, Colo., and her court of honor.

The first contestant in line was Miss Alabama, raven-haired Lee Thornberry of Birmingham. The others from 45 states, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, New York City, Chicago and Washington, D.C., followed in alphabetical order.

The parade finished with a smiling Miss Wisconsin, Kay Ross of West Allis.

The Pennsylvania float, with Rosalie E. Samley of Bethlehem aboard, won first prize for floats from visiting states. It was sponsored by the service clubs and chamber of commerce of Bethlehem and had as its motif "Bethlehem, the Christmas City." Runnersup were Georgia, Alaska, Arkansas and Ohio.

Leave Summer Cottage in Top Condition for Spring Reopening

One of the saddest days of the year is the one when you close the summer cottage for the last time until next spring.

However, you can ease the pain some by making sure that everything possible is done to leave the place in good shape for the next season.

Here are some helpful hints for 'buttoning up' for the long winter:

1. Air bedding in the sunshine before storing. This will keep it fresh longer and minimize dampness. Store bedding in closets or tightly fitting trunks. Spray with a moth proof.
2. Clean and wax refrigerators and stoves. Leave door of refrigerator slightly open. The air will keep it fresh.
3. Dispose of all foods, particularly liquids. If the liquids are in cans they will freeze during the winter and be inedible; if in glasses they will burst.
4. Cut off all water and drain water out of pipes.
5. Remove screens, wax the edges of the frames and store. Shutters and board all windows and doors.

6. Cover chimneys to keep out squirrels and birds and close all dampers in stoves and fireplaces.

Do Waxing Job
7. Before you store garden and outdoor furniture, give them a coat of wax. Wax painted or enameled furniture. This fills up the pores and unevenness in the film of paint, providing a smooth dry surface to which dirt will not stick.

8. Wax boots, bathing caps, baseball gloves and other leather and rubber articles being left behind; also fishing tackle, golf clubs, paddles, etc.
9. Line closets with wire mesh to make them mouse proof.
10. Disconnect electricity and gas.
11. Lock the front door.

Town Receives $21,427 Check

A check for $21,427.68, second payment on Grand Chute's 1956 state income tax share, was received by the town board Tuesday night.

The check brings to $38,154.02 the town's total share of state tax collections. This year's total is $6,276 more than the $31,878 received in 1957.

The board also received a highway aid check of $4,230, bringing total aid for the year to $8,104.

Constable Russell Neubert asked the board to install a stop sign at the corner of Mayflower drive and W. Spencer street.

The board will meet again Thursday night to discuss further renaming of grand Chute streets.

Protest Cost Of Two City Street Jobs

Protests against two city street projects are expected from property owners during public hearings at tonight's common council meeting.

Petitions have been filed by eight property owners against paving of N. Oneida street from E. Lindbergh to Highway 41 and by six property owners objecting to widening of N. Lawe street from E. Summer north to E. Wisconsin avenue.

Theodore Vonck, 519 W. Spring street, said property owners were objecting to using concrete on N. Oneida because of its high cost. He said they had been told concrete would cost only slightly more than blacktop, but that this hasn't been shown "in black and white."

If the cost of concrete is only slightly more than blacktop, Vonck said he thought the property owners would favor it.

E. T. Boldon, district manager of Standard Oil company, submitted a letter in which he said he understood all of N. Lawe street was to be widened next year and that the cost would be borne by the county. For this reason, he objected to widening the street this year at expense of the taxpayers. This is a standard station at the corner of N. Lawe and E. Wisconsin.

Assessments for concrete paving on N. Oneida have been set at $9.11 per front foot for commercial property and at $5.72 per foot for residential. On a portion of the street that already has curb and gutter the residential assessment would be $4.72. Widening of N. Lawe has been assessed at $4.38 per foot for commercial and $2 for residential property.

John Hayes to Sit on Board Of Cancer Society

John M. Hayes, 405 E. Roosevelt street, active in the Outagamie county unit of the American Cancer society for several years, has been appointed to the state board of the society's Wisconsin division. He will serve on the state executive committee.

Hayes has served as industrial chairman in the Outagamie county Cancer Crusade and now is chairman of the local board.

He also has been active in Appleton business and civic affairs for many years.

Sentence Appleton Man To 30 Days in Jail

Oshkosh—Clifford Beachard, 21, 733 W. Spencer street, Appleton, was sentenced to 30 days in the Winnebago county jail on an assault and battery charge by Circuit Judge Helmut F. Arps Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Arps took into consideration the defendant's six weeks in custody when he was unable to furnish $1,500 bond. Beachard was originally charged with assault with intent to rape. The charge later was reduced to assault and battery to which he pleaded guilty last week.

EUB Congregation Will Begin Fall Activities

The fall program of church activities will be presented to the congregation of Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren church at 7 o'clock tonight by the Rev. F. C. Schlueter, pastor. A meeting of the church council will be held afterward.

Beginning Sunday the church will go back to its regular fall and winter schedule with worship at 9:15, church school at 10:30 in the morning and youth fellowship at 7 o'clock in the evening each Sunday.

Shoplifter Caught

A 14-year-old boy Tuesday was caught stealing $3.48 worth of pens at the Woolworth store, 106 E. College avenue. He was reprimanded by police and turned over to his parents.

Five Injured In 2-Auto Crash Tuesday

Three Children Under 5 Years Most Seriously Hurt

Five persons were hospitalized Tuesday evening after a 2-car crash at Mayflower and Spencer roads, two miles west of Highway 41.

Most seriously hurt were three children, all under 5 years old, riding with their mother, Mrs. Vivian Plamann, 26, 1819 N. Mason street. She received cuts and bruises.

The children are Michael, 4, who received a possible fractured skull; Mark, 3, cuts on the head and a possible broken collar bone, and Gregory, 2, cuts and bruises on the head.

Mrs. Plamann's car was struck in the center of the right side by a car driven by Simon Freiburger, 37, route 1, Appleton, who received head and leg cuts.

Didn't See Car
Freiburger, westbound on Spencer road, told county police he didn't see Mrs. Plamann's car, northbound on Mayflower road.

The injured were taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by Larry's Ambulance service. County Policeman Calvin Spice accompanied Michael, holding a stick in the boy's mouth so he could breathe. Spice was assisted by County Policeman Russell Bowers. A physician said the action probably saved the boy's life.

Francis J. Courchane, 64, Green Bay, escaped injury about 6 o'clock Tuesday night when he fought off a bee in his car and the vehicle left the road hitting two culverts and a fence.

County police said Courchane drove about one-half mile after first leaving the road along County Trunk BB, about one-quarter of a mile east of Isaar.

Water Department Personnel Authorized To Attend Convention

The Appleton water commission Tuesday authorized commission members, the water plant superintendent, the distribution superintendent and the assistant secretary to attend the state meeting of the American Water Works association Sept. 17, 18 and 19 in Wausau at department expense.

Commissioners R. D. DeLand, Peter DeLain and Asst. Secy. Arthur Dimick were named to a committee to study purchase of a new check protector.

Other business consisted of approving payroll and department bills.

Americanos Take First At Janesville

Appleton's American Legion sponsored drum and bugle corps, the Americanos, won first place in the annual Parade of Champions at Janesville.

The Appleton boys scored 79.4 points out of a possible 100 at the seventh annual event. This is the first time they won this competition.

The win came despite several handicaps.

For a month now, the Americanos have been practicing on their own, without a leader. Director Austin Cotton was out of the state and to make the competition had to drive for hours to be in town to leave at 6:30 Monday morning with his boys. Twenty of the Americanos spent Saturday and Sunday in Chicago where they were busy per-

Starved Baby's Father to Face Neglect Trial

Wausau — Robert Karl, 31, Clintonville, was bound over to the October-November term of the circuit court and held under $500 bond at a preliminary hearing before Justice forming for the national American Legion convention. They, too, drove long and hard, without sleep, to join their fellow contestants in Janesville.

But they all made it in time for their first real official practice early Monday morning in Janesville. They went into open field competition that night against nine other drum and bugle corps at the high school stadium. In between times, they marched in the 2-hour parade.

of the Peace George Whalen this morning.
Karl is charged with neglect in the death by starvation of his 10-month-old son.
His attorney claimed the state had not established that the child had died of malnutrition and Dr. William Arnold, Clintonville, the attending physician and acting deputy coroner, testified that no autopsy had been performed and his diagnosis had been based on the emaciated condition of the child.

Ald. Lloyd Zaddock, Clintonville, testified the city had provided relief to the Karl family from January to March of this year and that the family was returned to the relief rolls after the child died and Karl was arrested.

Karl was working part time as a canning factory and construction job worker since being laid off from the Four Wheel Drive company as welder, June 19.

A Lovelier You
By Mary Sue Miller

Hair Fashion

Shades of Madame Recamier is easy: just adapt it to your limitations. If your hair is of the newest hair-style. Curl-ed around the face and pouf-ed atop the head, this style made of Madame the most celebrated beauty of her time. Let's see what it will do for the les girls of today.

First off, you need a slender face and luxuriant locks before you can manage a true Recamier "do." With those assets among your stores, you should not hesitate to have a go at the style. An increase in loveliness is in it. Instantly!

But what if you are among the have-nots and yet crave the style? Well, the answer is easy: just adapt it to your limitations. If your hair is very short, for example, it can be brushed up from the back so as to fluff on the crown; around your face, flattering adaption comes from a high wave above the forehead, up-turned fringes over one ear and all the rest slickly drawn up into a top-knot.

Devotees of a convertible hair-do will find their solution in a pin-on topknot of real or synthetic hair. That way, you can have a simple "do" by day, a Recamier by dark.

And there's a switch the style's originator never dreamed of!

Basic Russian Principles Call for Constant Warfare, Says Sokolsky

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

New York — Soviet Russia possesses the particular advantage that all its territory is contiguous, that all its satellites are contiguous except Nasser's U.A.R. and Indonesia. Therefore it is possible for Soviet Russia to swing from one military activity to another like a shuttlecock. No oceans need be crossed. No enemy territory need be crossed.

To grasp the significance of this fact, it is necessary first to understand the unity of the Soviet universal state. There is no such political entity as Russia, China, Poland, Uzbekistan, etc. It is all one, governed in its major essentials by an elite of which such men as Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung form an oligarchical master class within a universal communist party.

No matter how this group changes, its basic principles remain the same, those laid down by Lenin. So far as the United States is concerned, it means permanent war.

Constant Small War
The Kremlin therefore finds it necessary to keep a small war blazing constantly. Mark! The Middle East war scare, involving Lebanon, Jordan and Iraq, is not yet out of the way when shooting starts over the island of Quemoy, which involves the possibility of a Russian war with the United States over Formosa. Perhaps nothing will come of this, but SEATO can be attacked as the Baghdad treaty was attacked. It is all part of the same plan.

When the attack on Quemoy is over and this phase of the Formosan war is over, the Kremlin will start somewhere else, perhaps an attack on West Germany or on Tito or even farther afield, an uprising in one of the Latin American countries. It is all part of the program of the permanent war.

Americans are an easy-going people who become accustomed quickly to new fashions. As we have had the permanent war as a steady diet since 1939, we take it in our stride and hope for the best. Many Americans go on tours to Moscow as they used to go to France and Spain. Anybody who has not been to Moscow during the past two years is not fashionable. What they see and do there most of them do not know, as one quickly learns when he interviews one of these tourists who has returned. But the trip was wonderful.

Predict Biggest Season
It is said that 1959 will be the biggest tourist season for Americans to go to Moscow and the amount of American dollars that will go into the Russian government coffers will not be small. However, none of this affects the permanent war which continues without cessation and which is an essential of the Bolshevik program laid down by Lenin.

It is the nature of that permanent war that must interest us seriously. Whether we prefer to call it cold war or permanent war, its nature is the same, that it is the object of Soviet Russia to keep the world in eternal turmoil and to destroy the American economy by the use of warlike methods in peace time. This results in huge war expenditures and in the maintenance of research activities designed for prospective wars. It is an extremely interesting design.

How little this is understood was made evident to me recently in a conversation with a clever lawyer, who is relied upon by his clients to have more than superficial knowledge. Discussing a certain anti-communist, he said that the person must have been a communist at some time or he would not have been so bitter against Russia. It is like saying that a God-fearing person must have been a devil-worshipper or he would not hate the devil.

It is this ignorance which strengthens the Russian position in this country. They depend upon the general goodness of Americans, their lack of seriousness; their willingness to find an easy way and to avoid thinking about what is unpleasant that helps the Russians stupefy Americans into failing to understand the nature of the permanent war. This lawyer, I am sure, would just as soon advise a client to make a profit out of selling Russian plutonium as other lawyers advised clients to sell steel rails to Japan on the advent of World War II.

Sauces That Add Gourmet Touch To Basic Recipes

A smart hostess and home-maker can achieve renown among her friends as a gourmet cook by the special touches that she adds to basic dishes.

Instant nonfat dry milk which is used in special "no-lump" recipes, eliminates the necessity of making a roux, mixture of flour and butter for thickening sauce.

1 cup water
1-3 cup dry milk powder
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

2 (11-ounce) cans deviled ham
2 ounces Gruyere cheese, grated
Pour water into top of double boiler. Sprinkle instant milk powder and flour over surface of water; add Worcestershire sauce. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over-boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens (about eight minutes). Blend in deviled ham. Add cheese; continue cooking sauce, stirring occasionally, until cheese melts and sauce is well blended. Serve hot over vegetables.

1 teaspoon sherry, optional
Pour liquefied instant dry milk into top of double boiler; sprinkle flour and spices over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in sherry. Serve hot over broiled or baked fish.

Onion Meat Sauce
1 cup liquefied dry milk
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon onion salt
Dash of pepper
1 beef bouillon cube
Pour liquefied dry milk into top of double boiler; sprinkle flour and seasonings over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Add bouillon cube. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened and bouillon cube is dissolved. Serve hot over meat patties.

Weyauwega Parent Teacher Club to be Expanded; Meeting Set
Weyauwega — The Weyauwega Grade Parents and Teachers club will be expanded this year to include parents of high school students. An organizational meeting will be at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the high school gym. E. W. Stankevitz, new superintendent of Weyauwega schools, will speak. Mrs. Warren Mallo is president of the group. Other officers are Mrs. H. P. Hutchinson, vice president, and Mrs. Walter Niklaus, secretary-treasurer.

Investment Aide Advises Against Banff Oil, Says Not Too Successful

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. My husband is a successful businessman. But last year he started to invest in stocks. Things haven't been too rosy for him in the stock market. He bought a large number of shares in Banff Oil at 31. Do you think this stock will ever see that price again?

A. For your sake as well as your husband's, I hope this wasn't the first stock he bought and that it isn't too big a part of his holdings.

Banff is a Canadian Oil company. It holds some promise for the future but not much in the way of results. Its annual "earnings statements" show a string of net losses.

This stock is not the kind for a beginner in the market — no matter how successful he has been in business. Whether or not it will hit 31 again is anybody's guess.

Blue Chip Stocks

Q. I intend to invest about $50,000 of my savings. Would I be right to buy "blue chip" stocks that would give me an income of about 5 per cent? Or would you recommend something they call "puts and calls?"

Frankly, I know absolutely nothing about the latter. But someone said that, with my kind of capital, I could make a "faster buck" that way.

A. You must be kidding. Anyone smart enough to save the amount of money you have couldn't possibly be foolish enough to take the chance of gambling it away while chasing that ever-elusive "faster buck."

You buy those blue chip stocks that yield 5 per cent. Be satisfied with that return on your investment and the gradual increase your shares will show over the year.

I would never recommend puts and calls to anyone except professional traders, who are willing and financially able to assume the risk involved. For them, puts and calls can be worth while. After I explain what they are, or sell a fixed amount of a certain stock at a specified price within a specified time. Puts and calls are options. A put gives the holder the right to sell the stock. A call gives the right to buy the stock.

A put on a certain stock is purchased by someone who thinks that stock will go down in price. It obligates the seller of the put contract to take delivery of the stock and pay the specified price to the person who bought the put, within the time limit of the contract.

A call on a certain stock is purchased by someone who thinks that stock's price will go up. It gives the holder of the call the right to buy the stock from the seller of the call contract at the specified price within a fixed period of time.

Now, if the buyer of a put or a call guesses wrong and the stock doesn't act as he expected it to, he doesn't have to exercise his option. In that case, the money he paid for his put or call is lost. It would go down the drain forever.

Mr. Doyle will answer representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

Leg of Lamb

Did you know that when roasting a leg of lamb, the roast will be juicier and will carve more easily if the fell is left on during the cooking period?

One Accident Over Weekend in Villages

Kimberly — One minor accident was reported by police in the Fox Villages over the busy Labor day weekend. The lone mishap occurred in Kimberly when two cars collided in the 200 block of Kimberly avenue at 10:55 Sunday morning. Vehicles driven by James Erdmann, 25, Sherwood, and Mrs. Joseph Van Hout, 435 Railroad street, Kimberly, were involved. Police said the Erdmann car had slowed down for a turn and was struck in the rear by the Van Hout car. Damage was estimated at $150. Police in Little Chute and Combined Locks said there were no traffic mishaps.

Workers' Benefits Said To Attract Industry

Payments Liberal When Measured Against Others, State Division Says

Madison — The state unemployment compensation program, although it provides "liberal" benefits to workers when measured against other states, is a factor in attracting industry to Wisconsin.

So says the state division of industrial development, a wing of the state executive office under Gov. Vernon W. Thomson who recently persuaded the legislature in special session to raise maximum benefits to $42 a week.

The attraction to industry in the Wisconsin situation, according to the development division, lies in the fact that the state has immense reserves of funds to cover unemployment benefits and new employers thus are not liable for emergency assessments to make good benefit payments.

Said the division in a promotion bulletin:

"Industry that comes to Wisconsin has the advantage of coming to a state with a large reserve account rather than one where it will be forced to help build an account. True, this one factor may be a minor element in attractiveness for industry, but it is worth telling about to prospects."

(The division argument runs counter to those of some critics of the unemployment compensation program who have complained the liberal rules of the state industrial commission in permitting eligibility for compensation payments is a drain on Wisconsin industry in competition with other states. Some Wisconsin employer groups, moreover, were cool toward the Thomson administration program of raising the duration and the level of benefits in the June special session of the legislature.)

The division said Wisconsin now has a benefit reserve fund equal to 12 times the average annual disbursements, higher than any neighboring state except Iowa's.

But it also showed Wisconsin benefit provisions are comparatively high and the relatively low rate of employer taxation — against that of the country as a whole — is typical of "this highly favored Great Lakes region."

Tamale Pie An Attractive, Economy Dish

Economy meals need not be dull or lack nourishment. For example, here is a tested recipe for Tamale Pie which will lend interest to a regular dinner menu, provide hearty nourishment for the family and yet cost only about 30 cents per serving.

Tamale Pie is a meal in a dish. Served with salad and French bread it is the star of a lip smacking menu. It is made with nourishing instant nonfat dry milk.

Tamale Pie

1 1/2 pounds ground beef
3 medium-size onions, chopped
1 1/2 cups (12-oz. can) cooked corn kernels, drained
3 cups (2 8-oz. cans) tomato sauce
1 tablespoon chili powder
1/2 cup water
1 cup yellow corn meal
2 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 package (8-oz.) sharp process cheese food, shredded

Brown beef in large skillet over medium heat; add onions and saute until onions are lightly browned. Stir in corn, tomato sauce and chili powder.

Cook, stirring constantly, until beef is tender. Combine water and one-half cup of the corn meal; stir into meat mixture. Let simmer, stirring occasionally, until slightly thickened, about 15 minutes.

Heat liquefied nonfat dry milk over very low heat until just below boiling point. Stir in remaining one-half cup corn meal; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat.

Add a small amount of milk mixture to eggs; blend well and return to remaining milk-corn meal mixture. Stir in

Maple Freeze Is New Addition to Frozen Desserts

Another frozen dessert to add to the hot-weather collection is this maple syrup-whipped cream duo. The melt-in-your-mouth lightness, flavored by maple sweetness from the syrup.

Maple Freeze

1 cup maple-blended syrup
3 egg yolks, well beaten
Few grains salt
3 egg whites

In a moderate oven at 375 degrees, about 30 minutes or until top is lightly browned and firm.

Wednesday, Sept. 3, 1958 Appleton Post-Crescent B13

1 cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
Chopped canned salted nuts

Heat syrup in top of double boiler. Pour hot syrup slowly into beaten egg yolks, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and cook over hot water until mixture is thickened and will coat a silver spoon. Remove from heat. Cool to room temperature. Meanwhile add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Fold egg whites into syrup mixture. Whip cream; add vanilla. Add to syrup mixture. Pour into freezing trays of refrigerator and freeze until firm. Serve with salted nuts as garnish, if desired. Makes eight servings.

Brunswick Stew Makes Hearty One-Dish Meal

Brunswick stew is a delicious combination of chicken, beef, and vegetables. It makes a perfect one-dish meal for your family or a main dish in your buffet supper for guests.

This delightful stew is easy to prepare, and it's economical, especially since chicken is such a good buy these days.

- Brunswick Stew
- 5 - pound stewing chicken, disjointed
  - 1 pound beef, cut into one-inch cubes
  - 2 quarts water
  - 3 large onions, chopped
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 pound fresh or 1 cup frozen lima beans
  - 1 pound fresh or frozen okra
  - 3 potatoes, peeled and cubed
  - 2 tablespoons catchup
  - 2 stalks celery, chopped
  - 2 fresh tomatoes, chopped
  - 1 cup canned kernel corn, drained
  - 4 tablespoons butter
  - 4 tablespoons sugar
  - 2 tablespoons vinegar
  - Dash of cayenne pepper
- Clean chicken carefully and place in large saucepan with cubes of beef, water, chopped onions, and salt. Cook over medium heat for two and one-half hours. Remove chicken and meat. Cut chicken from bones and set aside.
- Add lima beans, okra, cubed potatoes, catchup, chopped celery, chopped tomatoes, corn kernels, and butter to the soup. Cook for 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.
- Return meat and chicken to the soup and cook until most, but not all, of the liquid is absorbed. Add sugar, vinegar, and cayenne pepper and cook five minutes longer, stirring frequently.

Britain Set to Test Outer Space Missile

Adelaide, Australia — Britain will make her first attempt to launch a missile into real outer space on Thursday—weather and last-minute checks permitting.

It will be the first live firing of the Saunders Roe weapon "Black Night."

The launching will be the most powerful rocket firing attempted at the Woomera range in central south Australia.

The rocket will be fired almost vertically, the main object being to attain maximum height. One forecast is that the rocket will top 400 miles—nearly four times higher than any previous British firing. The missile's nose will shear away to plummet back to earth and will not remain in orbit to become an earth satellite.

U. S. Whimsy, Somber Kremlin Study Added

A whimsical look at the United States and a serious study of the Kremlin are undertaken by two authors in contrasting books. They are among additions made this week to the Appleton public library, are on display now and will be released for circulation Friday.

"Only in America" by Harry Golden is a tongue in cheek survey of the American scene while, in a more somber vein, made by a newspaper editor "The Kremlin" by Jules Kosslow, is a history of 12 centuries of tyranny and terror.

Other non-fiction additions are "Be Deeds of Truth" by Modest Hofmann, a biography of Leo Tolstoy; "India Changes" by Taya Zinkin, an outline of the country's social, political and personal changes through the years; "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" by William Inge, a drama; "Everyday Problems of Boys and Girls" by Sidonie Gruenberg, a parents guide to youngsters from 5 to 12 years old.

"Flickering Flames" by Leroy Thwing, a history of domestic lighting; "Receiving Aerial Systems" by L. A. Davidson, technical problems of radio and television aerial installations; "Your Allergy and You" by Kay Haydock, do's and don'ts for allergy sufferers.

"The Ordeal of Captive Nations" by Hawthorne Daniel, histories of the east-central European countries; "St. Bernadette Soubirous" by Msgr. Francis Trochu, a biography; "Private" by Lester Atwell, the emotional experiences of an ordinary combat soldier in World War II.

"Emperor Penguins" by Jean Rivoller, observations of the birds at close distances; "The Revolution in Education" by Mortimer Adler, basic issues confronting education today; "The Man on Your Back" by Wyatt Marrs, a study of social parasitism; "Our Family Worship at Home" by Anna Gebhard, an application of the Bible to daily living.

"How to Catch Bass" by F. P. Rice, a guide for the would-be fisherman; "Family Fun and Activities" by Margaret Mulac, how to play together; and "Sampling Techniques in Accounting" by Robert Trueblood, detailed applications of statistical sampling techniques.

On this week's fiction list are "The Husband" by Vera Caspary, "The Oldest Confession" by Richard Condon, "Kate Cavanaugh" by Anne Downes, "Depart This Life" by C. K. Ferrars, "The Antic Years" by Rose Franken, "I'm Not Stiller" by Max Frisch, "Daughters of Eve" by Noel Gerson, "High Prairie" by Archie Joscelyn, "Chez Pavan" by Richard Llewellyn, "Beard the Lion" by William Manchester, "Deadly the Darling" by William Randall and "River's End" by Anthony West.

Commencement Offers Both Sides of Story

Zionsville, Ind. — Graduating seniors of Zionsville High school heard both sides of the story when they attended baccalaureate and commencement services. One speaker held forth on "The Value of Ignorance," and the other on "The Beginning of Wisdom."

To Your Good Health Don't Turn Child Into Finicky Food Fusser, Warns Molner

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My grandson most always at dinner time makes a fuss about eating, and my son makes him eat; even if he child cries he insists that he eat. There is so much bickering and commencing services. One that I don't think the food value of ignorance, and the doing my grandson any good.

"I will wait for your answer before I say anything to my son. I never did this to him or his brother, and I never had any trouble. — Mrs. A.D."

Parents who make an issue of eating doubtless are motivated by the best of intentions. They feel that eating "will be good for the child." But the parent who starts forcing food is forgetting two or three simple, important facts.

First, it is entirely normal for a child—and for an adult—to have variations in appetite.

Second, once the forcing has been started, it is quite natural for a child (or an adult!) to set his heels against the pressure. Very quickly appetite no longer is the compelling motive. The motive, instead, becomes a contest of wills. Who will win?

Third, the emotional turmoil of constant battling at the table is enough to upset the child's normal appetite and attitudes.

Of course, it's common enough for a child to test his parents, and see what he can get away with. Can he refuse to eat something and immediately get some better tidbit to tempt him? He'll try it! Giving in consistently will soon turn the child into a finicky food-fusser. Yet, on the other hand, I don't urge an absolutely rigid attitude. After all, doesn't an adult, at times have a yearning for some particular dish? Or does not an adult sometimes have a sudden feeling of, "What, oatmeal for breakfast again?"

Optional Eating

By and large, the best rule is to put food before a child and leave it up to him whether he eats it. If he doesn't, then don't have an argument about it. But don't feed him between meals, either, and don't have any argument about that! Children learn quickly. It doesn't take them long to learn that mealtime is the time to eat!

When a pattern of squabbling at the table has been established, things are a bit more difficult.

No Effect

"Dear Dr. Molner: I suffer from arteriosclerosis and have read that there are cholesterol in the arteries in this ailment. I have been using a detergent cream because of dry skin, and notice that it gets into the blood stream?—W.F.M."

No, this would have no effect on the arteries. The cholesterol in your arteries has accumulated over the years from fats in the diet and from other foods which the body has converted into cholesterol.

Yes and No

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can drinking four to five cups of coffee a day harm a person in any way? What effects does it have?—Lorry."

It can be harmful. Then again, to another person, no harm at all. Essentially it is a matter of the action of caffeine, which is a stimulant. It can make you keyed up, jittery, and wakeful instead of sleepy at night.

Bob Sagers Topples Foxes With 7 RBIs

Friend Stops Phillies, 3-2, For 19th Win

Pirates Regain Tie For 2nd; Drysdale Blanks Giants, 4-0

By The Associated Press

Since 1930, the year Bob Friend was born, the Pittsburgh Pirates have come up with only two 20+ victory pitchers. Now Friend is just one game short of becoming the third.

The last was Murry Dickson, now with the New York Yankees. He did it in 1951 — and with a seventh-place club.

Truett "Rip" Sewell, the guy with the blooper pitch, is the only other to win 20 in one season since 1930. He did it twice, in the war years of 1943 and 1944.

Now, with the Pirates scrapping for their first finish in the first division in a decade, Friend is the National league's top winner. He picked up his nineteenth Tuesday night as the Bucs defeated Philadelphia, 3-2, and regained a second-place tie with San Francisco.

Hurler 5-Hitter

The Giants were spilled, 4-0, by the Los Angeles Dodgers and Don Drysdale, who allowed five hits in his first shut-out in a year. That left the Giants and Bucs eight games behind idle Milwaukee.

St. Louis defeated Cincinnati, 4-2.

Davenport's Rouse Posts 14th Victory; Fox Cities' Furlow Seeks 4th Straight Tonight

BY MIKE DREW

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

When Davenport's Bob Sagers was named the Three-I league's All-Star third baseman over the Fox Cities' Carlos Pascual last week, loud howls of dissent were heard here.

Sagers moved into the lions' den Tuesday night and put his credentials on the table to the tune of seven runs batted in on two homers and a double. That display paced the Davenport team to a 10-4 triumph over the Foxes in the opener of a 3-game set at Goodland field.

The Foxes make their semi-final home appearance of their first Three-I league season tonight with lanky right-hander Earl Furlow (5-3) slated to go against lefty Gary Peters (12-7). Furlow is currently one of the loop's hottest hurlers with three straight wins on two 4-hitters and a 7-hit job.

A crowd of just 368 faithful at Goodland field Tuesday night welcomed the Foxes home from a road trip on which they won six of seven games. Since Aug. 18, the Foxes have captured 10 of their 16 starts, placing six wins and four game winning streaks in the midst of four and 2-game losing skids.

Behind Pascual

Sagers ran his season's RBI total to 73 and his home run count to 17 with his Tuesday heroics. However, he is behind Pascual in both of these departments and is about 50 points under "Potato's" league-leading .383 batting average.

Not to be outdone by Sagers, "Potato" went 3-for-3 Tuesday, unloading his twenty-seventh homer and two singles. Pascual — who has cinched the circuit's batting crown — hiked his club-leading RBI total to 83.

Ace Day-Sox righthander Bill Rouse rang up his fourteenth win in 25 decisions, although the Foxes reached him for 11 hits and five walks. He was tough when it counted, stranding 13 base-runners, including six in the final three innings.

Davenport made much better use of its 12 hits, leaving linebacker; Lance and Hodge merely three base-runners without transportation home. Righthander "Berto" Cueto

McLean Places Six On Waivers, Deals Hudock to Steelers

Danjean, Purnell Turned Loose; Roster Is Reduced to 47

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — The Packers' official 1958 roster contained the names of 47 players to-day following the second major axing by Coach Ray McLean Tuesday night.

McLean placed six players on waivers; traded center Mike Hudock to the Pittsburgh Steelers for an undisclosed draft choice; and put half-back Earl Miller on the injured reserve list. Released via waivers were:

Veterans Ernie Danjean

the day after Labor day, and late repatriates by reason of military service. The Packers have four such service cases — John Symank, Forest Gregg, Veryl Switzer and Don McIlhenny filling out the 47-player roster.

The next major cut is due two weeks before the league opener — Sept. 14 — on which date rosters of all clubs must be down to 38 players, not counting the servicemen.

Thus, the Packers will cut from 47 to 42 that date — unless of course McLean decides to cut lower.

Must Drop Dozen

The final cut is to the 35 players — and that will include the late service athletes — on the Tuesday before the league opener against the Bears Sept. 28.

As of now, the Packers must drop one dozen players from the present roster of 47 — give only outfield position he's played this year.

Warren Spahn Gets Nod Against Phils

Morehead Opposes Him; Haney Plans on Burdette Thursday

On Friday the Braves move over to Pittsburgh where they will engage the Pirates in a four-game series ending with Sunday's doubleheader, the only one remaining in the season for the Braves. The Pirates and San Francisco Giants are tied for second, eight games behind Milwaukee.

Carlton Wiley probably will work the opener, and Bob Buhl, back in form and action again, will make the start on Saturday.

QB Club Sets First Meeting

Officials Currently Soliciting Funds From Industry

The first meeting of the Appleton Quarterback club will be held Tuesday, Sept. 16, at 7:30 in the Lawrence coliseum changes required when the union, the club's president, Dr. Martin Eich, said today.

Movies of Sept. 12's Appleton-Menasha High game will be shown at the meeting, with commentary by the Terrors' coach, Ade Dillon. Lawrence Coach Bernie Heselt will preview the prospects for the Viking season which begins Sept. 20.

Quarterback club officials are currently soliciting contributions from area industries to help finance the filming of AHS and Lawrence films and other QB projects. The club is currently paying for half of the $1,500 Whiting field scoreboard which was erected before last season.

Club officers, in addition to Eich, are: Alfred Tollefson, vice president; Arnie Handel, treasurer; and Frank Manier, secretary.

Major League Stars

Pitching Don Drysdale, Dodgers, shut out the Giants on five hits, striking out six for sixth consecutive victory in 4-0 decision.

Hitting Albie Pearson, Senators, had two of Nats' five hits and lined a 3-run, inside-the-park homer in 4-3 victory over the Orioles.

Warriors Run Through 1st Scrimmage

Milwaukee — Scrimmage was the order of the day Tuesday for the Marquette football team, and Coach Johnny Druze liked some of what he saw.

It was the first contact work for the Warriors, and Druze said the 30-minute session produced some good blocking by the linemen and sharp defensive work by individuals.

Sparking the defensive charge were center Gil Gordon of Wausau and guard Bill O'Connell of Chicago.

Showing well on offense were quarterback Pete Hall and fullback Mike Shea of Eau Claire, who turned in the longest run of the workout.

Jays' Frank Howard, Robinson To Report To Dodgers Sept. 9

Los Angeles — Outfielder Frank Howard, the Three-I league's most valuable player, and infielder Earl Robinson are being called up from the Green Bay Bluejays to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Robinson and the homer-hitting Howard will join the Dodgers Sept. 9 in Philadelphia.

Veteran Vic Seixas Gains Round of 16

BY ED CORRIGAN

Forest Hills, N. Y. — An old fellow playing in the National Tennis championships is beginning to cause some nail-biting among the upper crust.

The folks on the tournament trail might even have trouble recognizing him because he's a securities salesman these days, plays tennis just for fun.

His name is Vic Seixas. He won the national title in 1954 and played on a half dozen Davis cup teams.

At the moment, he is in the round of 16 in the nationals. He turned back Jon Douglas Tuesday 4-6, 10-8, 6-4, 6-4.

Cooper Advances

His scheduled opponent to-day was Mike Green of Miami Beach, Fla., and then—if he gets past Mike—Ashley Cooper of Australia.

Half the quarter-final was filled Tuesday.

Cooper advanced at the expense of Mike Franks of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4. Neale

Stengel Has New Corps of Starters

Zack Monroe Stops Boston; Tigers Tie for 4th Place

By The Associated Press

Casey Stengel has his ninth American league pennant all but officially bagged. He has a 12-game lead with less than two dozen games to play. Yet this may be the toughest part of the season for the New Yankee skipper.

What he needs is time, not to clinch the flag, but to rest his ailing pitchers—southpaw "Whitey" Ford and right-hander Don Larsen—for next month's World Series. Both have been found free of serious arm trouble, but a holiday has been prescribed for both.

So what's Casey do? He comes up with a new set of starting pitchers, his fourth this year.

He has brought Bobby Shantz and Zack Monroe out of the bullpen to form a 5-man starting staff with Bob Turley, Art Ditmar and Duke Mass. It could be a 6-man group with Murry Dickson.

Won 3 of 5

Thus far, the "new" staff of starters has won three of five games. Monroe, recalled from the minors, pitched his first complete game in the majors Tuesday night for a 6-1 victory over Boston.

Washington spilled Baltimore, 4-3, and Detroit tied the Orioles for fourth by defeating Kansas City, 6-1, in the only other games scheduled.

Monroe, 27, a right-hander making his first start since July 28, got past the Red Sox with a 5-hitter for a 3-1 record. He had a shutout until Dick Gernert hit his twentieth home run with two out in the ninth. Home runs by Mickey Mantle (38) and Yogi Berra (21) on successive pitches in the sixth inning broke up a scoreless tie. Dave Sisler (7-8) lost it.

Two Hits

Herb Moford (4-7) gave up only two hits as the Tigers swept their 3-game series at Kansas City. He had a perfect game until Harry Chiti doubled in the sixth inning, then lost his shutout on Bob Cerv's thirtieth home run in the seventh. Bob Grim (4-6) lost it.

Pete Ramos reached his major league high with his thirteenth victory for the Senators, but needed relief help and a good defensive play by shortstop Ossie Alvarez to nail it after blanking the Birds on two hits for six innings. Alvarez' backhand stab turned pinchhitter Joy Taylor's bases-loaded smash into a game-ending double play. Albie Pearson, hit a 3-run, inside-the-park homer in the third off loser Hec Brown (6-4).

Ike Signs Bill Requiring Owners To Register Boats

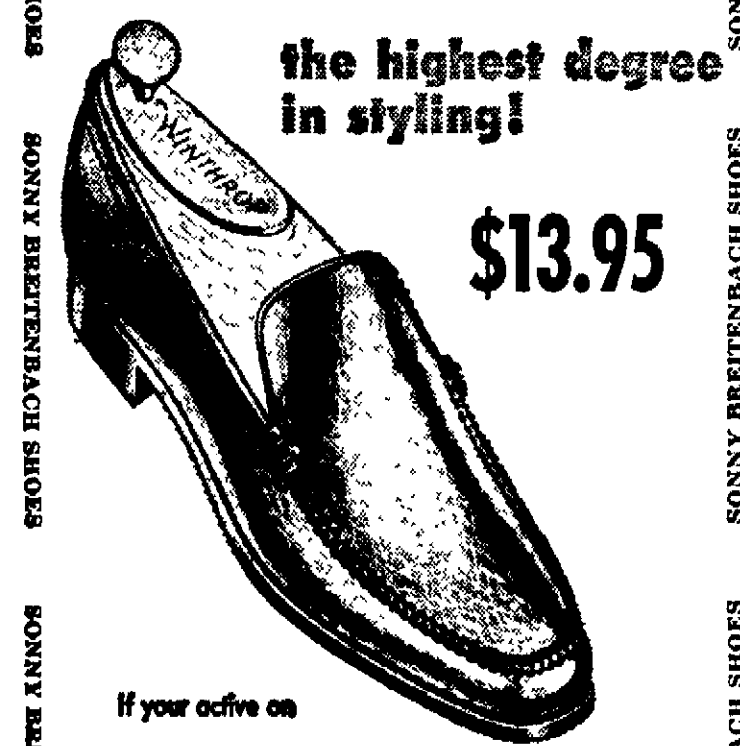

Newport, R.I. —(AP)— President Eisenhower signed into law Tuesday a bill aimed at promoting safety in the growing use of small motorboats.

Under the new law, all owners of boats with bigger than 10 horsepower engines will have to register either with state agencies or with the U. S. Coast Guard. Safety regulations would be tied to the registration system.

Among various provisions, the law requires that small boat operators offer all possible aid to others involved in accidents. Reckless or negligent boating would be punishable by fines of up to $100.

The model law designed to bring about uniform regulations is slated to be presented to legislators in 45 states next year.

Promoter Pegs Herb Elliott's Pro Value at $250,000

London — (AP) — Australian miler Herb Elliott, valued at $250,000 in the professional market, runs in London today for nothing.

And to preserve his amateur status he has to stay in an inexpensive boarding house instead of a plush hotel befitting a champion.

'99 Per Cent Certain'

Reason: The 20-year-old Aussie exhausted his 28-day limit for drawing expenses early in August.

He ran his fabulous 3:54.5 mile in Dublin Aug. 6. Since then, he's been paying his own way through Europe, and watching every cent.

The crew-cut Australian, fastest man on earth over a mile and 1,500 meters, could be suspended for professionalism for accepting expenses from any source.

Elliott's professional value was put at $250,000 by Leo Leavitt, an American promoter.

"That's the amount I will deposit in his bank the day he says okay," Leavitt was reported as saying from Adelaide, Australia.

Elliott's reply was: "I just can't believe any fellow has money like that lying around to put in my bank. It's 99 per cent certain I shall stay an amateur."

The Australian's appearance today at the White City stadium has boosted ticket sales to 40,000.

Among others, he will be up against Derek Ibbotson of Britain, who ran 3:57.2 for the mile a year ago, and another sub-4-minute miler, Brian Hewson.

Tony Anthony Favored, 3-1, Over McBride

Syracuse, N.Y. —(AP)— Power-punching Tony Anthony of New York, No. 2 light heavyweight contender, opens his heavyweight campaign tonight as a 3-1 favorite to whip veteran Archie McBride of Trenton, N.J., in a television 10-round.

Conqueror of four light heavies this year via the kayo route, the 24-year-old New Yorker hopes to punch his way into a title fight in a year with his old buddy, heavyweight king Floyd Patterson.

Anthony and Patterson were teammates on the 1952 U.S. Olympic boxing team.

Anthony, 6-1, 180-pounder, had a 34-5-1 record, including 27 knockouts. His five losses all were by kayos.

McBride, 29, is a 5-11, 185-pounder, who doesn't get a chance to fight often. Since 1947, he has a 21-13 record, including seven kayos. He has been stopped three times, including once by Patterson.

Cedar Rapids' wrecking crew added three more homers to its Three-I league record Tuesday night as the second-half champions picked up another notch over runner-up Green Bay.

Sid Goldfader whacked two over the fence and Bill Moss added another to lead Cedar Rapids past Burlington, 7-6. Lee Handley and Walt Dixon connected for the losers.

In other games, Bob Sagers drove in seven runs with a pair of homers and a bag, full double as Davenport whipped Fox Cities, 10-4. Winona scored two runs in the eighth inning for a 4-3 decision over Green Bay.

Logan Offers No Excuses For .237 Mark

Season Is Worst Since He Came Up In '51 Campaign

Philadelphia —(AP)— Milwaukee Braves' shortstop Johnny Logan, mired in the worst season of his major league career, said Tuesday, "I have no excuses."

"It's just one of those bad years," Logan said. "Everybody gets them and this time I guess I'm the fall guy. There's nothing wrong with my hitting, guess they're just not dropping in."

And the 31-year-old infielder refused to count his 31 years as a factor, asserting, "I've got at least three good years left."

Happy to Finish Unless He is Able to Shine in Milwaukee's Almost Certain World Series Appearance, Logan Probably Will Be Happy to Close the Book on 1958.

His batting average has fallen to .237, the lowest since he broke into the majors in 1951 and hit .219 playing in about half the campaign's games. And when Logan suffers at the plate the pain is reflected in embarrassing fielding lapses.

er. It was only his third hit in 40 trips.

"I must have answered a lot of fans' prayers," he said. "I'll bet they started to pray I'd finally get one after all those outs."

Logan has been hitting at only a .145 clip — 19 hits in 131 trips — since July 24. Before he started to slide, Logan was hitting a respectable .272.

Considered one of the most dangerous clutch hitters in the league last season Logan reached his peak in 1955 when he hit .297 and was named to the All-Star team for the first time. Before that he led the league in fielding for two years straight.

"I could still regain my bearings by World Series time," Logan said hopefully.

Jim McDonald Wins BDM Club Crown

Scores 6 and 4 Finals Triumph Over Lindberg

Jim McDonald has won the Butte des Moris Golf club championship for the first time.

McDonald defeated John Lindberg, 6 and 4, Monday in the scheduled 36-hole final.

McDonald, a 19-year-old sophomore at the University of Wisconsin, was 1 up after the first nine, but Lindberg took charge on the second nine.

McDonald had gained the finals with a 2-up win over John Maring. Lindberg defeated Strutz, 1-up, in the semi-finals.

Strutz originally had defaulted to Bob Ferrel because of a hand injury. But when Ferrel was unable to continue because of a date in the national JC meet, Strutz got back into the tourney.

Strutz had healed sufficiently to enable him to win his way into the semis.

The Secretary's flight title will be decided this week. Tom Jewell is one of the finalists.

He defeated Eli Jandrin, 5 and 4, in the semis.

Franz Larson and Ken Weinheim will play for the other finals spot.

At Least 53 Cars In Road America 500-Miler Sunday

Elkhart Lake — At least 53 drivers will compete in the Road America 500-mile sports car race Sunday, with prospects good for additional entries by race time.

In addition, 47 will drive in Saturday's 120-mile race and 45 have entered Saturday's 80-miler.

Saturday's program gets under way at 1:30 in the afternoon while the big race Sunday starts at 10:30 in the morning.

Listers, Ferrari Testa Rossas and Porsches make up the bulk of the entries for the 500-miler.

threw both home run balls to Sagers and a gopher ball to Dick Lombardi for six runs on nine hits in the first 7 2/3 frames.

The loss made Cueto's mark 2-2 since he joined the club in mid-August.

Bob Van Dyke and "Tex" Taylor joined in the Foxes' home run parade, but, as usual, three of the four Fox Cities circuit clouts came with no one on board.

Taylor also doubled in four trips while Van Dyke had a single.

Hack Marockie singled twice to give him eight hits in his last 11 at bats.

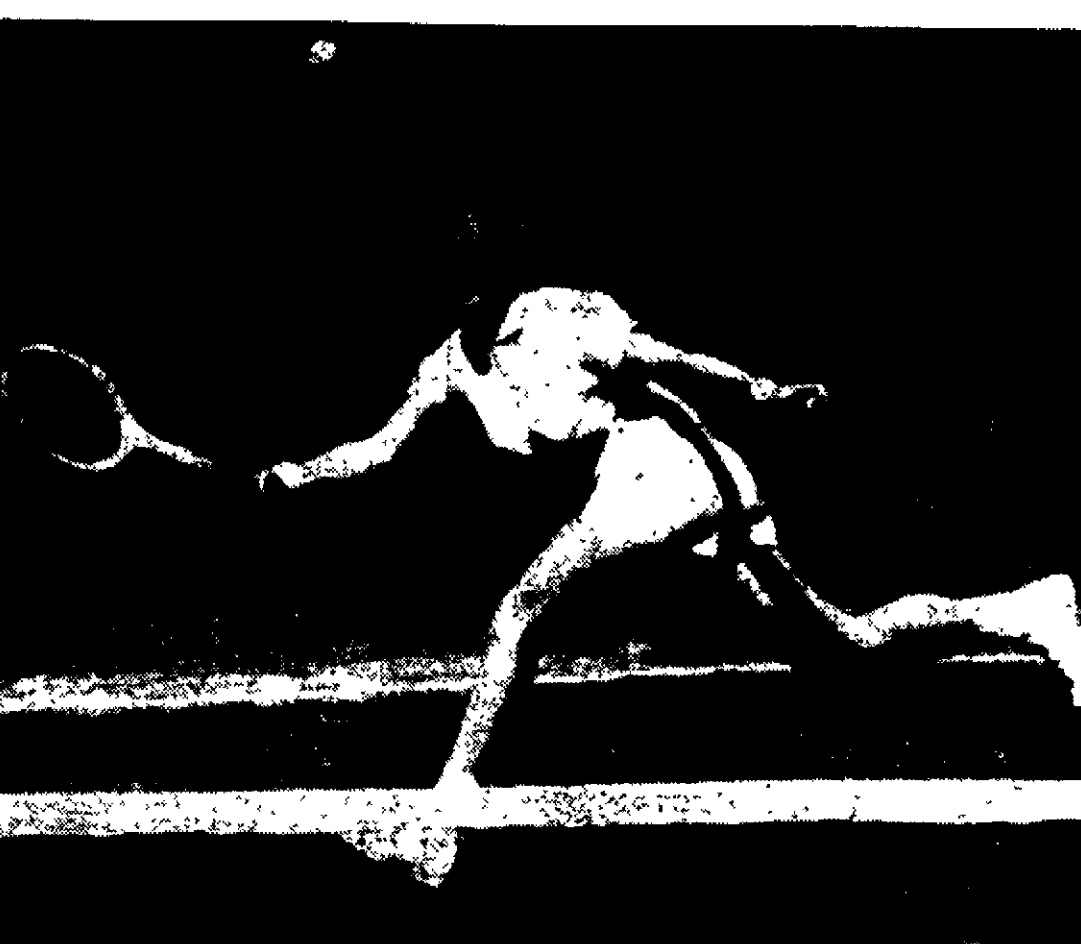

Davenport went in front 1-0, in the top of the first when Chuck Lehman singled to deep short, was sacrificed to second and scored on Don Bacon's single to center.

A walk to Pascual and Taylor's home run blast over the right field fence at the 340 mark, his seventh, gave the Fox Cities a 2-1 lead in the fourth.

Ties Issue Sagers' shot way over the left center field barrier about 345 feet from the plate tied the issue in the sixth.

Sagers then picked out another Cueto offering that he liked and lofted it just over the left field barrier.

McLean Praises Shanley; Paul Hornung's Injury Minor

Green Bay — Obviously delighted with his maiden victory as Packer head coach, Ray McLean made these observations after the 20-17 victory over Philadelphia Monday.

We looked real good the first quarter but for some reason the second quarter lagged," he noted. "It might have been because we were using so many new boys then, but whatever the reason, we weren't as sharp as we had been in the first quarter."

This led him to an attendant observation. "We've got to get our offensive ball club to have more hustle," McLean said. "By that I mean we have to get more plays called than we have been getting."

Of course this was their third game, and I consider it our first because of what happened in the Shrine game in Milwaukee (played in driving rain)," he explained. "That means we're two games behind and we've got a long way to go. There were pitch and scored on Mincher's single to right."

Pascual homered over the left field barrier to lead off the Fox Cities ninth and Taylor doubled, but then Rouse retired the next three batters.

The Fox Cities' loss, and Winona's victory over Green Bay, dropped the Foxes three games behind the fifth place Athletics in the league's overall standings.

The Day-Sox and Cedar Rapids are contending for first place in the overall rankings.

The Bays came out of their exciting Labor day win in good physical condition. Several players including Paul Hornung were shaken up and bruised but Trainer "Bud" Jorgensen found nothing serious.

more than 17 in any previous season, gave up seven hits, walked only one and struck out seven. He had a shutout until the eighth, when a hit batter, Dave Philley's pinch infield single, an infield out and Solv's sacrifice fly counted a run.

The Phillies, who managed only five hits off loser Don Cardwell (2-4) in his seven innings, put it away on Frank Thomas' solo thirty-fifth home run in the seventh.

Drysdale (11-11) struck out six and walked three. It was his sixth straight win. He gave up two hits in the fifth, when the Giants loaded the bases with one out on Orlando Cepeda's double, a single by Hank Sauer and a walk.

Drysdale then fanned pinchhitter Leon Wagner and got pinch hitter "Whitey" Lockman on a fly ball.

The Dodgers nailed it in the first on Gino Cimoli's solo homer, his eighth, off loser Ray Manzant (6-9).

Bob Mabe gained his first major league victory after five defeats with the Cardinals, striking out eight while allowing seven hits and only one earned run.

Wally Moon's double broke a 1-1 tie and Irv Noren singled him home with the clincher in a 2-run second inning against loser Bob Purkey (15-9).

Hahn's Arnie Kriehn fired a 202. There were no honor series.

Frick Sure To OK Buhl For Series

Won't Make Official Statement Until Meeting Monday

New York — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Tuesday left no doubt that he would approve the World Series eligibility of Milwaukee Braves' right-hander Bob Buhl.

Buhl whipped the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, Monday in his first appearance since May 13 when a shoulder ailment forced him out of action.

Although Frick declined to make an official statement until after he meets with penitentiary contenders in Chicago next Monday, he commented:

Generous Precedent "The precedent has always been one of being very generous to bona fide members of an eligible club if the player has been out because of a legitimate disability. The date he returned to the lineup does not matter."

Technically Buhl returned to active status one day after the major league deadline to receive the Braves' list of 25 players for series approval.

Lawsuits Hang Over Proposed Nats' Transfer

Stockholder Seeks To Oust Griffith, Halt Club's Shift

Minneapolis — Law suits and threatened law suits hung over franchise negotiations between Minneapolis and the Washington Senators today.

In Washington, Robert R. Rodenberg, identifying himself as a stockholder in the Senators for 29 years and owner of 75 shares, filed a suit in Federal Court to oust Calvin Griffith as Washington president and to enjoin transfer of the club to Minneapolis.

The suit asked $500,000 damages.

Taxpayers Suit In Minneapolis, there was new conjecture about a possible taxpayers' suit against the city for approving a nine million dollar bond issue, part of it guaranteed by the city, to expand Metropolitan stadium.

The legal maneuvering further befogged a franchise issue which will come up for a full airing when the American league meets in Chicago Sunday.

Rodenberg's suit came not long after the Senators' principal minority stockholder, H. Gabriel Murphy, said he would take legal action to challenge any shift of the Senators.

'No Hero,' Says Owner Of Escaped Chimp— Just Plain Scared

Phoenix, Ariz.—Rita, a 150-pound chimpanzee, broke out of her cage at a zoo crowded with Labor day visitors — and knocked the stuffings out of her owner.

"When I saw her I chased her," said Les Lindvig, 42, operator of the small zoo. "With all those people there, something had to be done."

But the 5-year-old chimp was too much for Lindvig.

"I was like putty in her hands," he said. "She dragged me all over the ground."

Lindvig grabbed a pop bottle and slugged her across the face. It broke. He grabbed another, and then Rita covered. He forced her back into the cage. Sheriff's deputies had to shoot the animal, valued by Lindvig at about $800.

"I'm no hero," said Lindvig. "I'm still scared."

Hints Given for Child Safety

Home Accidents Cause Many Deaths, Statistics Indicate

Home accidents cause one death every 18 minutes, a non-fatal injury every 13 seconds. Among the nation's more than 17,000,000 children under six years of age, accidents cause more deaths than disease, statistics show.

According to Dr. John Henderson, medical director of Johnson and Johnson, a few simple safety practices at home should sharply reduce the number of child accidents.

1. Kitchen accidents are most prevalent. Keep knives and other sharp instruments in a rack or neatly aligned in a drawer. Turn pot handles in so children can't reach them. Use non-flammable liquids for kitchen cleaning. Never permit a child to be alone near a refrigerator or freezer. A dozen or more youngsters each year crawl into refrigerators and die from mechanical suffocation.

Proper Labels

2. Keep all poisonous medicines properly labelled, out of the reach of prying hands. Kerosene and other inflammables should also be stored out of harm's way.

3. Falls can be reduced, even with active youngsters, by avoiding use of loose scatter rugs, by not permitting toys to be strewn on floors, walks and lawns, and by keeping stairways clear and well-lighted. Never overpolish floors—the shine isn't worth an accident to your child.

4. If your child should hurt himself, above all don't panic. Keep a reputable first aid guide and a good first aid kit handy. Knowing how to administer the correct first aid treatment before your doctor arrives will minimize the effects of the injury, and may even save your child's life.

School Start Changes Work Hours for Kids

Fair Labor Standard Prohibits Farm Labor During Class Times

Wisconsin farmers hiring workers for the fall harvest were reminded today that the Fair Labor Standards act prohibits work by children under 16 years of age on farms during school hours.

"The federal law provides children with a priceless commodity, time to go to school," says Duane A. Wendele, regional director of the U. S. department of labor's wage and hour and public contracts divisions, the agency which enforces the act.

The child-labor provisions protect local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike, Wendele pointed out. There is only one exception to the rule prohibiting children under 16 from working in agriculture during school hours of the school district where the child lives while working, he added. The exception is for the farmer's child working on his parents' farm. He also stated that children may lawfully work on farms before and after school hours, and on weekends and other days when there is no school.

"The farmer can easily make sure of the age of any young worker if he asks for an age certificate. A certificate showing the young person is old enough for the job serves as proof of age for purposes of the act," Wendele said. These certificates can generally be obtained from the Wisconsin Industrial commission or local officials designated by the commission.

The child-labor provisions apply to farmers who engage in interstate commerce or ship produce in interstate commerce or to dealers in the same state who ship the produce in interstate commerce.

Boy Making Pig Raising Business on Medina Farm

New London — One of this area's up-and-coming young farmers is Ernie Bruns, 15, Medina, who is developing a pig business on the farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bruns, route 2, Hortonville.

The youth, who will be a sophomore at Washington High school here, is planning to enter a young boar, gilt and aged sow, all registered Hampshires, in the Waupaca County Fair at Weyauwega this weekend.

He has shown his pigs at the Seymour fair and is planning also to show them again at the Northeast Junior Livestock show at DePere.

Does Big Job

Young Bruns, who is an only child, is doing a man's sized job on his father's farm. In addition to helping with chores connected with the raising of 140 pigs, he also has time to take care of his own pigs.

Under the supervised Future Farmer of America program, youths are urged to have their own projects on their parent's farms. His other Clem Geiser, 4-year-old cow, fifth; aged cow, third; and Christoph Farms, 3-year-old cow, eighth.

Ronald Reimer and Melvin Reimer placed third and fourth on Belgian mares.

The Calumet county booth on Woodland improvement received an award of merit. The booth, which showed various wood products and how to farm a woodlot, was shown at the Calumet county fair last weekend.

projects include oats, corn and dairy herd improvement.

The boy and his father raise registered Yorkshire and Hampshire pigs as a main farming project.

Milk Aids in Fighting Worms In Farm Stock

Research indicates it is possible to avoid early stomach and intestinal worm treatments in calves by continuing milk in their diet.

Leo Fryman, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, reports U. S. department of agriculture findings that calves on milk harbor fewer of several common species of worms.

In one test, calves on milk plus grain and hay were compared with calves that had been weaned at 12 to 16 weeks. All calves were infected artificially with larvae of large stomach worms and then killed a month later. The milk-fed calves gained better and had fewer worms at time of slaughter.

Tests with calves on pasture showed no significant difference in number of stomach worms when the calves were slaughtered, but those on milk had fewer small and large intestinal worms.

The U.S.D.A. researchers also found that unweaned lambs had far fewer worms than weaned ones when both were exposed to natural infection. Pigs fed skim milk expelled worms and made better gains than pigs receiving no milk.

Researchers have no definite explanation for milk's effect on parasites, Fryman says. One possibility is that milk reduces stomach acidity and this tends to reduce the number and size of worms.

Year's Drought Robbed Fields Of Plant Food

Soil Specialist Warns of Lack of Boron Element

Many Wisconsin alfalfa fields are now in critical need of a minor plant food element, according to a University of Wisconsin soils specialist.

The unusually dry season this year has brought on a shortage of boron, says Kermit C. Berger. Berger feels that a fertilizer top dressing before freeze-up this fall can mean the difference between a normal crop and no crop next year. Boron starved plants are more susceptible to winter kill.

Boron is usually available to alfalfa on many Wisconsin soils, although in recent years boron deficiencies have become more critical. Sandy soils, especially, need boron.

Berger explains that the boron deficiency is showing up state-wide this season. He estimates that 90 per cent of the alfalfa fields in the southern part of the state show boron deficiency.

Boron already in the ground is released in the top levels of the soil as plants use it. But the dry condition has been so severe that soil organisms have not been able to break down organic matter and free boron for plant use.

Alfalfa starved for boron will appear yellow at the top. The bottom of the plant will be green.

He recommends a top dressing of a fertilizer like 0-10-30B, 0-14-42B. Apply at the rate of 300 to 600 pounds per acre. He figures that waiting for fall rains to free the natural boron in the soil is taking too big a risk.

CASE HARVESTALL UNITS

Harvestall Unit CHOPS FORAGE or PICKS YOUR CORN

TODAY'S WIDEST CHOICE OF ATTACHMENTS

Let Us Tell You How You Can SAVE Up To $1,000 When You Buy This Harvestall Unit

With a new "221" series Case Forage Harvester and your present tractor, you can chop heavy grass or tall corn faster because less power is required. Case Choppers save power because of simple design, few moving parts, light weight with great strength, oil-bath gears, anti-friction bearings. You save more power, get still greater capacity, at low wheel speeds with Case six-knife models, especially at longer cuts for which they can be set.

One man alone can easily put on or take off the Case quick-change units — today's widest choice of attachments for forage harvesters. The regular and "short-corn" row-crop units chop corn, sorghum and other crops for silage or green feed. Windrow pick-up handles wilted hay for barn finishing, or fully cured hay. The 60-inch "green-chop" cutterbar is adapted to daily feeding and short hay stands. Draper cutter-bar cuts heavy stands for grass silage or dehydrating. The corn harvester picks corn and chops stalks for silage, bedding, or mulch.

Six-knife models — "220" for PTO operation and "225" with engine — chop full range from extra-short for silage to extra-long for hay or green feed. Economy Model "210" has 4-knife wheel and regular range of cut. Drop in and see us — get the full details.

Sept. 12 Deadline for Soil Bank Application

ASC Chairman Explains Change In '59 Program

Farmers who wish to consider retiring some or all of their cropland under the Soil Bank program starting in 1959 must apply to the county ASC office by Sept. 12, according to Bert Weyenberg, chairman, Outagamie county ASC committee.

The chairman made this announcement after a district meeting held at Antigo. Outagamie county representatives who attended the instruction meeting were Bert Weyenberg, Arnold Fetting, John Kavanaugh and Ron Herman, Forester.

Weyenberg explained that the first step interested producers must take is to apply to the county ASC committee in Appleton for the establishment of a rate. Sept. 12, is the deadline date.

Those producers who apply for rates may file an application for contract after their rate has been furnished them. The deadline date for applying for a contract is Sept. 26.

End Acreage Reserve

The chairman said that the Acreage Reserve part of the Soil Bank program under which farmers in Wisconsin were paid for setting aside corn, wheat or tobacco land will not be in effect in 1959. This leaves available the conservation reserve of the Soil Bank under which farmers set aside for three, five or 10 years, land normally cropped on their farms.

The conservation reserve rates for the 1959 signers have been increased. Producers can get some idea of the increased rates from the announcement of the average rate for Outagamie of $15.50 per acre per year compared with the former $11 per acre county acreage rate.

The individual rates set for each farm will vary below or above the county average depending on the productivity and land value of the acres set aside on the farm.

First Priority
Farmers who offer their land at a rate below the maximum set for their farms will have first priority in case all who apply cannot be covered by the funds available.

If a farmer places all the eligible land on his farm under contract, he will receive a 10 per cent higher rate than if he places only part of his eligible land under contract.

By applying for a rate to be established for his farm, a farmer does not become obligated to participate.

Third of Nation's Cranberries Come From State Bogs

Wisconsin's cranberry crop this year will account for nearly a third of the nation's output, according to the mid-August estimate made by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service for Wisconsin.

Cranberry production in Wisconsin this year is expected to reach 335,000 barrels, and it will rank second in output of the five states for which estimates are made. Massachusetts will rank first with 570,000 barrels, New Jersey third with 88,000 barrels, Washington fourth with 49,500 barrels, and Oregon fifth with 34,000 barrels. Total production for the nation is indicated at 1,076,500 barrels of cranberries—2 per cent above a year ago and 13 per cent more than the average crop.

Wisconsin's cranberry crop is expected to be 18 per cent larger than the 1957 crop and 37 per cent above average. August 15 reports from growers say that in the northern part of the state many bogs were still blooming. Because of the cold weather earlier in the season, the crop for many growers may be later than usual. Hail damage has been reported in some sections.

5 Important Questions

you should ask yourself before you buy a bulk milk cooler!

- Will it cool when the power is off?
Haverly will cool without mechanical refrigeration and will not electricity.
- Will milk temperature go up between milkings?
Since copper cools the milk, the temperature always goes down, never goes up.
- Will it provide cream line cooling?
Copper provides continuous 24 hours a day cream line cooling.
- Does outside heat affect the temperature of the milk?
With Haverly's copper cold wall construction, not one B.T.U. of heat that passes through the side walls or bottom ever reaches the milk, but is transferred by the copper into the cold zone. With 4" of cork insulation the problem is reduced to a minimum.
- Is mechanical agitation necessary between milkings?
Not in a Haverly because the copper cold walls give continuous slow but natural agitation 24 hours a day.

Patrol Brings 18 Motorists Into Court

Illegal Passing Leads Arrest Causes With Speeding Close 2nd

The state patrol haled 18 motorists into municipal court on traffic charges Tuesday. Most of the arrests were for illegal passing with speeding a close second.

Charged four points for illegal passing were Carl M. Madding, 19, Green Bay, $25; Harold L. Harmsen, 32, Wisconsin Rapids, $23.90 forfeited; Richard M. Heyberger, 29, Milwaukee, $13.95 forfeited; Donald J. Estes, 17, Flanagan, Ill., $28.95 forfeited; and Louis J. Drath, 28, 1833 Pershing road, New London, $35.

Denying the charge were Fay A. Jones, 24, 301 N. Shawano street, New London, $13.95 bond for Nov. 18 trial, and Ruben H. Schulz, 50, 1745 N. Division street, $18.95 bond for Nov. 14 trial.

6-Point Speeder
Donald W. Fields, 20, route 1, Bear Creek, was fined $40 and charged six points for driving 80 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone.

Charged three points for speeding were Richard A. Stammer, 28, 1025 W. Frances street, $10; Mrs. Rossella S. Janssen, State street, Combined Locks, $15; Dean D. Heinzel, 27, route 1, Larsen, $10; William L. Hoover, 24, Milwaukee, $18.95 forfeited, and Thomas B. Lindberg, 28, route 3, Kaukauna, $15.

Robert C. Bosh, 44, Downers Grove, Ill., was fined $25 and charged four points for driving too fast for conditions.

3-Point Accident
Ralph L. Sheridan, 61, Fond du Lac, forfeited $13.95 and was charged three points for inattentive driving. He caused an accident, which will add three more points to the penalty.

Boy Remains in Fair Condition After Dive

Timothy Frieders, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Frieders, 528 N. Clark street, remained in fair condition today in St. Vincent hospital, Green Bay. He received a severe neck injury when he dove into Green Bay about 20 miles north of the city of Green Bay Monday night. The boy has been able to talk to relatives and friends. Earlier reports that he was unable to talk were erroneous.

New Stop-Go Light May Begin Tonight

The newly installed stop and go light at the corner of N. Oneida and Atlantic streets will be put into operation tonight or Thursday morning, Electrical Inspector Fred E. Volkman said this morning.

Work is progressing on the light at the corner of W. Washington and N. Division streets, but it probably won't be in operation before next week, Volkman added.

Shares Reach High for Year

Some Blue Chip Issues Record Sharp Advances

New York — The stock market moved into new high ground for the year early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Lower-priced issues still remained in brisk demand but some of the blue chips made strides, boosting the average. Generally, the gains of key stocks were fairly modest, going from fractions to about a point. Exceptions were wide advances by two pivotal stocks, Commonwealth Edison, up about 5, and Eastman Kodak, ahead more than 2.

Motor, chemicals, airlines and drugs were mostly higher. Steels and rails were slightly on the upside. Oils and aircrafts were mixed.

The market was irregular at the start when trading was so heavy that the ticker tape was late for a period of four minutes. The trend became higher in less active dealings later.

A rush of buyers for Commonwealth Edison delayed the opening of that stock on overnight news that the company's chairman had said the firm plans to pay approximately the full amount of its earnings in dividends each year.

IT'S BACK-TO-SCHOOL TIME AGAIN

Drive With Caution

"SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"
THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE A CHILD'S!

School bells are ringing, and our streets and roads are filled with children heading back to school! This means that you as a driver must be extra-careful, extra-alert! Drive slowly for the sake of the children — YOUR CHILDREN! Remember, they're young, eager, sometimes unpredictable . . . they MAY see you . . . BE SURE you see them! From here on in watch out for school busses and give them every courtesy. Watch out for children walking to and from school, children waiting for the bus at corners, children at play . . . for they may dart into the street unexpectedly. It's your responsibility to drive slowly, carefully and be alert to every possible emergency! YOU MAY SAVE A CHILD'S LIFE!
